Warring Souls Youth Media And Martyrdom In Post Revolution Iran:

Warring Souls Roxanne Varzi, 2006-05-31 DIVAn ethnography of secular youth culture in Tehran and its resistance to post Revolutionary Islamicist politics div Martyrdom and Sacrifice in Islam Meir Hatina, 2016-11-14 Over the years the belief system around self sacrifice has become key to understanding the Middle East and its political relationships with the West although much of the literature and conversation has been restricted to modern concepts of jihadism The recent spate of scholarship relating to suicide bombers and jihadists studies these concepts without a broader understanding of the principle of martyrdom This book expands on the chronology of self sacrifice within Islam and contextualises the use of suicide bombings using details of the rise of martyrdom in places such as Iraq Lebanon Chechnya and Pakistan It historicises the background in which jihad has been glorified while also exploring contemporary methods of recruitment like the use of the internet The authors pay close attention to the different sects and factions of Islam and the differing interpretations of jihad that accompany these ideologies In the current political climate a book that explores martyrdom within the framework of historical perspectives geographical regions and the influence of outside cultures is essential Middle Eastern Television Drama Christa Salamandra, Nour Halabi, 2023-06-21 This monograph explores and investigates key issues facing Middle Eastern societies including religion and sectarianism history and collective memory urban space and socioeconomic difference policing and securitization and gender relations In the Middle East television drama creators serve as public intellectuals who with uncanny prescience tell the world something As this volume demonstrates fictional television provides a crucial space for social and political debate in much of the region Writing from a range disciplines anthropology communication folklore gender studies history and law contributors include seasoned academics who have dedicated their careers to researching Middle Eastern media and emerging scholars who build on earlier work and introduce fresh perspectives Together they provide an invaluable overview of Middle Eastern serial television and their political impact drawing examples from Afghanistan Egypt Iran Syria and Turkey Bringing together a diverse range of academic perspectives this book will be of key interest to students and scholars in media and communication studies Middle Eastern Studies and popular culture studies Social Media in Iran David M. Faris, Babak Rahimi, 2015-11-20 First comprehensive account of how the Internet has impacted life in Iran Social Media in Iran is the first book to tell the complex story of how and why the Iranian people including women homosexuals dissidents artists and even state actors use social media technology and in doing so create a contentious environment wherein new identities and realities are constructed Drawing together emerging and established scholars in communication culture and media studies this volume considers the role of social media in Iranian society particularly the time during and after the controversial 2009 presidential election a watershed moment in the postrevolutionary history of Iran While regional specialists may find studies on specific themes useful the aim of this volume is to provide broad narratives of actor based conceptions of media technology an approach that focuses on the experiential and social networking processes of digital practices in the information era extended beyond cultural specificities Students and scholars of regional and media studies will find this volume rich with empirical and theoretical insights on the subject of how technologies shape political and everyday life Iranian Cinema in a Global Context Peter Decherney, Blake Atwood, 2014-09-15 Iranian films have been the subject of much critical and scholarly attention over the past several decades and Iranian filmmakers are mainstays of international film festivals Yet most of the attention has been focused on a small segment of Iranian film production auteurist art cinema Iranian Cinema in a Global Context on the other hand takes account of the wide range of Iranian cinema from popular youth films to low budget underground films The volume also reassesses the global circulation of Iranian art cinema looking at its reception at international festivals in university curricula and at the Academy Awards A final theme of the volume explores the intersection between politics and film with essays on post Khatami reform influences representations of ineffective drug policies and the representation of Jewish characters in Iranian film Taken together the essays in this volume present a new definition of the field of Iranian film studies one that engages global media flows transmedia interaction and a heterogeneous Iranian national cinema Theater State and the Formation of Early Modern Public Sphere in Iran Babak Rahimi, 2011-11-11 This first systematic study of a wide range of Persian and European archival and primary sources analyzes how the Muharram rituals changed from being an originally devotional practice to public events of political significance setting the stage for the emergence of the early modern Iranian public sphere in the Safavid period Iran: Empire of the Mind Michael Axworthy, 2008-11-06 Michael Axworthy traces a vivid integrated account of Iran's past He explains clearly and carefully both the complex succession of dynasties that ruled ancient Iran and the surprising ethnic diversity of the modern country held together by a common culture Anthropology of the Middle East, 2006 Passionate Uprisings Pardis Mahdavi, 2009 Investigates the emerging new sexual culture of Iranian youth in which sexuality represents freedom and engaging in sex can be considered political activism Anthropology & Education Quarterly, 2007 Learning My Family's History Through a Book Collection Alexander Jabbari, 2007 Anthropos, 2007 Let Me Tell You Where I've Been Persis M. Karim, 2006-05 Until recently Iranian literature has overwhelmingly been the domain of men But in the twenty seven years since the Iranian revolution women both in Iran and in the diaspora have written and published in unprecedented numbers The new hybrid cultures of Iranian diaspora writers has given way to a uniquely feminine literary voice the Iranian diaspora is an extensive collection of poetry fiction and nonfiction that explores through literature the influences of history revolution war exile and immigration The work in this collection uncovers an emerging multicultural generation of female sensibility and eloquence Unlike the tired familiar images of Iran in the media these women write about the complicated spaces between cultures and capture a unique and still emerging literature They challenge both the patriarchal literary tradition of Iran and the singular portrayals in the West of Iranian women as veiled silent and lacking in agency published before from over fifty contributors including such well known writers as Susan Atefat Peckham Tara Bahrapour Firoozeh Dumas Azadeh Moaveni and Farnoosh Moshiri the collection represents a substantial cross section of this unique multicultural community Organized around six general themes including home and away family and tradition gender politics love and silence Let Me Tell You Where I've Been creates a rich conversation about Iran Iranian culture the Persian and English languages and the dual identities of its authors In a time when Iran is cited daily in the news and political rhetoric is at an all time high this collection offers a complex and humanizing literary representation These writers bring their individual and collective vision and offer a powerful new voice to the international literary scene

Childhood in Global Perspective Karen Wells, 2009-06-22 The second edition of this compelling and popular book offers a unique global perspective on children's lives throughout the world It shows how the notion of childhood is being radically re shaped in part as a consequence of globalization Taking an engaging historical and comparative approach the book explores social issues such as how children are constituted as raced classed and gendered subjects how children's involvement in war is connected to the globalization of capitalism and organized crime and how school and work operate as sites for the governing of childhood The book discusses wide ranging topics including children's rights the family children and war child labour and young people's activism around the globe In addition to updated literature throughout the revised edition includes new chapters on migration and trafficking and the role of play The book will continue to be of great value to students and scholars in the fields of sociology geography social policy and development studies It will also be a valuable companion to practitioners of international development and social work as well as to anyone interested in childhood in the contemporary world
