One of Library Journal's Best SF/Fantasy Books of 2011 Neptune Ben Bova, 2025-10-16 Hugo Award winner Ben Bova continues his grand tour of the human-settled solar system with a fan-pleasing look at life in the Outer Planets among the moons of Neptune. In the future, humanity has spread throughout the solar system on planets and moons once visited only by robots or explored at a distance by far-voyaging spacecraft. No matter how hostile or welcoming the environment, mankind has forged a path and found a home. In the far reaches of the solar system, the outer planets, billions of miles from Earth, unknown for millennia, are being settled. Neptune, the ice giant, is swathed in clouds of hydrogen, helium, and methane and circled by rings of rock and dust. Three years ago, Ilona Magyr's father, Miklos, disappeared while exploring the seas of Neptune. Everyone believes he is dead, crushed, frozen, or boiled alive in Neptune's turbulent seas. With legendary space explorer Derek Humbolt piloting her ship and planetary scientist Jan Meitner guiding the search, Ilona Magyr knows she will find her father alive on Neptune. Her plans are irrevocably altered when she and her team discover the wreckage of an alien ship deep in Neptune's ocean, a discovery which changes humanity's understanding of its future and its past. the Moon's solid body Building the Farside observatory is a complex often dangerous task On the airless surface of the Moon under constant bombardment of hard radiation and infalling micrometeoroids builders must work in cumbersome spacesuits and use robotic machines as much as possible Breakdowns mechanical and emotional are commonplace Accidents happen some of them fatal What they find stuns everyone and the human race will never be the same Bova's latest novel is one of his best and a classic use of the old sf theme of humanity reaching out for immortality among the stars Booklist starred review on Farside At the Publisher's request this title is being sold without Digital Rights Management Software DRM applied
