The World Of Carolus Clusius Natural History In The Making 1550 1610 Florike Egmond:

The World of Carolus Clusius Florike Egmond, 2015-10-06 Egmond's study investigates horticultural techniques, fashions in the collection of rare plants, botanical experimentation and methods of scientific evaluation as well as tracking the exchange of knowledge. Central to this activity is the figure of Carolus Clusius, 1526-1609, the first truly scientific botanist.

Natural History in Early Modern France, 2018-08-13 Natural History in Early Modern France offers a longue durée account of recurring poetic structures of the genre through case studies spanning from the Renaissance to the eve of the nineteenth century. These case studies reveal the lasting epistemic importance of bookish knowledge and commonplacing in the natural historical description from Belon to Buffon. They also highlight the French reception of Baconianism. Natural History in Early Modern France makes a case for the literary status of the genre by attending to the permanence of its Plinian features such as wonders. Natural history was not only concerned with increasingly rational modes of ordering natural particulars; this book reveals its enduring social, affective, spiritual and aesthetic underpinnings. Contributors are Peter Anstey, Susan Broomhall, Isabelle Charmantier, Arlette Fruet, Raphaële Garrod, Paul Gibbard, Dana Jalobeanu, Myriam Marrache-Gouraud, Stéphane Schmitt, Paul J. Smith and Stéphane Van Damme. Empire and Science in the Making P.

Boomgaard, 2013-10-23 Drawing on extensive new research and bringing much new scholarship before English readers for the first time, this wide-ranging volume examines how knowledge was created and circulated throughout the Dutch Empire and how these processes compared with those of the Imperial Britain, Spain and Russia. Global Trade and Commercial Networks Tijl Vanneste, 2015-10-06 At the heart of this study on cross-cultural trade lies a concrete case study of a network of diamond merchants operating in the early eighteenth century. All the traders examined in this study are outsiders: an English Catholic in Antwerp, Sephardic and Ashkenazi Jews in London and Amsterdam, and French Huguenots in Lisbon.

Sex in Japan's Globalization, 1870-1930 Bill Mihalopoulos, 2015-10-06 Based on archival research undertaken in Japan, Britain and the United States, Mihalopoulos offers a new perspective on the relations between gender hierarchies and the political economy in a newly modernized Japan. English Catholics and the Education of the Poor, 1847-1902

Eric G. Tenbus, 2015-10-06 Filling an important gap in the historiography of Victorian Britain, this book examines the English Catholic Church's efforts during the second half of the nineteenth century to provide elementary education for Catholics.

Barriers to Competition Ana Rosado Cubero, 2015-09-30 Focuses on the different methods that economic science has employed in order to detect and measure barriers to entry. This book presents a chronological analysis of competing Harvard and Chicago Schools' interpretations of this phenomenon. London Clerical Workers, 1880-1914 Michael Heller, 2015-10-06 This study is based on a wide range of business sources as well as newspapers, journals, novels and oral history, allowing Heller to put forward a new interpretation of working conditions for London clerks, highlighting the ways in which clerical work changed and modernized over this period. Development Economics in the Twenty-First Century Claudia

Sunna, Davide Gualerzi, 2015-12-14 Development Economics has been identified as a homogeneous body of theory since the 1950s concerned both with the study of development issues and with the shaping of more effective policies for less advanced economies Development Economics in the Twenty First Century brings together an international contributor team in order to explore the origins and evolution of development economics This book highlights the different elements of high development theory through a precise reconstruction of the different theoretical approaches that developed between the 1950s and the 1970s These include the theory of balanced and unbalanced growth theory the debate on international trade the concept of dualism dependency theory structuralism and the analysis of poverty and institutions The chapters highlight the relevance and usefulness of these analyses for the contemporary theoretical debate on development issues Comparative perspectives are explored and analysed including those of Keynes Hirschman Krugman and Stiglitz The chapters situate development economics within current debates among economists and historians of economic thought providing a platform for future research This book is suitable for researchers and students with an interest in Development Economics the History of

Metcalf, 2015-10-06 This study examines the struggle between Smithfield market's supporters and detractors and argues that this demonstrates a major shift in the way the urban landscape came to be used Labour and Living Standards in

Pre-Colonial West Africa Klas Rönnbäck, 2015-11-19 Sub Saharan Africa is the poorest region in the world But its current status has skewed our understanding of the economy before colonization Rönnbäck reconstructs the living standards of the population at a time when the Atlantic slave trade brought money and men into the area enriching our understanding of West African economic development Prostitution and Social Control in Eighteenth-Century Ports Marion

Pluskota, 2018-10-24 In the last third of the eighteenth century Bristol and Nantes were two of the most active commercial ports of England and France despite a slowdown of their economy Their economies were based primarily on the maritime trade but they developed alongside Atlantic industries that attracted many migrants both male and female from the surrounding countryside and from abroad The busy urban environment the high number of sailors and single men migrating to the port and the decline of female house based proto industries were factors encouraging the development of prostitution How prostitution is perceived in the context of social control and urban change is key to understanding the evolving attitudes to gender and sexuality in the eighteenth century In this comparative study Marion Pluskota offers an analysis of the lives of prostitutes that looks beyond a purely criminal perspective and which encompasses their roles within their families relationships and social networks Using police and judicial records she provides a valuable corrective to the narrow analysis of prostitutes in terms of immorality or deviance The unique forms of development and problems faced by port cities in the early modern period make them particularly interesting subjects for comparative history This book is well suited for those who study social history gender and women's history Commercial Networks and European Cities, 1400-1800

Andrea Caracausi,Christof Jeggle,2015-10-06 Merchant networks generated trade and the exchange of goods between the cities of early modern Europe This collection of essays analyses these commercial networks focusing on the roles of kinship origin religion and business in creating and maintaining urban economies Jewish Immigrants in London, 1880-1939

Susan L Tananbaum,2015-10-06 Between 1880 and 1939 a quarter of a million European Jews settled in England Tananbaum explores the differing ways in which the existing Anglo Jewish communities local government and education and welfare organizations sought to socialize these new arrivals focusing on the experiences of working class women and children

Early Modern Trading Networks in Europe AnaSofia Ribeiro,2017-07-05 In the early modern period trade became a truly global phenomenon The logistics financial and organizational complexity associated with it increased in order to connect distant geographies and merchants from different backgrounds How did these merchants prevent their partners from dishonesty in a time where formal institutions and legislation did not traverse these different worlds This book studies the mechanisms and criteria of cooperation in early modern trading networks It uses an interdisciplinary approach through the case study of a Castilian long distance merchant of the sixteenth century Simon Ruiz who traded within the limits of the Portuguese and Spanish overseas empires Early Modern Trading Networks in Europe discusses the importance of reciprocity mechanisms trust and reputation in the context of early modern business relations using network analysis methodology combining quantitative data with qualitative information It considers how cooperation and prevention could simultaneously create a business relationship and describes the mechanisms of control policing and punishment used to avoid opportunism and deception among a group of business partners Using bills of exchange and correspondence from Simon Ruiz s private archive it charts the evolution of this business network through time debating which criteria should be included or excluded from business networks as well as the emergence of standards This book intends to put forward a new approach to early modern trade which focusses on individuals interacting in self organized structures rather than on States or Empires It shows how indirect reciprocity was much more frequent than direct reciprocity among early modern merchants and how informal norms like ostracism and signalling helped to prevent defection and deception in an effective way This book will be of interest to all early modern historians especially those with an interest The Clothing Trade in Provincial England, 1800-1850 Alison Toplis,2015-10-06 This detailed study is the first exploration of rural consumption of clothing in early nineteenth century Britain Drawing on evidence from a range of sources including newspapers trade directories court records visual sources and surviving garments Toplis investigates how the apparel of the mass of the British population was acquired Merchant Communities in Asia, 1600-1980 Madeleine Zelin,2015-10-06 This book is the first to use local primary sources to explore the interaction between foreign and native merchants in Asian countries Contributors discuss the different economic political and cultural conditions that gave rise to a variety of merchant communities in Korea China Japan Taiwan the Philippines Singapore and India Rural Unwed Mothers Mazie Hough,2015-10-06 Drawing extensively from agency records newspaper accounts sociological studies and court documents Hough explores the experiences of rural white unwed mothers in Maine and Tennessee The Decline of Jute Carlo Morelli,2015-10-06 By looking at the decline of the jute industry this study assesses the successes and failures of Britain s managed economy It also addresses broader arguments about the political economy of twentieth century Britain The Determinants of Entrepreneurship Jose L García-Ruiz,2015-10-06 This study looks at entrepreneurial history from three angles Entrepreneurial Typologies Business Leaders and Culture vs Institutions The previous scarcity of material makes this collection of eight papers an invaluable resource and should encourage further analysis
