Digesting Race, Class, and Gender I. Ken, 2010-12-20 How are the ways that race organizes our lives related to the ways gender and class organize our lives How might these organizing mechanisms conflict or work together In Digesting Race Class and Gender Ivy Ken likens race class and gender to foods foods that are produced in fields mixed together in bowls and digested in our social and institutional bodies In the field one food may contaminate another through cross pollination In the mixing bowl each food s original molecular structure changes in the presence of others And within a meal the presence of one food may impede or facilitate the digestion of another At each of these sites the foods of race class and gender are involved in dynamic relationships with each other that have implications for the shape or the taste of our social order

The Intersectional Approach Michele Tracy Berger, Kathleen Guidroz, 2010-01-01 Intersectionality or the consideration of race class and gender is one of the prominent contemporary theoretical contributions made by scholars in the field of women s studies that now broadly extends across the humanities social sciences and natural sciences Taking stock of this transformative paradigm The Intersectional Approach guides new and established researchers to engage in a critical reflection about the broad adoption of intersectionality that constitutes what the editors call a new social literacy for scholars In eighteen essays contributors examine various topics of interest to students and researchers from a feminist perspective as well as through their respective disciplines looking specifically at gender inequalities related to globalization health motherhood sexuality body image and aging Together these essays provide a critical overview of the paradigm highlight new theoretical and methodological advances and make a strong case for the continued use of the intersectional approach both within the borders of women s and gender studies and beyond Contributors Lidia Anchisi Gettysburg College Naomi Andre University of Michigan Jean Ait Belkhir Southern University at New Orleans Michele Tracy Berger University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill Kia Lilly
