Unhomely States Theorizing English Canadian Postcolonialism By Broadview Press 2004 01 01:

Unhomely States Cynthia Sugars, 2004-02-11 Unhomely States is the first collection of foundational essays of Canadian postcolonial theory. The essays span the period from 1965 to the present day and approach broad issues of Canadian culture and society. They represent the impassioned conflicts, dissonances and intersections among postcolonial theorists in English Canada. Theories of Canadian postcolonialism are various and often contending. The questions proliferate: Is Canada postcolonial? Who in Canada is postcolonial? Are some Canadians more postcolonial than others? Together the essays in this collection demonstrate both the historical development of this vigorous debate and its most prominent current perspectives. The anthology comprises work originally written in English, selected and arranged in order to demonstrate the dynamic nature of these discussions. Included here are essays by many well-known writers and theorists such as George Grant, Northrop Frye, Margaret Atwood, Dennis Lee, Robert Kroetsch, Linda Hutcheon, Diana Brydon, Thomas King, Terry Goldie, Arun Mukherjee, Smaro Kambourelli, Stephen Slemon, and Roy Miki. The collection covers such topics as anti-colonial nationalism, settler invader theory, First Nations contexts, postcolonial pedagogy, and critiques of Canadian postcolonialism. A general introduction surveying the current field of postcolonial discourse in English Canada is also included.

Liberation, (De)Coloniality, and Liturgical Practices Becca Whitla, 2020-10-24 Becca Whitla uses liberationist postcolonial and decolonial methods to analyze hymns, congregational singing, and song leading practices. By way of this analysis, Whitla shows how congregational singing can embody liberating liturgy and theology. Through a series of interwoven theoretical lenses and methodological tools, including coloniality, mimicry, epistemic disobedience, hybridity, border thinking, and ethnomusicology, the author examines and interrogates a range of factors in the musical sphere. From beloved Victorian hymns to infectious Latin American coritos, congregational singing to radical union choirs, Christian complicity in coloniality to Indigenous ways of knowing, the dynamic praxis-based stance of the book is rooted in the author's lived experiences and commitments and engages with detailed examples from sacred music and both liturgical and practical theology. Drawing on what she calls a syncopated liberating praxis, the author affirms the intercultural promise of communities of faith as a locus theologicus and a place for the in-breaking of the Holy Spirit.

Neo-Victorianism and the Memory of Empire Elizabeth Ho, 2012-04-19 Examining the global dimensions of Neo-Victorianism, this book explores how the appropriation of Victorian images in contemporary literature and culture has emerged as a critical response to the crises of decolonization and Imperial collapse. Neo-Victorianism and the Memory of Empire explores the phenomenon by reading a range of popular and literary Anglophone neo-Victorian texts, including Alan Moore's Graphic Novel From Hell, works by Peter Carey and Margaret Atwood, the films of Jackie Chan, and contemporary Steampunk science fiction. Through these readings, Elizabeth Ho explores how constructions of popular memory and fictionalisations of the past reflect political and psychological engagements with our contemporary post-Imperial circumstances.

Indigenous Women's Theatre in Canada Sarah

MacKenzie,2020-11-15T00:00:00Z Despite a recent increase in the productivity and popularity of Indigenous playwrights in Canada most critical and academic attention has been devoted to the work of male dramatists leaving female writers on the margins In Indigenous Women s Theatre in Canada Sarah MacKenzie addresses this critical gap by focusing on plays by Indigenous women written and produced in the socio cultural milieu of twentieth and twenty first century Canada Closely analyzing dramatic texts by Monique Mojica Marie Clements and Yvette Nolan MacKenzie explores representations of gendered colonialist violence in order to determine the varying ways in which these representations are employed subversively and informatively by Indigenous women These plays provide an avenue for individual and potential cultural healing by deconstructing some of the harmful ideological work performed by colonial misrepresentations of Indigeneity and demonstrate the strength and persistence of Indigenous women offering a space in which decolonial futurisms can be envisioned In this unique work MacKenzie suggests that colonialist misrepresentations of Indigenous women have served to perpetuate demeaning stereotypes justifying devaluation of and violence against Indigenous women Most significantly however she argues that resistant representations in Indigenous women s dramatic writing and production work in direct opposition to such representational and manifest violence

Sport and Recreation in Canadian History

Carly Adams,2020-10-16 Serving as a foundation for critical discussion about the importance of the past Sport and Recreation in Canadian History covers the historical events people and moments that shape Canadian sport in the present and future While this text focuses on sport and recreation practices on these lands now claimed by Canada it is set within a larger historical context of interconnecting social and cultural practices to speak to the sustained tensions complexities and contradictions prevalent in Canadian society The editor Dr Carly Adams and her 17 contributing experts from across Canada bring the latest research in all areas of Canadian sport history to life and present a thorough look at the nation s past events The text challenges the dominant narratives and encourages students to think critically about Canadian sport history It examines how gender ethnicity race religion ability class and other systems of oppression and privilege have shaped sport and recreation practices with Canadian sporting culture reproducing many of the same oppressive systems that exist on the larger scale Sport and Recreation in Canadian History separates itself from its competitors by providing an abundance of pedagogical aids Sidebars highlighting prominent people provide glimpses of figures who made a significant impact on Canadian sport history Transformative Moment sidebars focus on significant events as they relate to specific themes such as gender race ethnicity sexuality or ability A comprehensive timeline showcases where important events fell in relation to one another while the text acknowledges the problem of presenting history in a linear way and provides a more nuanced discussion of time Descriptions of primary source documents such as newspaper articles photographs and historical documents are accompanied by explanations of how sport historians work with these documents Sport and Recreation in Canadian History asks readers to think differently about the history of Canadian sport and it examines how past people moments and events

Teaching Social Justice Using Postcolonial Texts Geraldine Balzer, Teresa Strong-Wilson, Anne Burke, 2023-07-28 This book explores how teachers can re-examine their emotional investments in enacting dominant settler values through changing their text selection and teaching practices Based on a longitudinal qualitative research study conducted by a national team of literacy scholars in collaboration with practicing literacy teachers at eight sites across Canada the book investigates how groups of teachers working collaboratively in inquiry groups develop and implement curriculum to promote their own and their students' understandings of social justice in postcolonial and settler spaces In particular the book highlights the rich and dynamic landscape of postcolonial authors, illustrators and texts the development of culturally sensitive curricula and critical pedagogies possible in addressing contemporary and historical issues both local and global This book is primarily of interest to literacy scholars, literacy instructors, teacher educators in teacher education programs, educational leaders, practicing teachers from the K-12 spectrum and school district staff and policy makers with responsibilities for or interests in the potential of literacy and literature engagement for social justice education The book is also of interest to postsecondary educators and teacher educators wishing to use literature in social justice, anti-racist and anti-oppressive courses

Margaret Atwood Harold Bloom, Sterling Professor of Humanities Harold Bloom, 2014-05-14 Presents a collection of critical essays about the works of Margaret Atwood

Digital Storytelling in Indigenous Education Yvonne Poitras Pratt, 2019-07-25 Exploring the relationship between the role of education and Indigenous survival Digital Storytelling in Indigenous Education is an ethnographic exploration of how digital storytelling can be part of a broader project of decolonization of individuals, their families and communities By recounting how a remote Indigenous Métis community were able to collectively imagine, plan and produce numerous unique digital stories representing counter-narratives to the dominant version of Canadian history Poitras Pratt provides frameworks, approaches and strategies for the use of digital media and arts for the purpose of cultural memory, community empowerment and mobilization The volume provides a valuable example of how a community-based educational project can create and restore intergenerational exchanges through modern media and covers topics such as introducing the Métis and their community, decolonizing education through a Métis approach to research, the ethnographic journey and translating the work of decolonizing to education Digital Storytelling in Indigenous Education is the perfect resource for researchers, academics and postgraduate students in the fields of Indigenous education, comparative education and technology education or those looking to explore the role of modern media in facilitating healing and decolonization in a marginalized community

Unsettled Expectations Eva Mackey, 2016-09-15T00:00:00Z What do local conflicts about land rights tell us about Indigenous-settler relations and the challenges and possibilities of decolonization In Unsettled Expectations Eva Mackey draws on ethnographic case studies about land rights conflicts in Canada and the U.S. to argue that critical analysis of present-day disputes over land belonging and sovereignty will help us understand how colonization is reproduced today and how to challenge it Employing theoretical approaches from Indigenous and settler colonial studies and in the context of critical historical and legal analysis Mackey urges us to rethink the assumptions of settler certainty that underpin current conflicts between settlers and Indigenous peoples and reveals settler privilege to be a doomed fantasy of entitlement Finally Mackey draws on case studies of Indigenous settler alliances to show how embracing difficult uncertainty can be an integral part of undoing settler privilege and a step toward decolonization

Proceedings from the Eighth Conference of English, American and Canadian Studies Jan Chovanec, 2005

Margaret Atwood John Moss, Tobi Kozakewich, 2006 Margaret Atwood enjoys a unique prominence in Canadian letters With over thirty books to her credit in genres ranging from children's writing to dystopic novels she is as creatively diverse as she is internationally acclaimed Her success however has been double edged the very popularity that makes her such a prominent figure in the literary world also renders her vulnerable to claims of being a sell out as she relates in her Empson lectures The Open Eye negotiates the space between these positions acknowledging Atwood's remarkable achievement while considering how it impacts on national politics and identity The range of perspectives in this volume is stimulating and enlightening The Open Eye begins with a focus on Atwood as she presents herself and is presented in Canada and abroad and then proceeds to consider more broadly the intersection of life and literature that Atwood's works and persona effect It offers fresh insight into Atwood's early writing redresses the critical void regarding her poetry and shorter prose pieces and provides a critical base from which readers can assess Atwood's most recent novels A common thread throughout these essays is the recognition of Atwood's importance in the literary realm in general and in Canadian literature more particularly Published in English

Children's Literature Global and Local Emer O'Sullivan, Kimberley Reynolds, Rolf Romøren, 2005

Moveable Margins Chelvanayakam Kanaganayakam, 2005 In these essays some of Canada's leading literary critics examine how recent Canadian literature addresses notions of multiplicity and how ideas of space and landscape complement and intersect with the constantly changing facets of Canadian society The collection considers the works of a large number of diverse writers while dealing specifically with genres such as Asian African and Native Canadian writing The contributors are respected scholars of Canadian literature at major universities
