Winners Losers Microsoft Competition And Antitrust In High Technology:

Winners, Losers, & Microsoft Stan J. Liebowitz, Stephen E. Margolis, 2001-03 Have the antitrust actions by the Department of Justice against Microsoft and other firms really intended to protect consumers or are they politically motivated attempts to help competitors achieve what they could not achieve in the marketplace Can dominant companies in a market such as Microsoft lock in inferior technologies and thereby stifle innovation and would be competitors Do network effects the fact that some products such as telephones and fax machines increase in value as more people use them result in monopolies even if dominant companies do not seek to create monopolies Do the current antitrust laws discourage entrepreneurship and innovation Will the robust high tech competition and tremendous technological advances of recent years continue if government steps up its antitrust actions Winners Losers Microsoft addresses such questions and sheds light on the real workings of the high tech markets Through extensive research and insightful analysis Professors Liebowitz and Margolis shatter many long held beliefs about competition in the high technology industries Among their surprising findings Software prices fall dramatically in markets where Microsoft is a major player but prices show no strong tendency to fall over time if Microsoft is not a factor in a given market Claims that dominant but inferior technologies can lock out better competitive products are not supported by the data This not only applies to software but also to other technology markets i e VHS vs Beta video recorder battles Superior products tend to dominate in high technology even if inferior products are backed by lots of money For example Intuit's Quicken has dominated Microsoft Money for several years despite intensive efforts by Microsoft to promote Money And AOL has significantly increased its market share in recent years even though Microsoft incorporated software for the Microsoft Network into its Windows operating system Liebowitz and Margolis demonstrate how a high tech company can go from a dominant market leader as Lotus once was in spreadsheets to an also ran with astonishing speed They show that free markets in high technology do a remarkable job of continually delivering better products at lower prices to consumers Winners Losers Microsoft makes a compelling case that the real danger to American high technology leadership is a too powerful too intrusive government which believes it knows consumer preferences and needs better than they do This book is a cogent tightly argued rebuttal to frequent calls for greater government intervention in the high technology markets Culture Wars Roger Chapman, 2010 Although openness and inclusion are cornerstones of life in the United States intolerance and reactionary politics are also very real As the nation prepares to elect a new president The Culture Wars addresses the key defining issues of contemporar The Determination of Antitrust Liability in U.S. V. Microsoft Wayne R. Dunham, 2004 Competition, Innovation, and Antitrust Federico Etro, 2007-09-05 This book reviews recent progress in the theory of oligopoly and market leadership and provides new results on the theory of Stackelberg competition and Nash competition with strategic investment under endogenous entry These theories are applied to models of competition in quantities prices and to patent races The results are used to propose a new approach to competition policy and issues of the abuse of dominance

Resources of the City Bill Luckin, 2017-03-02 The field of urban environmental history is a relatively new one yet it is rapidly moving to the forefront of scholarly research and is the focus of much interdisciplinary work Given the environmental problems facing the modern world it is perhaps unsurprising that historians geographers political natural and social scientists should increasingly look at the environmental problems faced by previous generations and how they were regarded and responded to This volume reflects this growing concern and reflects many of the key concerns and issues that are essential to our understanding of the problems faced by cities in the nineteenth and twentieth centuries Addressing a variety of environmental issues such as clean water supply the provision retention of green space and noise pollution that faced European and North American cities the essays in this volume highlight the common responses as well as the differences that characterised the reactions to these trans national concerns

A New History of Modern Computing Thomas Haigh, Paul E. Ceruzzi, 2021-09-14 How the computer became universal Over the past fifty years the computer has been transformed from a hulking scientific supertool and data processing workhorse remote from the experiences of ordinary people to a diverse family of devices that billions rely on to play games shop stream music and movies communicate and count their steps In A New History of Modern Computing Thomas Haigh and Paul Ceruzzi trace these changes A comprehensive reimagining of Ceruzzi's A History of Modern Computing this new volume uses each chapter to recount one such transformation describing how a particular community of users and producers remade the computer into something new Haigh and Ceruzzi ground their accounts of these computing revolutions in the longer and deeper history of computing technology They begin with the story of the 1945 ENIAC computer which introduced the vocabulary of programs and programming and proceed through email pocket calculators personal computers the World Wide Web videogames smart phones and our current world of computers everywhere in phones cars appliances watches and more Finally they consider the Tesla Model S as an object that simultaneously embodies many strands of computing

The International Handbook of Competition Manfred Neumann, Jürgen Weigand, 2013-01-01 This comprehensive Handbook demonstrates that academic thinking new and old has a role to play in shaping modern competition policy Gunnar Niels Oxera This indispensable Handbook examines the interface of competition policy competition law and industrial economics The book aims to further our understanding of how economic reasoning and legal expertise complement each other in defining the fundamental issues and principles in competition policy In specially commissioned chapters the book provides a scholarly review of economic theory empirical evidence and standards of legal evaluation with respect to monopolization of markets exploitation of market power and mergers among other issues The International Handbook of Competition Second Edition will be accessible to a wide audience including students of economics and law public administrators lawyers consultants and business executives Reproducing Racism Daria Roithmayr, 2023-11-21 Argues that racial inequality reproduces itself automatically over time because early unfair advantage for whites has paved the way for continuing advantage This book is designed to change the way we think about racial inequality Long after the passage of civil rights laws blacks and Latinos possess barely a nickel of wealth for every dollar that whites have Why have we made so little progress Legal scholar Daria Roithmayr provocatively argues that racial inequality lives on because white advantage functions as a powerful self reinforcing monopoly reproducing itself automatically from generation to generation even in the absence of intentional discrimination Drawing on work in antitrust law and a range of other disciplines Roithmayr brilliantly compares the dynamics of white advantage to the unfair tactics of giants like AT T and Microsoft With penetrating insight Roithmayr locates the engine of white monopoly in positive feedback loops that connect the dramatic disparity of Jim Crow to modern racial gaps in jobs housing and education Wealthy white neighborhoods fund public schools that then turn out wealthy white neighbors Whites with lucrative jobs informally refer their friends who refer their friends and so on Roithmayr concludes that racial inequality might now be locked in place unless policymakers immediately take drastic steps to dismantle this oppressive system Regulating the Global Information Society Christopher Marsden, 2005-07-27 An outstanding line up of contributors explore the regulation of the internet from an interdisciplinary perspective In depth coverage of this controversial area such as international political economy law politics economics sociology and internet regulation Regulating the Global Information Society covers the differences between both US and UK approaches to regulation and establishes where policy is being made that will influence the future direction of the global information society from commercial democratic and middle ground perspectives Computing Paul E. Ceruzzi, 2012-06-15 Discover the history of computing through 4 major threads of development in this compact accessible history covering punch cards Silicon Valley smartphones and much more In an accessible style computer historian Paul Ceruzzi offers a broad though detailed history of computing from the first use of the word digital in 1942 to the development of punch cards and the first general purpose computer to the internet Silicon Valley and smartphones and social networking Ceruzzi identifies 4 major threads that run throughout all of computing s technological development Digitization the coding of information computation and control in binary form The convergence of multiple streams of techniques devices and machines The steady advance of electronic technology as characterized famously by Moore s Law Human machine interface

The history of computing could be told as the story of hardware and software or the story of the Internet or the story of smart hand held devices In this concise and accessible account of the invention and development of digital technology Ceruzzi offers a general and more useful perspective for students of computer science and history Markets Don't Fail! Brian P. Simpson, 2005-05-03 In all of the contemporary economics textbooks that have been written there is typically at least one chapter that addresses market failure Markets Don't Fail is a response to what author Brian Simpson sees as a fundamental error in the thinking of some economists The chapter titles of this book are crafted against the premises of market failure arguments and a significant portion of this book focuses on exposing the invalid premises upon which the claims of market failure are based and providing a proper basis upon which to judge the free market The material in this book provides a strong antidote to the arguments typically presented in contemporary economics textbooks Through example and argument Brian Simpson shows that the claims against the free market are not true In fact he demonstrates how free markets succeed how they raise the standard of living of all individuals who live within them and how free markets allow human life to flourish However the book goes much deeper than economics by providing a moral and epistemological defense of the free market Markets Don't Fail gets to the fundamental philosophical reasons why the claims of market failure are false and why markets actually succeed Through an integration of economics and philosophy Simpson is able to provide a comprehensive rigorous and logically consistent defense of the free market The specific topics covered in the book include monopoly antitrust laws and predatory pricing externalities the regulation of safety and quality environmentalism economic inequality public goods and asymmetric information This book is an invaluable tool for anyone who wants to gain a sound understanding of the free market Perspectives on Innovation Franco Malerba, Stefano Brusoni, 2007-03-29 Case studies empirical models appreciative analyses and formal theories abound Seeking Success in E-Business Kim Viborg Andersen, Steve Elliot, Paula M.C. Trust Us, We're Experts PA Sheldon Rampton,John Stauber,2002-01-14 The authors of Toxic Sludge Is Good for You unmask the sneaky and widespread methods industry uses to influence opinion through bogus experts doctored data and manufactured facts We count on the experts We count on them to tell us who to vote for what to eat how to raise our children We watch them on TV listen to them on the radio read their opinions in magazine and newspaper articles and letters to the editor We trust them to tell us what to think because there s too much information out there and not enough hours in a day to sort it all out We should stop trusting them right this second In their new book Trust Us We re Experts How Industry

Manipulates Science and Gambles with Your Future Sheldon Rampton and John Stauber authors of Toxic Sludge Is Good For You offer a chilling exposé on the manufacturing of independent experts Public relations firms and corporations know well how to exploit your trust to get you to buy what they have to sell Let you hear it from a neutral third party like a professor or a pediatrician or a soccer mom or a watchdog group The problem is these third parties are usually anything but neutral They have been handpicked cultivated and meticulously packaged in order to make you believe what they have to say preferably in an objective format like a news show or a letter to the editor And in some cases they have been paid handsomely for their opinions For example You think that nonprofit organizations just give away their stamps of approval on products Bristol Myers Squibb paid 600 000 to the American Heart Association for the right to display AHA's name and logo in ads for its cholesterol lowering drug Pravachol SmithKline Beecham paid the American Cancer Society 1 million for the right to use its logo in ads for Beecham's Nicoderm CQ and Nicorette anti smoking ads You think that a study out of a prestigious university is completely unbiased In 1997 Georgetown University's Credit Research Center issued a study which concluded that many debtors are using bankruptcy as an excuse to wriggle out of their obligations to creditors Former U S Treasury Secretary Lloyd Bentsen cited the study in a Washington Times column and advocated for changes in federal law to make it harder for consumers to file for bankruptcy relief What Bentsen failed to mention was that the Credit Research Center is funded in its entirety by credit card companies banks retailers and others in the credit industry that the study itself was produced with a 100 000 grant from VISA USA Inc and MasterCard International and that Bentsen himself had been hired to work as a credit industry lobbyist You think that all grassroots organizations are truly grassroots In 1993 a group called Mothers Opposing Pollution MOP appeared calling itself the largest women's environmental group in Australia with thousands of supporters across the country Their cause A campaign against plastic milk bottles It turned out that the group's spokesperson Alana Maloney was in truth a woman named Janet Rundle the business partner of a man who did P R for the Association of Liquidpaperboard Carton Manufacturers the makers of paper milk cartons You think that if a scientist says so it must be true In the early 1990s tobacco companies secretly paid thirteen scientists a total of 156 000 to write a few letters to influential medical journals One biostatistician received 10 000 for writing a single eight paragraph letter that was published in the Journal of the American Medical Association A cancer researcher received 20 137 for writing four letters and an opinion piece to the Lancet the Journal of the National Cancer Institute and The Wall Street Journal Rampton and Sta
