Patchwork Mary Jo Doig, 2025-07-30 A wife and mother of a grown son and two teen daughters a woman enjoying her career and life Mary Jo Doig wants nothing more from life than to live out her days embraced by the deep roots of family friends and her community Tightly wrapped in a life long protective cocoon she has no idea how wounded she is until on one starless night following the death of a relative she has a flashback that opens a dark passageway back to her childhood and the horrific secrets buried deep inside her psyche Part mystery and part inspirational memoir Patchwork is the riveting story of one woman who strived to live a life full of love only to endure tragedies with two of her children and struggles in her marriages the consequences of a mysterious life long behavior unnoticed by her family or teachers Like a needle stitching together a quilt the memories Mary Jo recovers following her first flashback show her why her early years were threaded with a need to be invisible as well as core beliefs that she was stupid not good enough and vastly different from her peers Shattered by these revelations overcome by depression hopelessness and a loss of trust in others Mary Jo embarks on a healing journey through the underground of her life that ultimately leads to transformation

Challenges and Negotiations for Women in Higher Education Pamela Cotterill, Sue Jackson, Gayle Letherby, 2007-06-28 CONCEPTUALISING CHALLENGES AND NEGOTIATIONS FOR WOMEN IN HIGHER EDUCATION 1 2 3 Pamela Cotterill Sue Jackson and Gayle Letherby 1 2 3

Staffordshire University Birbeck University of London University of Plymouth INTRODUCTION Despite the historical tradition of academia as a male space Evans 1995 Abbott et al 2005 Stanley 1997 Letherby 2003 it is possible to argue that the expansion of higher education in the 1980s and 1990s benefited women more than it did men By 1995 there were two and a half times more women in the academy than in 1970 1 Abbott et al 2005 and in the decade to follow the numbers of women undergraduate students had overtaken men with a substantial minority of these being older non standard entrants Furthermore as Paula J Caplan 1997 3 argues Visions of the academic life draw us women toward it picturing an intellectual community whose members search with passion and integrity for Truth and Knowledge We imagine that in academia we shall find freedom from bias freedom from worldly struggles of power and wealth freedom to choose what to study and what to say and an environment characterized by tolerance and openness where everyone's energy is focused on the open exploration of ideas However whilst this may be the vision for some women it is important not to view this widening of female participation in higher education through rose tinted glasses

Maternity and Romance Narratives in Early Modern England Karen Bamford, Naomi J. Miller, 2016-05-06 Though recent scholarship has focused both on motherhood and on romance literature in early modern England until now no full length volume has addressed the notable intersections between the two topics This collection contributes to the scholarly investigation of maternity in early modern England by scrutinizing romance narratives in various forms considering motherhood not as it was actually lived but as it was figured in the fantasy world of romance by authors ranging from Edmund Spenser to Margaret Cavendish Contributors explore the traditional association between romance and women both as readers of fiction and as tellers of old wives tales as well as the tendency of romance plots with their emphasis on the family and its reproduction to foreground matters of maternity Collectively the essays in this volume invite reflection on the uses to which Renaissance culture put maternal stereotypes the virgin mother the cruel step dame as well as the powerful fears and desires that mothers evoke assuage and sometimes express in the fantasy world of romance

Memory and Pedagogy Claudia Mitchell, Teresa Strong-Wilson, Kathleen Pithouse, Susann Allnutt, 2010-12-14 Memory work the conscious remembering and study of individual and shared memories is increasingly being acknowledged as a key pedagogical tool in working with children Giving students opportunities and support to remember and study their selves as individuals and as communities allows them to see their future as something that belongs to them and that they can influence in some way for the better This edited volume brings together essays from scholars who are studying the interconnections between pedagogy and memory in the context of social themes and social inquiry within educational research The book provides a range of perspectives on the social and pedagogical relevance of memory studies to the educational arena in relation to the themes of memory and method revisiting childhood memory and place addressing political conflict sexuality and embodiment and inter generational studies The Routledge International Handbook on Narrative and Life History Ivor Goodson, Ari Antikainen, Pat Sikes, Molly Andrews, 2016-10-04 In recent decades there has been a substantial turn towards narrative and life history study The embrace of narrative and life history work has accompanied the move to postmodernism and post structuralism across a wide range of disciplines sociological studies gender studies cultural studies social history literary theory and most recently psychology Written by leading international scholars from the main contributing perspectives and disciplines The Routledge International Handbook on Narrative and Life History seeks to capture the range and scope as well as the considerable complexity of the field of narrative study and life history work by situating these fields of study within the historical and contemporary context Topics covered include The historical emergences of life history and narrative study Techniques for conducting life history and narrative study Identity and politics Generational history Social and psycho social approaches to narrative history With chapters from expert contributors this volume will prove a comprehensive and authoritative resource to students researchers and educators interested in narrative theory analysis and interpretation
