The Visible And The Revealed:

The Visible and the Revealed Jean-Luc Marion, 2009-08-25 In The Visible and the Revealed Jean Luc Marion brings together his most significant papers dealing with the relationship between philosophy and theology. Covering the ground from some of his earliest writings on this topic to very recent reflections they are particularly useful for understanding the progression of Marion's thought on such topics as the saturated phenomenon and the possibility of something like Christian Philosophy. The book contains his seminal pieces on the saturated phenomenon and on the gift although the essays also explore more recent developments of his thought on these topics. Several chapters explicitly explore the boundary line between philosophy and theology or their mutual enrichment and influence. In one of the final pieces The Banality of Saturation Marion considers some of the most recent objections brought against his notion of the saturated phenomenon and responds to them in detail suggesting that saturated phenomena are neither as rare nor as inflexible as often assumed. The work contains two chapters not previously available in English and brings together several other pieces previously translated but now difficult to find. For readers interested in the relation between the two disciplines this is indispensable reading.

Transcendence and Sensoriness, 2015-06-02 Protestant theology and culture are known for a reserved at times skeptical attitude to the use of art and aesthetic forms of expression in a religious context. In Transcendence and Sensoriness this attitude is analysed and discussed both theoretically and through case studies considered in a broad theological and philosophical framework of religious aesthetics. Nordic scholars of theology, philosophy, art, music and architecture discuss questions of transcendence, the human senses and the arts in order to challenge established perspectives within the aesthetics of religion and theology.

Wonder and Exile in the New World Alex Nava, 2015-01-14 In Wonder and Exile in the New World Alex Nava explores the border regions between wonder and exile particularly in relation to the New World. It traces the preoccupation with the concept of wonder in the history of the Americas beginning with the first European encounters, goes on to investigate later representations in the Baroque age and ultimately enters the twentieth century with the emergence of so-called magical realism. In telling the story of wonder in the New World Nava gives special attention to the part it played in the history of violence and exile either as a force that supported and reinforced the Conquest or as a voice of resistance and decolonization. Focusing on the work of New World explorers, writers and poets and their literary descendants Nava finds that wonder and exile have been two of the most significant metaphors within Latin American cultural, literary and religious representations. Beginning with the period of the Conquest especially with Cabeza de Vaca and Las Casas continuing through the Baroque with Cervantes and Sor Juana Inés de la Cruz and moving into the twentieth century with Alejo Carpentier and Miguel Ángel Asturias Nava produces a historical study of Latin American narrative in which religious and theological perspectives figure prominently.

The Works of W. Chillingworth, M.A. William

Chillingworth,1844 The Inconspicuous God Jason W. Alvis,2018-06-01 Dominique Janicaud once famously critiqued the work of French phenomenologists of the theological turn because their work was built on the seemingly corrupt basis of Heidegger's notion of the inapparent or inconspicuous In this powerful reconsideration and extension of Heidegger's phenomenology of the inconspicuous Jason W Alvis deftly suggests that inconspicuousness characterizes something fully present and active yet quickly overlooked Alvis develops the idea of inconspicuousness through creative appraisals of key concepts of the thinkers of the French theological turn and then employs it to describe the paradoxes of religious experience historical human existence This book offers an alternative view turning the other into a real being through a carefully described process involving two dimensions referred to as the ethic of loyalty to the visible and the ethic of inner retreat Tracing the course of this process in life and in literature the book presents a broad and lucid picture intriguing to philosophers and also accessible to readers concerned with questions touching on the meaning of life ethics and politics and particularly relevant to the burning issues surrounding attitudes to immigrants as others and to the relationship with God the ultimate other

The Collected Writings of Edward Irving Edward Irving, 1865 Uncovering the Theme of Revelation in Romans 1:16-3:26 Marcus A. Mininger, 2017-09-19 Past study of Rom 1 16 3 26 focuses on individual salvation or on social relations and also produces a host of interpretative quandaries Marcus A Mininger develops a new approach which includes but goes beyond these foci by unearthing the theme of revelation that runs throughout Paul's argument largely unnoticed More than a proof of sin or of social equality Paul provides a survey of numerous visible revelations in which otherwise invisible realities like God's wrath the power of sin and God's righteousness are seen through the observable effects they produce in different people Read this way the rationale of Paul's argument becomes quite clear including for problem texts like Rom 2 and 3 1 8 as Paul proves that the gospel not the law overcomes sin's power and that God's righteousness always exists in contrast to the human condition in this age From publisher's description

Tuitions and Intuitions William Rothman, 2019-11-01 William Rothman has long been considered one of the seminal figures in the field of film philosophy From his landmark book Hitchcock The Murderous Gaze now in its second edition to the essays collected here in Tuitions and Intuitions Rothman has been guided by two intuitions first that his kind of film criticism is philosophy and second that such a marriage of criticism and philosophy has an essential part to play in the serious study of film In this book he aspires borrowing a formulation from Emerson to pay the tuition for these intuitions Thoughtful philosophically sophisticated and provocative the essays included here address a wide range of films including classical Hollywood movies the work of auteur directors like Alfred Hitchcock George Cukor Yasujiro Ozu and Woody Allen performances by John Barrymore and James Stewart unconventional works by Jean Genet Chantal Akerman Terrence Malick and the Dardenne brothers the television series Justified and documentaries by Jean Rouch Ross McElwee and Robert Gardner All the essays address questions of philosophical significance and taken together manifest Rothman's lifelong commitment when writing about a film to respect the film's own ideas to remain open to the film's ways of expressing its ideas and to let the film help teach him how to view it how to think about it and how to discover what he has at heart to say about it
