Notes from the Balkans Sarah F. Green, 2016-09-26 Maps and borders notwithstanding some places are best described as gaps places with repeatedly contested boundaries that are wedged in between other places that have clear boundaries This book explores an iconic example of this in the contemporary Western imagination the Balkans Drawing on richly detailed ethnographic research around the Greek Albanian border Sarah Green focuses her groundbreaking analysis on the ambiguities of never quite resolving where or what places are One consequence for some Greek peoples in this border area is a seeming lack of distinction but in a distinctly Balkan way In gaps which are never empty marginality is in contrast with conventional understandings not a matter of difference and separation it is a lack thereof Notes from the Balkans represents the first ethnographic approach to exploring the Balkans as an ideological concept Green argues that rather than representing a tension between West and East the Balkans makes such oppositions ambiguous This kind of marginality means that such places and peoples can hardly engage with multiculturalism Moreover the region's ambiguity threatens clear modernist distinctions The violence so closely associated with the region can therefore be seen as part of continual attempts to resolve the ambiguities by imposing fixed separations And every time this fails the region is once again defined as a place that will continually proliferate such dangerous ambiguity and could spread it somewhere else

Borders and Mobility Control in and between Empires and Nation-States, 2022-10-24 In a modernist interpretation of migration controls nation states play a major role This book challenges this interpretation by showing that comprehensive migration checks and permanent border controls appeared much earlier in early modern dynastic states and empires and predated nation states by centuries The 11 contributions in this volume explore the role of early modern and modern dynastic kingdoms and empires in Europe the Middle East and Eurasia and the evolution of border controls from the 16th to the 20th century They analyse how these states interacted with other polities such as emerging nation states in Europe North America and Australia and what this means for a broader reconceptualization of mobility in Europe and beyond in the longue durée Contributors are Tobias Brinkmann Vincent Denis Sinan Din er Josef Ehmer Irial A Glynn Sabine Jesner Olga Katsiardi Hering Leo Lucassen Ikaros Mantouvalos Leslie Page Moch Jovan Pe alj Lewis H Siegelbaum Annemarie Steidl and Megan Williams

The Spear, the Scroll, and the Pebble Richard A. Billows, 2023-01-12 This book presents a powerful new argument for how and why the Greek city states including their distinctive society and culture came to be and why they had the highly unusual and influential form they took After reviewing early city state formation and the economic underpinnings of city state society three key chapters examine the way the Greeks developed their unique society The spear scroll and pebble encapsulate the book's core ideas The Spear city state Greeks developed a citizen militia military system that gave relatively equal importance to each citizen warrior thereby emboldening the citizen warriors to demand political rights The Pebble the resultant growth of collective political systems of oligarchy and democracy led to thousands of citizens forming the sovereign element of the state they made political decisions through communal debate and voting The Scroll in order for such systems to function a shared information base had to be created and this was done by setting up public notices of laws proposed policies public meeting agendas and a host of other information To access this information these military and political citizens had to be able to read Billows examines the spread of schools and literacy throughout the Greek world showing that the male city state Greeks formed the world's first known mass literate society He concludes by showing that it was the mass literate nature of the Greek city state society that explains the remarkable and influential culture the classical Greeks produced

Mythopoetic Cinema Kriss Ravetto-Biagioli, 2017-08-08 In Mythopoetic Cinema Kriss Ravetto Biagioli explores how contemporary European filmmakers treat mythopoetics as a critical practice that questions the constant need to provide new identities a new Europe and with it a new European cinema after the fall of the Soviet Union Mythopoetic cinema questions the perpetual branding of movements ideas and individuals Examining the work of Jean Luc Godard Alexander Sokurov Marina Abramovi and Theodoros Angelopoulos Ravetto Biagioli argues that these disparate artists provide a critical reflection on what constitutes Europe in the age of neoliberalism Their films reflect not only the violence of recent years but also help question dominant models of nation building that result in the general failure to respond ethically to rising ethnocentrism In close readings of such films as Sokurov's Russian Ark 2002 and Godard's Notre Musique 2004 Ravetto Biagioli demonstrates the ways in which these filmmakers engage and evaluate the recent reconceptualization of Europe's borders mythic figures and identity paradoxes Her work not only analyzes how these filmmakers thematically treat the idea of Europe but also how their work questions the ability of the moving image to challenge conventional ways of understanding history

Social Networking in South-Eastern Europe Maria Baramova, Grigor Boykov, Ivan

Parvev, 2021 Social Networking in South Eastern Europe in the 15th 19th centuries exhibits specific characteristics the Ottomans and the Habsburgs for example each have their pattern of building and using social networks with the Third South Eastern Europe i.e. the vassal principalities in the Balkans and the re-created national states staying closer in the Ottoman pattern. It seems that the Muslim Oriental social traditions established in the Balkans during Ottoman rule had a clear impact on the building of networks and the exercising of social influence. The specific regional practices once established were very hard to overcome or to replace by other patterns of social networking. These practices however could easily interact in border areas with one other giving the inhabitants on both sides of the frontier the possibility of living a socially amphibious life at least in terms of Social Networking.
