unraveling of one of the strangest murder investigations of our time Too Late to Say Goodbye is perhaps the finest achievement of a truly great writer's career Too Late to Say Goodbye Ann Rule, 2008-09-04 Written within a cloistered environment to protect sources that have yet to be identified TOO LATE TO SAY GOODBYE is a chilling portrait of two beautiful successful women whose murders were made to look like suicides Jenn Corbin appeared to have it all two little boys a posh home in the suburbs of Atlanta and a husband Dr Bart Corbin a successful dentist who was handsome and brilliant Then in December 2004 Jenn was found dead with a bullet in her head apparently by suicide Only later would detectives learn that another woman in Dr Corbin's past had been found years earlier with nearly the exact same wound to the head also ruled a suicide In TOO LATE TO SAY GOODBYE Ann Rule working in cooperation with victims families police investigators and sources from Georgia to Australia unravels the now sensational deaths What emerges is an incredible tale of jealous rage of stunning evidence that runs from the steamy to the macabre and of a fateful mind boggling coincidence that appears to have motivated the killings The definitive unravelling of one of the strangest murder investigations of our time this is the greatest achievement of a truly great writing career The Worst in Him* Diana Smith Walsh, 2010-04-09 For 14 years Paula Lucas lived what looked like an ideal life as an American overseas wife A Newsweek photojournalist husband worldwide travel a successful advertising marketing and PR business and three beautiful sons She also hides a terrible secret the children suffered severe child abuse and Paula horrific domestic violence at the hands of her husband making every day a nightmare As the violence increased so did her desperation In 1997 she finally disclosed the abuse to her brother in California Her family called the State Department congress people and senators Paula went to the American Embassy and pleaded for help Their efforts were futile Finally her chance to escape materialized thanks to a thief who stole her husband's passport and money on a train in Germany which caused her husband to be locked outside of the country Paula searched her husband's offices for the children's American passports which her husband had hidden After a month of searching she was about to give up In despair Paula sat sobbing with her face in her hands That's when she believes a guardian angel pointed her back to a file she had already checked and inside were the children's passports Without access to her own money Paula forged her husband's signature on a check for just enough money to get them to her sister's house in Oregon She also forged her husband's signature on documents giving her permission to leave the country with the children She knew if she were caught she would be put in prison or worse But she also knew that the possible damage when her husband returned was very high In the middle of the night with one suitcase and her three children she took a taxi to the airport in Dubai and prayed Paula tried not to show her fear as they shuffled through immigration and boarded a flight to New York and to freedom Once in New York the four of them piled onto a train to Oregon a three day journey At her sister's house outside of Portland Paula's relief was short lived She found out that even though she the children and her husband were all Americans he had the right to fight her for jurisdiction and force her to take the boys back to the Middle East a certain death sentence In disbelief she fled her sister s house and went into hiding living in shelters on food stamps and welfare while fighting a costly legal battle she never expected to keep her American children in the United States If she lost she vowed she would go underground and disappear permanently rather than take her children back The battle lasted eighteen months and cost tens of thousands of dollars Finally the Oregon courts ruled that Paula could keep her sons in Oregon She was granted divorce and custody in September 2000 but no child support alimony or court costs Her husband received supervised visitation of the children Despite experiencing homelessness poverty and extreme debt over 60 000 after years of abuse Paula felt she had been given a second chance She resolved to help other abused American women and children around the world so they would not have to go through what she and her children went through While living in a shelter Paula founded a nonprofit organization American Women Overseas and began her work Sadly this is not an isolated situation In fact the structure and lifestyle of living as an expatriate is almost the perfect scenario for someone to carry out abusive acts The foundation of domestic violence is that abusers want to dominate and control everything in order to get their own way This can easily be achieved by living away from the support and visibility of friends and family In most expatriate families the man is the person on assignment and the spouse is the attachment to his visa work permit company package and is bound by visa restriction and cannot work As a result the woman can feel beholden guilty and obligated to her husband because he is
