

The background of the slide is a photograph of a forest. In the foreground, a large, dark evergreen tree stands prominently. Behind it, several other trees of varying heights and types are visible, some with bare branches. In the far background, a body of water is visible, with a small, light-colored structure or island in the distance. The overall atmosphere is misty and serene.

Trees is a lyric poem by American poet Joyce Kilmer. Written in February 1913, it was first published in Poetry A Magazine of Verse that August and included in Kilmer's 1914 collection Trees and Other Poems. The poem, in twelve lines of rhyming couplets of iambic tetrameter verse, describes what Kilmer perceives as the inability of art created by humankind to replicate the beauty achieved by nature. Kilmer is most remembered for Trees, which has been the subject of frequent parodies and references in popular culture. Kilmer's work is often disparaged by critics and dismissed by scholars as being too simple and overly sentimental, and that his style was far too traditional and even archaic Despite this the popular appeal of Trees has contributed to its endurance Literary critic Guy Davenport considers it the one poem known by practically everybody Trees is frequently included in poetry anthologies and has been set to music several times including a popular rendition by Oscar Rasbach performed by singers Nelson Eddy Robert Merrill and Paul Robeson Trees and Other Poems (1914).
