Regional Development and Forgotten Spaces María del Carmen Sánchez Carreira, Paulo Jorge Reis Mourão, Bruno Blanco-Varela, 2023 This book constitutes a novel contribution combining recent theoretical developments and empirical contributions as well as the recent and latest trends and challenges on the issue of Forgotten Spaces Forgotten Spaces like the Forgotten Regions in particular are spaces that in potential can and do create significant value if their resources are properly rediscovered and create many potential costs if these spaces are increasingly neglected by economic agents The editors have identified a gap in current research because there is not enough empirical evidence about these places as well as about the role of their actors Abandoning regions can lead to for example pollution uncontrolled forest fires vandalism heritage deterioration and potentially untreated industrial facilities carrying potential costs not only in environmental sustainability but also in values such as landscape aesthetics Thus this book reflects on the dimensions of the identification of such Forgotten Spaces on the design of policies focused on minimizing associated costs and on the scope of programs to promote these areas not only for upgrading them but also for promoting their environmental sustainability The comparative approach of the empirical part also allows knowledge and experience from diverse longitudes and latitudes The editors highlight the richness of the experience of Latin American countries the polarization and interesting experiences from several sector rediscovered in Europe as well as the holistic cases coming from several African experiences This book will attract the attention of academicians politicians and ultimately the attention of all decision makers who most likely are forgetting many of the Spaces around them

Planning and the Multi-local Urban Experience Kimmo Lapintie, 2022-05-11 The starting point of this book is the observation that there is a discrepancy between the lived reality of human beings and the fabricated planned and governed reality of the state apparatus at both the local and national level The book posits multi locality as an emerging spatial configuration The author draws from various theoretical sources such as Deleuze and Guattari s concepts of state or royal science the Nietzschean critique of idealism H gerstrnad s time geography Hintikka s theory of modalities Lefebvre s urban society Castel s network society Foucault s concept of heterotopia and Bhaskar s and Sartre s theories of presence and absence He also discusses the implications of Faludi s post territorialist critique of planning and governance and of the failure to operationalise the concept quantitatively basing his arguments in the lived experiences of multi locals as well The novelty of the book is how it analyses multi locality from such a wide theoretical perspective what is the nature and meaning of the different multiple and coexistent places for people and how is this spatial transformation related to their mobility everyday practices and work How does the presence and absence of places form their identity and their citizenship He also addresses the inconsistency between multi locality and traditional statistics and the planning and governance practices based on the assumption of unilocality and discusses the implications of this incongruity The book will be of interest to scholars in urban studies and planning theory as well as practitioners developing more adequate practices replacing outdated ones

Urban and Regional Development Trajectories in Contemporary Capitalism Flavia Martinelli, Frank Moulaert, Andreas Novy, 2013 This book re evaluates a rich scientific heritage of space and history sensitive development theories and produces an integrated methodology for the comparative analysis of urban and regional trajectories within a globalized world The main argument put forward is that current mainstream analyses of urban and regional development have forgotten this rich heritage and fail to address the connections between different dimensions of development the role of history and the importance of place and scale relations The proposed methodology integrates elements from different theories radical economic geography regulation approach cultural political economy old and new institutionalism that all share a strong concern with time and space dynamics They are recombined into an interdisciplinary meta theoretical framework capable of articulating the overall problem of socio economic development and providing methodological anchors for comparative case study analysis while recognizing context specificities The analytical methodology focuses on key dynamics and relations such as strategic agency and collective action institutions and structures culture and discourse as well as the tension between path dependency and path shaping The methodology is then applied to eight urban and regional cases mostly from Western Europe but also from the United States and China The case studies confirm the relevance of time and space sensitive analysis not only for understanding development trajectories but also for policy making They ultimately highlight that while post war institutions were able to address systemic contradictions and foster a relatively inclusive development model the neoliberal turn has led to reductionist policies that not only have resulted in an increase in social and spatial inequalities but have also undermined growth and democracy
