Untouchables Honest Conversations About Subjects We Would Rather Not Discuss:

Untouchables Jack Hilligoss, 2015-08-31 There are some things we would rather not talk about There are issues we are unwilling to discuss We consider them off limits and when they come up we try to change the subject as quickly as possible Absolute truth Heaven and hell Miracles Repentance Holiness Purity Generosity Race Gay marriage Politics But we live in a world that is too full of difficult challenges and controversial issues for us to refuse to engage The Scriptures were given so that Christians could be thoroughly equipped for every good work 2 Timothy 3 17 NIV One of those good works is the ability to show a sincere inquirer that God has provided wise answers and reliable guidance not only for how to get to heaven but also for how to respond and live effectively in this confused generation In Untouchables Jack Hilligoss demonstrates how God's Word never hides from any subject but rather handles these sensitive and intimidating topics with grace and truth In doing so he aims to equip the body of Christ with practical and profound Christian responses to these untouchable topics

Touching Spaces in Textures Mariam Popal, 2025-11-07 Touch has many layers of meaning especially so in the affectivity unleashed by humor where touching spaces often emerge in deconstructive ways that affect the senses alter sense making and generate productive forms of non knowledge NichtWissen and power lessness OhnMacht The study discusses the works of various thinkers including Friedrich Nietzsche Sigmund Freud Frantz Fanon Helmuth Plessner Jacques Derrida Eve Kosofsky Sedgwick bell hooks Gayatri Chakravorty Spivak and Achim Geisenhansl ke Drawing on such critical theories and poetically generated epistemologies of literary works the study illuminates venues for transformative thought while also paying attention to the ethics of dialogicity and the relation between philosophy and literature Los Angeles Saturday Night, 1930 The Brewer's Digest, 1984 Raising Race Questions Ali Michael, 2015 Conversations about race can be confusing contentious and frightening particularly for White people Even just asking questions about race can be scary because we are afraid of what our questions might reveal about our ignorance or bias Raising Race Questions invites teachers to use inquiry as a way to develop sustained engagement with challenging racial questions and to do so in community so that they learn how common their questions actually are It lays out both a process for getting to questions that lead to growth and change as well as a vision for where engagement with race questions might lead Race questions are not meant to lead us into a quagmire of guilt discomfort or isolation Sustained race inquiry is meant to lead to anti racist classrooms positive racial identities and a restoration of the wholeness of spirit and community that racism undermines Book Features Case studies of expert and experienced White teachers who still have questions about race Approaches for talking about race in the K 12 classroom Strategies for facilitating race conversations among adults A variety of different resources useful in the teacher inquiry groups described in the book Research with teachers not on teachers including written responses from each teacher whose classroom is featured in the book In Raising Race Questions Ali Michael is an excavator determined to dig into every unexplored crevice of White teachers experiences with race in order to unearth the complex realities of racism and schooling and a model of reflective inquiry willing to lay herself and her assumptions bare in service to the reader's consciousness and her own. This book grew my consciousness in multiple ways and that is the greatest gift an author can give me. Paul Gorski, founder EdChange, associate professor, George Mason University. Ali Michael has a gift for getting people talking. This must-read book captures her magic and shares useful strategies for teachers and schools working to develop their racial proficiency. As a White teacher engaged in this work, I've watched these tools help educators support one another as they make mistakes, reflect, and grow together. Lynn Eckerman, Teacher, Independence Charter School, Philadelphia, PA.
