Tourism and Urban Regeneration Alberto Amore, 2019-08-05 Tourism and Urban Regeneration Processes Compressed in Time and Space presents the global phenomenon of tourism and urban regeneration through the contemporary frames of spatial planning theory metagovernance resilience and disaster capitalism

Drawing upon cases from several cities around the globe the book advances the field with the inclusion of examples from post disaster rebuilding and recovery The book is rooted in a theoretical framework that considers time space and tourism as core facets for the analysis By doing so it provides readers with an understanding of different yet similar processes of urban development and identifies the principles for tourism and urban regeneration to effectively contribute to socio economic growth urban change and long term sustainability The theory is illustrated through insightful case studies covering a range of urban tourism destinations including Dubai Newcastle Christchurch Pittsburgh Detroit and Taipei This work will be of great interest to upper level students and researchers in Tourism as well as those in the fields of Geography Urban Planning and Policy and Development

Urban Regeneration Steffen Lehmann, 2019-02-28 Urban Regeneration A Manifesto for transforming UK Cities in the Age of Climate Change explores and offers guidance on the complex process of how to transform cities continuing the unfinished project of the seminal 1999 text Towards an Urban Renaissance It is a 21st century manifesto of urban principles compiled by a prominent urbanist for the regeneration of UK cities focusing on the characteristics of a good place and the strategies of sustainable urbanism It asks readers to consider how we can best transform the derelict abandoned and run down parts of cities back into places where people want to live work and play The book frames an architecture of re use that translates and combines the complex science of cities and the art of urban and architectural design into actionable and practical guidance on how to regenerate cities Fascinated by the typology and value of the compact UK and European city model Lehmann introduces the concept of high density without high buildings as a solution that will make our cities compact walkable mixed use and vibrant again

The Routledge Companion to Urban Regeneration Michael E. Leary, John McCarthy, 2013-10-30 In the past decade urban regeneration policy makers and practitioners have faced a number of difficult challenges such as sustainability budgetary constraints demands for community involvement and rapid urbanization in the Global South Urban regeneration remains a high profile and important field of government led intervention and policy and practice continue to adapt to the fresh challenges and opportunities of the 21st century as well as confronting long standing intractable urban problems and dilemmas This Companion provides cutting edge critical review and synthesis of recent conceptual policy and practical developments within the field With contributions from 70 international experts within the field it explores the meaning of urban regeneration in differing national contexts asking questions and providing informed discussion and analyses to illuminate how an apparently disparate field of research policy and practice can be rendered coherent drawing out common themes and significant differences The Companion is divided into six sections exploring globalization and neo liberal perspectives on urban regeneration emerging reconceptualizations of regeneration public infrastructure and public space housing and cosmopolitan communities community centred regeneration and culture led regeneration The concluding chapter considers the future of urban regeneration and proposes a nine point research agenda This Companion assembles a diversity of approaches and insights in one comprehensive volume to provide a state of the art review of the field It is a valuable resource for both advanced undergraduate and postgraduate students in Urban Planning Built Environment Urban Studies and Urban Regeneration as well as academics practitioners and politicians
