Urban Mobility and Social Equity in Latin America Daniel Oviedo, Natalia Villamizar Duarte, Ana Marcela Ardila Pinto, 2020-11-16 This volume of Transport and Sustainability focuses on how spatial and social mobilities are intertwined in the reproduction of spatial and social inequities in Latin American cities Digital Social Networks and Travel Behaviour in Urban Environments Pnina Plaut, Dalit Shach-Pinsly, 2019-10-17 This book brings together conceptual and empirical insights to explore the interconnections between social networks based on Information and Communication Technologies ICT and travel behaviour in urban environments Over the past decade rapid development of ICT has led to extensive social impacts and influence on travel and mobility patterns within urban spaces A new field of research of digital social networks and travel behaviour is now emerging This book presents state of the art knowledge cutting edge research and integrated analysis methods from the fields of social networks travel behaviour and urban analysis It explores the challenges related to the question of how we can synchronize among social networks activities transport means intelligent communication information technologies and the urban form This innovative book encourages multidisciplinary insights and fusion among three disciplines of social networks travel behaviour and urban analysis It offers new horizons for research and will be of interest to students and scholars studying mobilities transport studies urban geography urban planning the built environment and urban policy

Social Networks and Travel Behaviour Matthias Kowald, Kay W. Axhausen, 2016-03-03 In aiming to understand and model peoples out of home movements the academic field of transport planning is confronted with two major challenges Firstly leisure travel is increasing in importance and is more complex and variable than work related travel being less rigid in temporal and spatial patterns and more influenced by external factors such as social contacts or weather conditions Secondly traditional aggregated transport models do not include any information on peoples social interactions or their personal social networks In contrast the recent development and availability of disaggregated models allows more detailed modelling of elements such as individual characteristics motivations constraints and travel costs as well as a consideration of influences from an actor s social environment People travel not only within an infrastructure but also within a social structure These two main factors have driven transport planners to focus on peoples interaction and their social network In recent years there have been a remarkable number of data collection efforts in the field surveying information on the link between travel behaviour and social motivation Providing an overview of selected exemplary studies this volume addresses the overlap between transport planning and methods of social network analysis applied methods of social network analysis and related empirical results and current challenges and new research questions in this field

Tourism and Inequality Stroma Cole, Nigel Morgan, 2010 Tourism has long been considered a source of social inequality and as the industry continues to expand rapidly there is an increasing need for a better understanding of its consequences Providing a synthesis of tourism as a source of injustice Tourism and Inequality addresses a wide range of interrelated forms of inequality investigating its association with class nation ethnicity race gender disability and age Chapters examine routes towards social justice and initiatives that aim to advance poverty alleviation fair trade ethics and human rights The analysis of a wide variety of case studies from around the world allows an exploration into the ways that tourism can be used positively to alleviate the impacts of social injustice Providing a unique multidisciplinary perspective the authors aim to lead the way towards a more socially responsible future for tourism practice This book provides a useful resource for students of tourism and tourism management as well as industry professionals and policy makers

Time, Innovation and Mobilities Peter Frank Peters, 2006-07-13 In social theory and sociology time and travel in technological cultures is one of the new and challenging research topics in the mobilities turn Yet surprisingly contemporary practices of mobility have till now seen only limited theorization within these disciplines By analyzing historic and contextualized transit practices this revealing book argues that travel cannot now simply be reduced to getting from A to B it is an integrated part of everyday life In this area researching how problems can be identified as dilemmas and reformulated as design problems helps create a new vocabulary one which will not only change the agenda in the debate on mobility problems in the public domain but will also suggest new ways of theorizing mobility innovations In this fascinating book author Peters develops a conceptual framework to study contemporary transit practices and evaluate innovation strategies gives new insights regarding historic and contemporary design strategies and regarding innovations related to travel in technological cultures gives special attention to electronic timespaces and ICT based mobility innovations investigates cases of travel in technological cultures car travel air travel and cycling in Dutch towns An original and provocative contribution to the emerging field of mobilities this book will become an essential resource for advanced undergraduate post graduate researchers and practitioners in the fields of sociology geography spatial planning policy and transportation studies Comprehensive Geographic Information Systems
