Treating Violence Treating Violence:

Treating Violence Rob Gore, 2024-05-07 The inspiring story of a Black doctor who was deeply affected by the violence that plagued his Brooklyn childhood and later dedicated himself to addressing trauma and violence as public health issues Rob Gore first encountered violence when he was beaten and robbed as a 10 year old it was treated as an inevitable fact of life but after another brush with violence as a teen he began to reject that prevalent attitude As he matured and became a doctor he grew in his determination to find treatments for what he saw not as an unavoidable fact for most people living in vulnerable underserved neighborhoods especially but as a public health issue that could be addressed by early intervention and solid support beginning in the medical community He also became deeply involved in efforts to diversify the entire field of medicine starting with the front lines in the Emergency Department Seeing his brother Angel and close friend Willis fall prey to the epidemic of violence with profound and in Willis s case deadly consequences Rob began seriously researching the issue and went on to found an organization which is one of the models for successful approaches to reducing violence and protecting victims who are disproportionately BIPOC living in impoverished neighborhoods or members of the LGBTQ community Here he provides not only statistics but stories of what he witnessed in NYC neighborhoods in Atlanta Chicago Buffalo and even in medical work in Haiti and Kenya His work with the Kings Against Violence Initiative KAVI and allied organizations is a blueprint for treating violence not as a police matter but as a public health crisis which can and should be addressed and substantially reduced The people he introduces us to in these pages are not merely victims but often advocates paving the way for eliminating the epidemic of violence in our country Evaluating Cure Violence in Trinidad and Tobago Edward R. Maguire, Megan T. Oakley, Nicholas Corsaro, 2018-11-20 This report presents a comprehensive evaluation of the Cure Violence initiative implemented in Trinidad and Tobago from July 2015 to August 2017 It describes the evaluation s methods and findings and includes three main components a process evaluation impact evaluation and cost effectiveness analysis The process evaluation revealed that local staff successfully implemented some of the key elements of the Cure Violence model in a number of distressed and violent communities in the Port of Spain area The impact evaluation based on a series of quasi experimental designs using multiple independent data sets found significant and substantial reductions in violence calls to the police for violent incidents and gunshot wound admissions in a hospital located near the intervention Based on these analyses the report concludes that Project REASON reduced violence in the treatment area Findings from the cost effectiveness evaluation showed that Cure Violence cost on average approximately US 3 500 to US 4 500 for every violent incident it prevented Given the profound costs of violence in both human and economic terms these estimates provide hope not only that violence can be prevented but also that effective solutions for preventing violence may be affordable Gender-Inclusive Treatment of Intimate Partner Abuse, Second Edition John Hamel, 2013-11-08 Print

Miller, Stephen Rollnick, 2015-06-02 This book has been replaced by Motivational Interviewing in the Treatment of Psychological Problems Third Edition ISBN 978 1 4625 5619 9 Integrated Treatment for Personality Disorder W. John Livesley, Giancarlo Dimaggio, John F. Clarkin, 2015-10-23 Rather than arguing for one best approach for treating personality disorder this pragmatic book emphasizes the benefits of weaving together multiple well established intervention strategies to meet each patient's needs A framework is provided for constructing a comprehensive case formulation planning treatment and developing a strong therapeutic alliance The clinician is guided to utilize techniques from all major therapeutic orientations to address transdiagnostic personality symptoms and problems involving emotion regulation interpersonal functioning and self and identity Showing how to pick and choose from what works in a thoughtful coordinated fashion the book features rich clinical illustrations including a chapter length case example See also Handbook of Personality Disorders Second Edition edited by W John Livesley and Roseann Larstone the leading reference that surveys theory research and evidence based treatments Gangland Laura L. Finley, 2018-10-01 This two volume set integrates informative encyclopedia entries and essential primary documents to provide an illuminating overview of trends in gang membership and activity in America in the 21st century Gangland An Encyclopedia of Gang Life from Cradle to Grave includes extended discussion of specific gangs types of gangs based on ethnicity and environment rural suburban and urban recruitment and retention methods leadership structure and other internal dynamics of various gangs impacts of gang membership on extended family the historical evolution of gangs in American society depictions of gang life in popular culture violent and nonviolent gang activities and programs policies agencies and organizations that have been crafted to combat gang activities In addition the encyclopedia includes a suite of primary sources that offer a look into the personal experiences of gang members examine efforts by law enforcement and public officials to address gang activity and address wider societal factors that make eradicating gangs such a difficult task Treating Violence Tony Maden, 2007-01-18 Treating Violence deals with the problem of violence by mental health patients Over the last twenty years violence by the mentally ill has grown from just a peripheral concern to dominate debate about services Scientific studies have established beyond reasonable doubt that mental disorders lead to violence in a minority of sufferers whilst a series of homicide inquiries brought the media spotlight to bear on the real and imagined failings of mental health services Consequently health services have had violence risk assessment thrust upon them by worried managers and politicians Clinicians were bewildered by the growing number of risk scales and they felt vulnerable to criticism when things went wrong This book provides a way out of the confusion It summarises the evidence critically reviews risk assessment methods and presents a strong case for improving management through structured clinical assessment In this provocative and controversial account standardised risk assessment is discussed in a critical non technical way with a reminder that nobody can predict the future There is advice for the clinician on when and how to use standardised assessment along with a strong defence of clinical methods Topics include research on violence mental health and risk prediction the ethics of violence risk assessment homicide inquiries in the UK with the results of a new study reviewing their findings a discussion of professional attitudes towards violence risk a description of risk assessment tools and recommendations for their use and a strong defence of structured clinical assessment as the best way of managing risk This is a book that should be read by anybody working in front line mental health services or criminal justice It will also be of interest to those who have read the headlines about mental illness and violence and want to know more about the facts and the controversies that lie behind them Envisioning Criminology Michael D. Maltz, Stephen K. Rice, 2015-06-09 This book covers research design and methodology from a unique and engaging point of view based on accounts from influential researchers across the field of Criminology and Criminal Justice Most books and articles about research in criminology and criminal justice focus on how the research was carried out the data that were used the methods that were applied the results that were achieved While these are all important they do not present a complete picture Envisioning Criminology Researchers on Research as a Process of Discovery aims to fill that gap by providing nuance the back story of why researchers selected particular problems how they approached those problems and how their background training and experience affected the approaches they took As the contributions in this book demonstrate research is not a cut and dried process as all too many methods books imply but a living breathing and in some ways quirky process that is influenced by non scientific factors The path taken by a researcher is important and an appreciation of his or her background experience knowledge and the setbacks and triumphs of performing the research provides a much more complete picture of how research is done The twenty eight chapters in this book describe the back stories of their authors which serve to enlighten readers about the interplay between the personal and the methodological While primarily aimed as a textbook this work will also be of interest to researchers in Criminology and Criminal Justice and related Social and Behavioral Science fields as an account of how seminal researchers in the field developed their key contributions A Manual of Surgical Treatment: pt. 1 The treatment of the surgical affections of the tongue and floor of the mouth, the pharynx, neck, oesophagus, stomach and intestines Sir William Watson Cheyne, Frederic Francis Burghard, 1903 Federal Probation, 2002 A Manual of surgical treatment v.4, 1912-13 Sir William Watson Cheyne, 1913 Physical conditions and treatment Francis Wharton, 1905 The Diseases of Children and Their Homeopathic Treatment Robert Newton Tooker, 1895 The Treatment of diseases by the hypodermatic method Roberts Bartholow, 1882 A Practical Treatise on the Diagnosis, Pathology, and Treatment of Diseases of the Heart Austin Flint, 1870 The Modern treatment of nervous and mental diseases v.1, 1913 Surgical Diagnosis and Treatment Albert John Ochsner, 1921 Surgical Emergencies: Together with the Emergencies Attendant on Parturition and the Treatment of Poisoning.
