itself drawn from Keats fancy to become a ship's surgeon Shortlisted for the Whitbread Poetry Award Mourning the Dream--Amor Fati Susanna Ruebsaat, 2018-12-13 The inner figure of the blind victim the one who has the power to withstand the dark pull of the archetypal dynamic of illness wholeness was particularly active for a long period of time after I initially lost my eyesight She kept looking for what I could not see checking each eye over and over again separately crying out in despair to the other eye to see if it could not grasp what this one could not As a metaphor pointing to something not seen shadow material not identified with the soul of my blindness kept reaching out past her claustrophobic confinement to the blackness pressing in on her She was relentless in her efforts to stay connected to the not me that might help her learn how to see in another less literal way I reflect now on how seeing and my sense of self became symbiotic in that what I could see I felt was still a part of me I could still be whole I still had a relationship with these parts of my experience And what I could not see was not lost to me forever vanished as if my very sense of myself was suddenly unavailable absent Dead Mother Shipton's Gipsy Fortune Teller and Dream Book, 1890 The Shaman in the Disco and Other Dreams of Masculinity James Thomas, 2006-06 E X C E R P T S from The Shaman in the Disco it often happens for men that sensual deprivation leads to sexual obsession Not knowing how to be with his inner alienation he brings it to his girlfriend and experiences it inaccurately as estrangement between them This perilous move to seek one's psychological moorings in someone else is to a great extent the fulfillment of our cultural fantasy of love I see in the image of Dracula bent over the entranced woman and sucking her blood the inevitable outcome of a man's desire who has been socialized into a hostile relationship towards all things in himself we in our culture call feminine He Darth Vader has literally and figuratively opened up become unmasked and he and Luke share a moment of unguarded closeness It will be their first and last because along the lines of many father son scenes like this in American film and literature the defenses and guardedness fall away only when the father or son is dying As if in male culture one could only die for not live with this sort of closeness Love requires of us the ability to surrender our ego needs to the greater ideal of union with another this first necessitates that we can surrender our ego defenses to a greater awareness of and intimacy with ourselves The Dream Doctor Arthur Benjamin Reeve, 1914 Much ado about nothing.
