

The background of the book cover is a detailed historical illustration. It depicts a group of indigenous people, possibly from the Americas, in a lush, green landscape. In the foreground, several individuals are shown in various poses, some appearing to be in a dance or a communal activity. To the left, a person is seated on the ground. In the background, there are rolling hills and a large, prominent rock formation or mountain peak. The top left corner of the cover features a map with a grid of latitude and longitude lines. The title text is centered within a white rectangular box that has a decorative, swirling white line extending from its left side.

Travel Narratives From The Age Of Discovery An Anthology:

Travel Narratives from the Age of Discovery Peter C. Mancall, 2006 This is a primary source collection of narratives about the travel and discovery in North and South America Africa Asia and Europe in the 16th century

Travel Narratives from the Age of Discovery Peter C. Mancall, 2006 The fifteenth and sixteenth centuries ushered in a new era of discovery as explorers traversed the globe returning home with vivid tales of distant lands and exotic peoples Aided by the invention of the printing press in Europe travelers were able to spread their accounts to wider audiences than ever before In Travel Narratives from the Age of Discovery historian Peter C Mancall has compiled some of the most important travel accounts of this era Written by authors from Spain France Italy England China and North Africa describing locations that range from Brazil to Canada China to Virginia and Angola to Vietnam these accounts provided crucial insight into unfamiliar cultures and environments and also betrayed the prejudices of their own societies revealing as much about the observers themselves as they did about faraway lands From Christopher Columbus to lesser known figures such as the Huguenot missionary Jean de Lery this anthology brings together first hand accounts of places connected by the Atlantic Pacific and Indian oceans Unlike other collections Travel Narratives from the Age of Discovery offers a global view of travel at a crucial stage in world and human history with accounts written by non European authors including two new translations Included here are the Mughal Emperor Babur's first thoughts of India upon establishing his empire there the Chinese chronicler Ma Huan's report detailing Chinese travel to the Middle East during the fifteenth century and an account of Africa written by the man known as Leo Africanus In addition to these travel narratives this anthology features rare pictures from sixteenth century printed books including images of Brazil Roanoke Guiana and India which together with the accounts themselves provide a detailed understanding of the many ways in which fifteenth and sixteenth century travelers and readers imagined other worlds

Handbook of British Travel Writing Barbara Schaff, 2020-09-07 This handbook offers a systematic exploration of current key topics in travel writing studies It addresses the history impact and unique discursive variety of British travel writing by covering some of the most celebrated and canonical authors of the genre as well as lesser known ones in more than thirty close reading chapters Combining theoretically informed astute literary criticism of single texts with the analysis of the circumstances of their production and reception these chapters offer excellent possibilities for understanding the complexity and cultural relevance of British travel writing

The Cambridge Introduction to Travel Writing Tim Youngs, 2013-05-27 Surveying various works of travel literature this text argues that travel writing redefines the myriad genres it often comprises

Mapping the World at the Dawn of the British Empire Matthew Dimmock, Andrew Hadfield, 2025-06-20 Mapping the World at the Dawn of the British Empire is a compact and informative guide to the ways in which the world was understood and imagined by British travellers and readers in the Tudor and Jacobean period just before the rapid expansion of the transoceanic British Empire from the mid seventeenth century onwards The book shows how the relatively restricted English speaking world understood different people and places sometimes through direct encounters more often through descriptions and travel narratives The book covers British perceptions of the diverse cultures of the world known to them in the early seventeenth century from Paris to the South Sea Islands from the earliest precarious colonies established in the Americas to the mighty Ottoman and Chinese empires from the frozen north as sailors vainly sought to open up new trade routes by discovering the north west or north east passages to the arid deserts of the Sahara from the rich fishing grounds of the Baltic and the North Atlantic to the mythical kingdom of Prester John the fabled golden city of El Dorado and the hidden societies of the dangerous women warriors the Amazons The book shows that British readers encountered a vision of the world that simultaneously represented them as specially selected white Christians superior to other peoples but also reminded them how dependent they were on other peoples whose territories produced such vast riches Reading these accounts of travel trade and colonialism demonstrates that English speakers realized how much they had to learn if their nations were to survive and flourish as well as the possibilities for accumulating wealth through trade and conquest The book is divided into six chapters each prefaced by a contemporary map Europe The North Islamic West Asia and the Eastern Mediterranean East Asia and the South Seas Africa and The Americas There is an introduction a conclusion a bibliographical essay and a guide explaining how to use the book There are also 35 illustrations comprising of maps portraits and images of relevant objects discussed in the text Hakluyt's Promise Peter C.

Mancall,2008-10-01 Richard Hakluyt the younger a contemporary of William Shakespeare advocated the creation of English colonies in the New World at a time when the advantages of this idea were far from self evident This book describes in detail the life and times of Hakluyt a trained minister who became an editor of travel accounts Hakluyt s Promise demonstrates his prominent role in the establishment of English America as well as his interests in English opportunities in the East Indies The volume presents nearly 50 illustrations many unpublished since the sixteenth century and offers a fresh view of Hakluyt s milieu and the central concerns of the Elizabethan age Though he never traveled farther than Paris young Hakluyt spent much of the 1580s recording information about the western hemisphere and became an international authority on overseas exploration The book traces his rise to prominence as a source of information and inspiration for England s policy makers including the queen and his advocacy for colonies in Roanoke and Jamestown Hakluyt s thought was shaped by debates that stretched across Europe and his interests ranged just as widely encompassing such topics as peaceful coexistence with Native Americans the New World as a Protestant Holy Land and in his later life trade with the Spice Islands Art and its global histories Diana Newall,2017-07-07 The reader Art and its global histories represents an invaluable teaching tool offering content ranging from academic essays and excerpts new translations interviews with curators and artists to art criticism The introduction sets out the state of art history today as it undergoes the profound shift of a global turn Particular focus is given to British India which represents a shift from the usual attention paid to Orientalism and French art in this period The sources and debates on this topic have never before been brought together in a satisfactory way and this book will represent a particularly significant and valuable contribution for postgraduate and undergraduate art history teaching

Global Interactions in the Early Modern Age, 1400-1800 Charles H. Parker, 2010-06-23 Global Interactions in the Early Modern Age is an interdisciplinary introduction to cross cultural encounters in the early modern age 1400 1800 and their influences on the development of world societies In the aftermath of Mongol expansion across Eurasia the unprecedented rise of imperial states in the early modern period set in motion interactions between people from around the world These included new commercial networks large scale migration streams global biological exchanges and transfers of knowledge across oceans and continents These in turn wove together the major regions of the world In an age of extensive cultural political military and economic contact a host of individuals companies tribes states and empires were in competition Yet they also cooperated with one another leading ultimately to the integration of global space Othello (Second International Student Edition) (Norton Critical Editions) William Shakespeare, 2017 I wanted an edition of Othello that had the necessary footnotes background material and a good selection of recent critical articles that would be accessible to students and would spark class discussions This was it Deborah Montuori Shippensburg University This Norton Critical Edition includes The First Folio text 1623 An introduction explanatory footnotes note on the text and textual notes by Edward Pechter Fifteen illustrations Giraldi Cinthio's sixteenth century story in its entirety which Shakespeare used for both the plot and many details of Othello A generous selection of interpretive responses to Othello from its origins to the present day including new to the Second Edition those by Stanley Cavell and Lois Potter Edward Pechter's popular theatrical and critical overview of Othello has been significantly expanded An updated Selected Bibliography The Age of Exploration Britannica Educational Publishing, 2013-06-01 The Age of Exploration which spanned roughly from 1400 to 1550 was the first time in history that European powers eyeing new trade routes to the East or seeking to establish empires began actively looking far past their own borders to gain a better understanding of the world and its many resources The individuals who set out on behalf of the countries they represented came from a variety of backgrounds and included master navigators such as Christopher Columbus and Ferdinand Magellan the latter of whom was the first to circle the globe as well as the often ruthless conquistadors of the New World such as Francisco Pizarro and Hernan Cortes The exciting and sometimes tragic lives and journeys of these and many others as well as the battles for empire that arose are chronicled in this engaging volume
