Mother Brain Chelsea Conaboy, 2022-09-13 Health and science journalist Chelsea Conaboy explodes the concept of maternal instinct and tells a new story about what it means to become a parent Conaboy expected things to change with the birth of her child What she didn t expect was how different she would feel But she would soon discover what was behind this her changing brain Though Conaboy was prepared for the endless dirty diapers the sleepless nights and the joy of holding her newborn she did not anticipate this shift in self as deep as it was disorienting Mother Brain is a groundbreaking exploration of the parental brain that untangles insidious myths from complicated realities New parents undergo major structural and functional brain changes driven by hormones and the deluge of stimuli a baby provides These neurobiological changes help all parents birthing or otherwise adapt in those intense first days and prepare for a long period of learning how to meet their child s needs Pregnancy produces such significant changes in brain anatomy that researchers can easily sort those who have had one from those who haven t And all highly involved parents no matter their path to parenthood develop similar caregiving circuitry Yet this emerging science which provides key insights into the wide ranging experience of parenthood from its larger role in shaping human nature to the intensity of our individual emotions is mostly absent from the public conversation about parenthood The story that exists in the science today is far more meaningful than the idea that mothers spring into being by instinct Weaving the latest neuroscience and social psychology together with new reporting Conaboy reveals unexpected upsides generations of scientific neglect and a powerful new narrative of parenthood

Subject Guide to Books in Print, 2001 Breastfeeding and Media Katherine A. Foss, 2017-06-14 This book centers on the role of media in shaping public perceptions of breastfeeding Drawing from magazines doctors office materials parenting books television websites and other media outlets Katherine A Foss explores how historical and contemporary media often undermine breastfeeding efforts with formula marketing and narrow portrayals of nursing women and their experiences Foss argues that the media's messages play an integral role in setting the standard of public knowledge and attitudes toward breastfeeding as she traces shifting public perceptions of breastfeeding and their corresponding media constructions from the development of commercial formula through contemporary times This analysis demonstrates how attributions of blame have negatively impacted public health approaches to breastfeeding thus confronting the misperception that breastfeeding and the failure to breastfeed rests solely on the responsibility of an individual mother Resources in Education, 1994 A Guide to the Clinical Examination of the Blood for Diagnostic Purposes Richard Clarke Cabot, 1898 Public Health Reports
