Cultural Histories of the Material World Peter N. Miller, 2013-07-23 All across the humanities fields there is a new interest in materials and materiality This is the first book to capture and study the material turn in the humanities from all its varied perspectives Cultural Histories of the Material World brings together top scholars from all these different fields from Art History Anthropology Archaeology Classics Folklore History History of Science Literature Philosophy to offer their vision of what cultural history of the material world looks like and attempt to show how attention to materiality can contribute to a more precise historical understanding of specific times places ways and means The result is a spectacular kaleidoscope of future possibilities and new perspectives

Transcultural History Madeleine Herren, Martin Rüesch, Christiane Sibille, 2012-06-19 For the 21st century the often quoted citation past is prologue reads the other way around The global present lacks a historical narrative for the global past Focussing on a transcultural history this book questions the territoriality of historical concepts and offers a narrative which aims to overcome cultural essentialism by focussing on crossing borders of all kinds Transcultural History reflects critically on the way history is constructed asking who formed history in the past and who succeeded in shaping what we call the master narrative Although trained European historians the authors aim to present a useful approach to global history showing first of all how a Eurocentric but universal historiography removed or essentialised certain topics in Asian history As an empirical discipline history is based on source material analysed according to rules resulting from a strong methodological background This book accesses the global past after World War I looking at the well known stage of the Paris Peace Conferences observing the multiplication of new borders and the variety of transgressing institutions concepts actors men and women inventing themselves as global subjects but sharing a bitter experience with almost all local societies at this time namely the awareness of having relatives buried in far distant places due to globalised wars

An introduction to material culture The Open University, 2014-01-14 Why study things Or put another way what can we learn from objects that we can t find out from the reading of texts There s no simple answer to these questions but as we shall discover in the course of this e book there s no getting around the ubiquity of things This e book is an adapted extract from the Open University course Making sense of things an introduction to material culture A151 Law, Religion and Human Flourishing in Africa M. Christian Green,2019-05-15 A shared interest of law and religion is the advancement of human flourishing yet there is no common understanding of what it means for humans to flourish and the means by which to attain a flourishing life The concept of human flourishing is especially important for Africa where community and national development compete with forces of conflict and scarce resources In the broadest sense the concept of human flourishing focuses our attention on having a comprehensively good or worthwhile life but various religious and legal traditions suggest different norms for measuring the quality of life and designing the institutional structures that could best facilitate and preserve it Fundamentals of Qualitative Research Johnny Saldaña,2011-03-18 This book presents a concise yet rigorous description of how to design and conduct fieldwork projects and how to examine data in multiple ways for interpretive insight Salda a a master teacher and qualitative data analyst acquaints readers with the major genres of qualitative research available and the elements of interviewing participant observation and other data collection methods to inform emergent research design decisions An extended chapter on qualitative data analysis is one of the book s unique features Salda a devotes necessary coverage to conceptual foundations coding analytic memo writing thematic analysis assertion development grounded theory narrative and poetic inquiry and ethnodramatic approaches to the data Eight distinctive styles of qualitative writing are presented The book concludes with a list of recommended readings in the field as well as additional resources on organizations and associations dedicated to qualitative research Media and Communication Research Methods Arthur Asa Berger,2011 In this new edition Arthur Asa Berger employs his signature style a practical focus the use of numerous examples a step by step approach and humour to update and enhance this must have introductory text Combining both qualitative and quantitative research methods the book covers the topics thoroughly and is clearly written and engaging This book is ideal for beginning research students both at the graduate and undergraduate level because it is clear concise and accompanied by many detailed examples Think Like a Curator Donna R. Braden,2025-04-01 Most history museums large and small indoor and outdoor have a staff member with the title of curator or at minimum have tasks that can be classified as curator s work But understanding what is involved in doing this work is more complicated than it seems This book will help you to think like a curator Written by an author who has spent 45 years doing this type of work at one of the largest history museums in the country this book guides the reader through curatorial methodology in today s world with topics that include reading objects shaping collections engaging in rigorous research the curatorial role in exhibitions and historic site interpretation the basics of curatorial writing and curators as leaders It gives special focus to applying DEAI lenses as well as aligning with institutional mission and goals incorporating audience perspectives and using conceptual and systems thinking Both succinct and substantial this book includes easy explanations step by step process guides practical tips real life examples activities and source lists
