Undeclared Chris Higgins, 2024-05-14 An imaginative tour of the contemporary university as it could be a place to discover self knowledge meaning and purpose What if college were not just a means of acquiring credentials but a place to pursue our formation as whole persons striving to lead lives of meaning and purpose In Undeclared Chris Higgins confronts the contemporary university in a bid to reclaim a formative mission for higher education In a series of searching essays and pointed interludes Higgins challenges us to acknowledge how far our practices have drifted from our ideals asking What would it look like to build a college from the ground up to support self discovery and personal integration What does it mean to be a public university and are there any left How can the humanities help the jobified university begin to take vocation seriously Cutting through the underbrush of received ideas Higgins follows the insight where it leads clearing a path from the corporate multiversity to the renaissance in higher education that was Black Mountain College and back again Along the way we tour a campus bent on becoming a shopping mall accompany John Dewey through a midlife crisis and witness the first happening Through diverse and grounded philosophical engagements Undeclared assembles the resources to expand the contemporary educational imagination

40 Days of Dating Timothy Goodman, Jessica Walsh, 2015-01-20 What would happen if Harry met Sally in the age of Tinder and Snapchat A field guide to Millennial dating in New York City New York Daily News When New York based graphic designers and long time friends Timothy Goodman and Jessica Walsh found themselves single at the same time they decided to try an experiment The old adage says that it takes forty days to change a habit could the same be said for love So they agreed to date each other for forty days record their experiences in questionnaires photographs videos texts and artworks and post the material on a website they would create for this purpose What began as a small experiment between two friends became an Internet sensation drawing five million unique and obsessed visitors from around the globe to their site and their story 40 Days of Dating An Experiment is a beautifully designed expanded look at the experiment and the results including a great deal of material that never made it onto the site such as who they were as friends and individuals before the forty days and who they have become since Die Arbeit des of the human brain's mind is the place where one can find the reasons why human beings behave in such peculiar delightful and unpleasant ways. I, the author of this book, David Shrigley BA Hons shall take the reader on a journey around the human brain and along the way I shall point out various things that are worthy of discussion. We will start our journey in the eye as that is a common entrance place to the brain. I shall ruminate about the eye and its properties. I shall tell how the eye's seeing is sorted out in the brain and the magical nature of it and I shall warn of all the things that can go wrong in this sorting out process. After the eye we shall travel to the ear and discuss the world that is heard and how it is heard in the brain and all the awful things that can go wrong, some of them amusing and some not amusing. Taste and smell will of course be covered as these are also things of interest to the brain. We will also touch upon touch so to speak. We will also touch upon the scalp but only lightly and briefly. Once we have looked at the brain's government of the senses we shall start to talk about the really interesting stuff. Like how the brain decides what is right and wrong and why some people are very charming and others behave like monkeys. Some other questions that might be dealt with are as follows: Could my brain be removed and replaced with a computer? Why can't I remember my wife's name? I can constantly hear a faint whistling sound, is it the sound of my brain functioning?
