When Mothers Kill Interviews From Prison:

When Mothers Kill Michelle Oberman, Cheryl L. Meyer, 2008-06 Meyer and Oberman in their desire to better understand mothers who kill recount their interviews with women imprisoned for maternal filicide and reveal the collective themes that emerge from the women's individual accounts

When Mothers Kill Cheryl L. Meyer, Michelle Oberman, 2008-06-01 Winner of the 2008 Outstanding Book Award by the Academy of Criminal Justice Sciences Michelle Oberman and Cheryl L. Meyer don't write for news magazines or prime time investigative television shows but the stories they tell hold the same fascination When Mothers Kill is compelling In a clear direct fashion the authors recount what they have learned from interviewing women imprisoned for killing their children Readers will be shocked and outraged as much by the violence the women have endured in their own lives as by the violence they engaged in but they will also be informed and even enlightened Oberman and Meyer are leading authorities on their subject Their 2001 book Mothers Who Kill Their Children drew from hundreds of newspaper articles as well as from medical and social science journals to propose a comprehensive typology of maternal filicide In that same year driven by a desire to test their typology and to better understand child killing women not just as types but as individuals Oberman and Meyer began interviewing women who had been incarcerated for the crime After conducting lengthy face to face interviews with forty prison inmates they returned and selected eight women to speak with at even greater length This new book begins with these stories recounted in the matter of fact words of the inmates themselves There are collective themes that emerge from these individual accounts including histories of relentless interpersonal violence troubled relationships with parents particularly with mothers twisted notions of romantic love and deep conflicts about motherhood These themes structure the books overall narrative which also includes an insightful examination of the social and institutional systems that have failed these women Neither the mothers nor the authors offer these stories as excuses for these crimes

The Cultural and Economic Context of Maternal Infanticide Martha Smithey, 2018-11-23 This book examines the social economic and cultural conditions and stressors under which mothers commit infanticide and shows how these conditions affect the ability to meet societal and self perceived expectations of good mothering

Women Criminals Vickie Jensen, 2011-11-10 A unique two volume study that examines female crime and the women who commit it The two volume Women Criminals An Encyclopedia of People and Issues addresses both key topics and key figures in women's crime The first volume provides topical essays about areas critical to the understanding of female criminals such as the definition of women's crime explanations of women's criminality ethnic and age diversity in female criminals and responses of the criminal justice system The second volume comprises biographical entries profiling women who are obviously criminals such as Aileen Wuornos and Myra Hindley and also women who were victims of circumstance unjust laws or narrowly applied definitions of crime such as Rosa Parks Harriet Tubman and Sophie Scholl In addition to highlighting the breadth of women's criminality these portraits provide a holistic multifaceted understanding of the dynamics of women's crime and why it occurs connecting the individual stories to the larger social scientific perspectives Care has been taken to include the women's own voices and perspectives where possible and to address the intentions and reasoning of the system that responded to their criminality Behavioral Analysis of Maternal Filicide Joy Lynn E. Shelton, Tia A. Hoffer, Yvonne E. Muirhead, 2014-10-01 Maternal filicide has been discussed in the medical mental health and child abuse fields yet little research exists with a criminal justice law enforcement perspective Nevertheless criminal justice professionals responsible for investigation and prosecution of these offenders often must give attention to unique behavioral social and psychological dynamics not considered in many other types of cases The Federal Bureau of Investigation's FBI Behavioral Analysis Unit BAU III Crimes Against Children identified collected and reviewed law enforcement case files in which a biological mother killed her children Collectively the cases involve 213 biological mothers who killed 265 children and are comprised of neonaticide infanticide and filicide cases Data analysis revealed that the offenders ranged in age from 12-46 years and many were unmarried unemployed and had a history of violence Many of the victims were three years of age or younger did not live with their biological fathers at the time of their deaths and had a history of maltreatment most often perpetrated by their mothers In addition traditional weapons such as a firearm or knife were used less often compared to asphyxiants and blunt force instruments The authors explore the tenets of female violence the mother-child dynamic and mental disorders and address the complexities associated with investigating and prosecuting maternal filicide offenders

Giving Up Baby Laury Oaks, 2015-06-05 Baby safe haven laws which allow a parent to relinquish a newborn baby legally and anonymously at a specified institutional location such as a hospital or fire station were established in every state between 1999 and 2009 Promoted during a time of heated public debate over policies on abortion sex education teen pregnancy adoption welfare immigrant reproduction and child abuse safe haven laws were passed by the majority of states with little contest These laws were thought to offer a solution to the consequences of unwanted pregnancies mothers would no longer be burdened with children they could not care for and newborn babies would no longer be abandoned in dumpsters Yet while these laws are well meaning they inadequately address the social injustices that compel abandonment for the very small number of girls and women who abandon their newborns Advocates of safe haven laws target teenagers women of color and poor women in particular with safe haven information under the assumption that they cannot offer good homes for their children Laury Oaks argues that the labeling of certain kinds of women as potential bad mothers who should consider anonymously giving up their newborns for adoption into a loving home should best be understood as an issue of reproductive justice Safe haven discourses promote narrow images of who deserves to be a mother and reflect restrictive views on how we should treat women experiencing an unplanned pregnancy When Caregivers Kill Betty L. Alt, Sandra K. Wells, 2010-04-16 From mothers who kill their children in postpartum fugues to fathers who murder their kids for revenge against an estranged wife the stories in this book are chilling yet real and bring home the message that children are vulnerable to violence even in the care of those who should love and protect them the most Sadly child murder by parents and caregivers happens more frequently than one might guess and while each case is different there are often warning signs that something might be amiss Signs of physical abuse may precede the ultimate act of murder A mother s mental state after the birth of a child may signal true distress and the potential for extreme actions No one can predict with certainty when a parent or other caregiver may snap but here Alt and Wells examine many cases of child murder to find out what they have in common how we might prevent such violence and what more we can do to protect children in potentially explosive situations Advocating for Women with Postpartum Mental Illness Susan Benjamin Feingold, Barry M. Lewis, 2020-03-02 Advocating for Women with Postpartum Mental Illness takes the reader into the world of one of the most misunderstood mental illnesses Through this book Feingold and Lewis humanize the mother s experience and provide vital tools for mental health and legal professionals Complete with case studies and the authors experiences in changing the law in their own state of Illinois this book is a necessary resource for all Infanticide and Filicide Gina Wong, Ph.D., George Parnham, J.D., 2020-12-09 Maternal filicide the killing of a child by the mother is not a new phenomenon Evidence of mothers killing their infants dates back to at least 2000 B C E and the ancient Chaldean civilization The trial of Andrea Yates in 2001 for drowning her five children however captured the public attention in a way few similar cases had before Initially met with public shock and outrage the Yates case also spotlighted postpartum psychosis and maternal mental health forensics the intersection of maternal mental illness and the criminal justice system Coedited by George Parnham the attorney who successfully defended Yates this book includes his narrative account of how he first heard about and came to take on the case It also features real case examples from more than 30 experts in the field representing eight countries In addition the book includes a chapter on paternal filicide an important subject that receives far too little attention in the literature Firmly rooted in research thorough in its description of theory and packed with practical applications this volume highlights the necessary competency areas for those involved in maternal mental health forensics whether psychologists psychiatrists social workers or lawyers Violent Women in Contemporary Theatres Nancy Taylor Porter, 2017-12-14 This book brings together the fields of theatre gender studies and psychology sociology in order to explore the relationships between what happens when women engage in violence how the events and their reception intercept with cultural understandings of gender how plays thoughtfully depict this topic and how their productions impact audiences Truthful portrayals force consideration of both the startling reality of women s violence not how it s been sensationalized or demonized or sexualized but how it is and what parameters what possibilities should exist for its enactment in life and live theatre These women appear in a wide array of contexts they are mothers daughters lovers streetfighters boxers soldiers and dominatrixes Who they are and why they choose to use violence varies dramatically They stage resistance and challenge normative expectations for women This fascinating and balanced study will appeal to anyone interested in gender feminism issues and theatre Women and the Criminal Justice System Katherine Stuart van

Wormer, Clemens Bartollas, 2021-12-30 This book presents an up to date analysis of women as victims of crime as individuals under justice system supervision and as professionals in the field The text features an empowerment approach that is unified by underlying themes of the intersection of gender race and class and evidence based research Personal narratives supplement research and statistics to help students connect the text material with real life situations This new edition is informed by consideration of major ongoing social movements such as MeToo Black Lives Matter and the fight to reduce mass incarceration The text stresses contemporary topics such as recognition of lesbian bisexual and transgender issues in juvenile and adult facilities the introduction of trauma informed care in detention centers and prisons the criminalization of Black girls and women the effects of an increasingly militarized police culture and the contributions of Ruth Bader Ginsburg and other influential women With its emphasis on critical thinking this text is ideal for undergraduate courses concerning women in the justice system

Translating Maternal Violence Alessandro Castellini, 2017-02-28 This book provides the first full length English language investigation of the multiple and often contradictory ways in which mothers who kill their children were portrayed in 1970s Japan It offers a snapshot of a historical and social moment when motherhood was being renegotiated and maternal violence was disrupting norms of acceptable maternal behaviour Drawing on a wide range of original archival materials it explores three discursive sites where the image of the murderous mother assumed a distinctive visibility media coverage of cases of maternal filicide the rhetoric of a newly emerging women's liberation movement known as man ribu and fictional works by the Japanese writer Takahashi Takako Using translation as a theoretical tool to decentre the West as the origin of feminist theorizations of the maternal it enables a transnational dialogue for imagining mothers potential for violence This thought provoking work will appeal to scholars of feminist theory cultural studies and Japanese studies

Faith, Hope, and Love in the Kingdom of God Robert Hernan Cubillos, 2017-04-27 We live in a world full of challenges The three graces can almost be seen as motors for Christian life in today's world but the words faith hope and love have so many everyday uses that their technical theological meanings are for many difficult to appreciate Modern life also leaves many yearning for authenticity and meaning Many religions have answered that need by calling to mind the image of a path Always profound progressions religious paths tend to be motivated either by practices the act of walking the path or focal points Christianity has a focal point an object and it sees the three graces as distinctively content filled The heart of this book is about helping people find the Christian path and their intellectual emotional and spiritual balance an equilibrium that is sustained by a strong personal faith an enduring hope for the future and genuine love that will withstand the worst of times It contributes to the category of Christian literature that provides a pattern for Christian living without surrendering the intellect to the more popular side of this genre
