painting all signs of economic industry are erased and Ross's house is transformed into a home rather than the site of cottage industry. Ross is constructed as the perfect heroic mother worthy of sacred creation; thus our flag was born. Ross's transformation into an icon neatly illustrates the conjunction of soaring nationalism and the establishment of woman as a fixed domestic presence and serves as an excellent example of the master narratives revealed in Nostalgia, Gender and Nationalism. The essays in this provocative anthology explore the connections between nation and gender and the ways in which nostalgia functions to bind these two presumably unrelated constructions together. Collectively they suggest that women pay a special fee on behalf of the nation even though it is traditionally represented as an honorarium given to them and that in fact the nation-state takes as a foundational principle the subordination of women.

Narratives of Nostalgia, Gender and Nationalism Suzanne Kehde, Jean Pickering, 1996-12-20 Using texts ranging from the writings of Schlegel to the speeches of the fiftieth anniversary commemoration of D Day, these essays explore the ways in which nostalgia brokers the relations between the master narratives of gender and the master narratives of nationalism. Although such narratives seem to present nation as an unchanging essence, these essays all deal with texts that on analysis show nationalism in an evolving response to developments both political and cultural that destabilize the idea of nation.
