Dominant Impressions Gerald Lynch, Angela Robberson, 1999 Canadian critics and scholars along with a growing number from around the world have long recognized the achievements of Canadian short story writers However these critics have tended to view the Canadian short story as a historically recent phenomenon This reappraisal corrects this mistaken view by exploring the literary and cultural antecedents of the Canadian short story Published in English Literature as Sound Studies yasser elhariry, Liesl Yamaguchi, 2025-06-12 Literature as Sound Studies identifies literature as a site of sonic invention and reconfiguration contributing a range of terms models and methods for attending to sound Considering literary works drawn from a range of traditions from twentieth century Moroccan poems to early modern English plays Literature as Sound Studies brings out the sophisticated ways that literary writers and commentators have used and studied sound Moving beyond the use of literature as mere ear witness to history this collection brings out the complexity of sonic figuration in literature and literary studies suggesting how this attentiveness to sound might anticipate illuminate and enrich the contemporary field of sound studies The very category of the literary considered as a subset of language writ large has often hinged on the particular attention that literary works draw to their own sound whether that sound be psychologically rehearsed as in silent reading or acoustically realized as in a theatrical performance Weaving together methods and concepts drawn from both literary and sound studies these essays make legible literature s complex role in shaping and writing a history of sound

Varsity's Soldiers Eric McGeer,2019-08-22 The role of Canadian universities in selecting and training officers for the armed forces is an important yet overlooked chapter in the history of higher education in Canada For more than fifty years the University of Toronto supported the largest and most active contingent of the Canadian Officers Training Corps COTC which sent thousands of officer candidates into the regular and reserve forces Based on the rich fund of documents housed in the university archives Varsity s Soldiers offers the first full length history of military training in Toronto Beginning with the formation of a student rifle company in 1861 and focusing on the story of the COTC from 1914 to 1968 author Eric McGeer seeks to enlarge appreciation of the university s remarkable contribution to the defence of Canada the place of military education in an academic setting and the experience of the students who embodied the ideal of service to alma mater and to country

Bread Upon the Waters No good deed goes unpunished The Strands are a happy family though not without their financial struggles When their daughter helps a mugging victim by bringing him home he turns out to be a Wall Street lawyer whose gratitude is as boundless as his bank account But with each successive reward the Strand family moves farther away from the wealth of happiness they already possessed Short Stories Five Decades Shaw's prolific output of short stories appeared regularly in the pages of the New Yorker and Esquire for over half a century These sixty three stories include such iconic works as The Eighty Yard Run and The Girls in Their Summer Dresses The Troubled Air Five employees of Clement Archer's popular radio show are accused Communists He will have to fire them to keep his show on the air But it's not a simple choice whatever Archer decides he won't be able to keep his hands clean in Shaw's provocative classic about courage and morality at the height of McCarthyism China After Seven Years of War Hollington K. Tong, 2012-11-07

This classic book was written by Hollington K Tong whilst China was still in the clutches of war and contains an affective account of what life was like within the country at that time Extract The Chinese believe that all things under heaven work together for good An evil comes but will not long stay No matter how a story begins it has a happy ending During seven years of war the Chinese have suffered misery There have been broken homes and broken hearts There have been separations and dislocations There have been worries about food and about clothes and about innumerable things The war years are not the first in which the Chinese have suffered In their best times they were afflicted with poverty The majority of them are poor by birth On top of poverty there have been floods droughts civil wars each bringing untold suffering All these calamities soon passed The Chinese rose after each not only unbeaten but stronger through the discipline of hardships which down the centuries they have learned to endure and overcome The present war has brought the worst of the worst to the Chinese people Seven years is the longest that any evil has remained with them but it has not been long enough to wear out people who for thousands of years have suffered hardships and privations and have survived This long war will end as all other evils have ended and there will come a better day Until it comes the Chinese have the spirit to smile in the face of hardships and to carry on a spirit which has sustained them through the calamities of the seven years of this war as it sustained them through calamities of the past It is the spirit of her teeming millions of farmers from whom most of the five million men of China's army were drawn and from whose fields comes the food for the army It is the spirit of her laborers her mechanics and engineers who have built China's wartime railways highways water ways and other arteries of communication and who work in China's arsenals to keep the guns supplied with ammunition It is the spirit of China's women as well as her men The people of China despite the stress and strain of war have carried on They continue to make love to get married to give birth to babies and to support growing families on meager incomes Seven years is a long time during which many things can happen and many things have happened to Teng Chan
