The Anthropology of Childhood David F. Lancy, 2022-03-10 Enriched with findings from anthropological scholarship this book provides a guide to childhood in different cultures past and present

Learning Without Lessons David F. Lancy, 2024 In Learning Without Lessons David F Lancy offers the first attempt to review the principles and practices for fostering learning in children that are found in small scale pre industrial communities across the globe and through history His analysis yields a consistent and coherent pedagogy that can be contrasted sharply with the taken for granted pedagogy found in the West His analysis finds that teachers classrooms lessons verbal instruction testing grading praise and the use of symbols are rare or absent from indigenous pedagogy Instead field studies document the prevalence of self guided learners who rely on observation listening learning in play from peers the hands on use of real tools and learning through voluntary participation in everyday activities such as foraging

Animal Biography André Kriebler, Mieke Roscher, 2018-10-19 While historiography is dominated by attempts that try to standardize and de individualize the behavior of animals history proves to be littered with records of the exceptional lives of unusual animals This book introduces animal biography as an approach to the re framing of animals as both objects of knowledge as well as subjects of individual lives Taking an interdisciplinary perspective and bringing together scholars from among others literary historical and cultural studies the texts collected in this volume seek to refine animal biography as a research method and framework to studying capturing representing and acknowledging animal others as individuals From Heini Hediger s biting monitor Hachik and Murr to celluloid ape Caesar and the mourning of Topsy s gruesome death the authors discuss how animal biographies are discovered and explored through connections with humans that can be traced in archives ethological fieldwork and novels and probe the means of constructing animal biographies from taxidermy to film literature and social media Thus they invite deeper conversations with socio political and cultural contexts that allow animal biographies to provide narratives that reach beyond individual life stories while experimenting with particular forms of animal biographies that might trigger animal activism and concerns for animal well being spur historical interest and enrich the literary imagination

Anthropological Perspectives on Children as Helpers, Workers, Artisans, and Laborers David F. Lancy, 2017-12-12 The study of childhood in academia has been dominated by a mono cultural or WEIRD Western educated industrialized rich and democratic perspective Within the field of anthropology however a contrasting and more varied view is emerging While the phenomenon of children as workers is ephemeral in WEIRD society and in the literature on child development there is ample cross cultural and historical evidence of children making vital contributions to the family economy Children s labor is of great interest to researchers but widely treated as extra cultural an aberration that must be controlled Work as a central component in children s lives development and identity goes unappreciated

Anthropological Perspectives on Children as Helpers Workers Artisans and Laborers aims to rectify that omission by surveying and synthesizing a robust corpus of material with particular emphasis on two prominent themes the processes involved in learning to work and the interaction between ontogeny and children s roles as workers

Behavioural Diversity in Chimpanzees and Bonobos Christophe Boesch, Gottfried Hohmann, Linda Frances Marchant, 2002-08 Chimpanzees Pan troglodytes and bonobos Pan paniscus otherwise known as pygmy chimpanzees are the only two species of the genus Pan As they are our nearest relatives there has been much research devoted to investigating the similarities and differences between them This book offers an extensive review of the most recent observations to come from field studies on the diversity of Pan social behaviour with contributions from many of the world's leading experts in this field. A wide range of social behaviours is discussed including tool use, hunting, reproductive strategies and conflict management as well as demographic variables and ecological constraints. In addition to interspecies behavioural diversity, this text describes exciting new research into variations between different populations of the same species. Researchers and students working in the fields of primatology, anthropology and zoology will find this a fascinating read.

Envisioning a Better Future for Nonhuman Animals Doris Schneeberger, 2024-12-15 This book presents an ethical discussion of the possible future Universal Declarations of diverse specific nonhuman Animal Rights. It contributes to a basis for a discussion about nonhuman animal rights concerning diverse aspects and quality of nonhuman animal life. Doris Schneeberger deals with the interpretation and justification of animal rights and argues that because nonhuman animals are individuals whose lives are intrinsically and inherently valuable, their goods and welfare ought to be protected. She claims that these rights should be protected in possible morally advanced societies of the future.

Chimpanzee Culture Wars Nicolas Langlitz, 2020-09-08 The first ethnographic exploration of the contentious debate over whether nonhuman primates are capable of culture. In the 1950s, Japanese zoologists took note when a number of macaques invented and passed on new food washing behaviors within their troop. The discovery opened the door to a startling question: Could animals other than humans share social knowledge and thus possess culture? The subsequent debate has rocked the scientific world, pitting cultural anthropologists against evolutionary anthropologists, field biologists against experimental psychologists, and scholars from Asia against their colleagues in Europe and North America. In Chimpanzee Culture Wars, the first ethnographic account of the battle, anthropologist Nicolas Langlitz presents first-hand observations gleaned from months spent among primatologists on different sides of the controversy. Langlitz travels across continents from field stations in the Ivory Coast and Guinea to laboratories in Germany and Japan. As he compares the methods and arguments of the different researchers he meets, he also considers the plight of cultural primatologists as they seek to document chimpanzee cultural diversity during the Anthropocene, an era in which human culture is remaking the planet. How should we understand the chimpanzee culture wars in light of human-caused mass extinctions? Capturing the historical, anthropological, and philosophical nuances of the debate, Chimpanzee Culture Wars takes us on an exhilarating journey into high-tech laboratories and breathtaking wilderness, all in pursuit of an answer to the question of the human-animal divide.

War! What Is It Good For? Ian Morris, 2014-04-15 Introduction: Friend to the undertaker. The wasteland, war, and peace in ancient Rome. The barbarians strike back: the counterproductive way of war. A.D. 1415: The five hundred years war. Europe almost conquers the world. 1415-1914: Storm of steel: the war for Europe. 1914-1980s: Red in tooth and claw: why the chimps of Gombe went to war. Waller, 2020-09-04 Free Will, Moral Responsibility, and the Desire to Be a God explores the hidden corridors of the moral responsibility system to discover why that system is so widely accepted and passionately defended The moral responsibility system has obvious charms it provides justification for our powerful strike back motives transforms selfishness into the virtuous defense of our justly deserved special benefits draws a radical distinction between humans and the other species we exploit and protects our nonconscious belief in a just world Those charms notwithstanding the resilience and endurance of the moral responsibility system indicates a hidden force that not only binds together the pieces of the system but also motivates our stubborn devotion to that system That hidden force is a nonconscious desire to be a god a desire that afflicts both believers and atheists and that is almost universally denied Nietzsche being a special exception That desire can be found throughout the history of philosophy from Aristotle to the present It is also manifested in myths and a variety of religious practices and teachings The breadth power and harm of nonconscious apotheosis aspiration is the focus of this study
