Wings For Our Courage Gender Erudition And Republican Thought Flashpoints:

Wings for Our Courage Stephanie H. Jed, 2011 Polymorphous Domesticities Juliana Schiesari, 2012-03-06

Polymorphous Domesticities maps out the play of gender sexuality and alternative forms of domesticity in the works of four modern European and American writers Edith Wharton Djuna Barnes Colette and J R Ackerley What these four writers have in common is a defiance of patriarchal paradigms in their lives as well as in their works Not only did they live outside the norms of the heterosexual family unit they also pursued and wrote about alternative lifestyles that prominently involved animals Through close readings from a feminist perspective Juliana Schiesari reconfigures the ways in which interspecies relationships inflect domestic spheres reading the Other through the lens of gender home and family As she explores how domestic life is refigured by the presence of animals Schiesari challenges anthropocentric frames of reference and brings the very definition of human into question Fiction Beyond Secularism Justin Neuman, 2014-07-31 Modernist thinkers once presumed a progressive secularity with the novel replacing religious texts as society's moral epics Yet religion beginning with the Iranian revolution of 1979 through the collapse of communism and culminating in the singular rupture of September 11 2001 has not retreated quietly out of sight In Fiction Beyond Secularism Justin Neuman argues that contemporary novelists who are most commonly identified as antireligious among them Orhan Pamuk Salman Rushdie Ian McEwan Margaret Atwood Nadine Gordimer Haruki Murakami and J M Coetzee have defied assumptions and have instead written some of the most trenchant critiques of secular ideologies as well as the most exciting and rigorous inquiries into the legacies of the religious imagination As a result many readers or nonreaders on either side of the religious divide neglect the insights of works like The Satanic Verses Disgrace and Snow Fiction Beyond Secularism serves as a timely corrective Figurative Inquisitions Erin Graff Zivin, 2013-01-31 Winner 2015 LAJSA Best Book in Latin American Jewish Studies The practices of interrogation torture and confession have resurfaced in public debates since the early 2000s following human rights abuses around the globe Yet discussion of torture has remained restricted to three principal fields the legal the pragmatic and the moral eclipsing the less immediate but vital question of what torture does Figurative Inquisitions seeks to correct this lacuna by approaching the question of torture from a literary vantage point This book investigates the uncanny presence of the Inquisition and marranismo crypto Judaism in modern literature theater and film from Mexico Brazil and Portugal Through a critique of fictional scenes of interrogation it underscores the vital role of the literary in deconstructing the relation between torture and truth Figurative Inquisitions traces the contours of a relationship among aesthetics ethics and politics in an account of the Inquisitional logic that continues to haunt contemporary political forms In so doing the book offers a unique humanistic perspective on current torture debates Cosmopolitan Desires Mariano Siskind, 2014-04-30 Mariano Siskind's groundbreaking debut book redefines the scope of world literature particularly regarding the place of Latin America in its imaginaries and mappings In Siskind's formulation world literature is a modernizing discursive strategy a way in which cultures negotiate their aspirations to participate in global networks of cultural exchange and an original tool to reorganize literary history Working with novels poems essays travel narratives and historical documents Siskind reads the way Latin American literary modernity was produced as a global relation from the rise of planetary novels in the 1870s and the cosmopolitan imaginaries of modernism at the turn of the twentieth century to the global spread of magical realism With its unusual breadth of reference and firm but unobtrusive grounding in philosophy literary theory and psychoanalysis

Cosmopolitan Desires will have a major impact in the fields of Latin American studies and comparative literature The Fear of French Negroes Sara E. Johnson, 2012-10-10 The Fear of French Negroes is an interdisciplinary study that explores how people of African descent responded to the collapse and reconsolidation of colonial life in the aftermath of the Haitian Revolution 1791 1845 Using visual culture popular music and dance periodical literature historical memoirs and state papers Sara E Johnson examines the migration of people ideas and practices across imperial boundaries Building on previous scholarship on black internationalism she traces expressions of both aesthetic and experiential transcolonial black politics across the Caribbean world including Hispaniola Louisiana and the Gulf South Jamaica and Cuba Johnson examines the lives and work of figures as diverse as armed black soldiers and privateers female performers and newspaper editors to argue for the existence of competing inter Americanisms as she uncovers the struggle for unity amidst the realities of class territorial and linguistic diversity These stories move beyond a consideration of the well documented anxiety insurgent blacks occasioned in slaveholding systems to refocus attention on the wide variety of strategic alliances they generated in their quests for freedom equality and profit Flesh and Fish Blood S. Shankar, 2012-07-02 In Flesh and Fish Blood Subramanian

Shankar breaks new ground in postcolonial studies by exploring the rich potential of vernacular literary expressions Shankar pushes beyond the postcolonial Anglophone canon and works with Indian literature and film in English Tamil and Hindi to present one of the first extended explorations of representations of caste including a critical consideration of Tamil Dalit so called untouchable literature Shankar shows how these vernacular materials are often unexpectedly politically progressive and feminist and provides insight on these oft overlooked but nonetheless sophisticated South Asian cultural spaces With its calls for renewed attention to translation issues and comparative methods in uncovering disregarded aspects of postcolonial societies and provocative remarks on humanism and cosmopolitanism Flesh and Fish Blood opens up new horizons of theoretical possibility for postcolonial studies and cultural analysis English Heart, Hindi Heartland Rashmi

Sadana, 2012-02-02 English Heart Hindi Heartland examines Delhi's postcolonial literary world its institutions prizes publishers writers and translators and the cultural geographies of key neighborhoods in light of colonial histories and the globalization of English Rashmi Sadana places internationally recognized authors such as Salman Rushdie Anita Desai Vikram Seth and Aravind Adiga in the context of debates within India about the politics of language and alongside other writers including K Satchidanandan Shashi Deshpande and Geetanjali Shree Sadana undertakes an ethnographic study of literary culture that probes the connections between place language and text in order to show what language comes to stand for in people's lives. In so doing she unmasks a social discourse rife with questions of authenticity and cultural politics of inclusion and exclusion. English Heart Hindi Heartland illustrates how the notion of what is considered to be culturally and linguistically authentic not only obscures larger questions relating to caste, religious and gender identities but that the authenticity discourse itself is continually in flux. In order to mediate and extract cultural capital from India's complex linguistic hierarchies, literary practitioners strategically deploy a fluid set of cultural and political distinctions that Sadana calls literary nationality. Sadana argues that English and the way it is positioned among the other Indian languages does not represent a fixed pole but rather serves to change political and literary alliances among classes and castes often in surprising ways.
