The World's Greatest Books, Vol. 14 Arthur Mee,2016-10-20 Excerpt from The World's Greatest Books Vol 14 Philosophy Continued Economics The glory of the Oriental conception is the one individual as the substantial being to which all belongs so that no other individual has a separate existence or mirrors himself in his subjective freedom All the riches of imagination and nature are appropriated to that dominant existence in which subjective freedom is essentially merged the latter looks for its dignity not in itself but in the absolute Object All the elements of a complete state even subjectivity may be found there but not yet harmonised with the grand substantial being For outside the one power before which nothing can maintain an independent existence there is only revolting caprice which beyond the limits Of the central power moves at will without purpose or result Accordingly we find the wild herds breaking out from the upland falling upon the countries in question and laying them waste or settling down in them and giving up their wild life but in all cases lost resultlessly in the central substance This phase of substantiality since it has not taken up its antithesis into itself and overcome it directly divides itself into two elements On the one Side we see duration stability empires belonging as it were to mere Space as distinguished from Time unhistorical history as for example in China the state based on the family relation Yet the states in question without undergoing any Change in themselves or in the principle of their existence are constantly changing their opinion towards each other They are in ceaseless conflict which brings on rapid destruction The opposing principle of individuality enters into these conflicting relations but it is itself as yet only unconscious merely natural universality light which is not yet the light of the personal soul This history too is for the most part really unhistorical for it is only the repetition of the same majestic ruin About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works

Sourcebook of Family Theories and Methods Pauline Boss, William J. Doherty, Ralph LaRossa, Walter R. Schumm, Suzanne K. Steinmetz, 2008-11-19 Origins We call this book on theoretical orientations and methodological strategies in family studies a sourcebook because it details the social and personal roots i.e. sources from which these orientations and strategies flow Thus an appropriate way to preface this book is to talk first of its roots its beginnings In the mid 1980s there emerged in some quarters the sense that it was time for family studies to take stock of itself A goal was thus set to write a book that like Janus would face both backward and forward a book that would give readers both a perspective on the past and a map for the future There were precedents for such a project The Handbook of Marriage and the Family edited by Harold Christensen and published in 1964 the two Contemporary Theories about the Family volumes edited by Wesley Burr Reuben Hill F Ivan Nye and Ira Reiss published in 1979 and the Handbook of Marriage and the Family edited by Marvin Sussman and Suzanne Steinmetz then in production
