In and Out of Africa Joanna Boampong, 2012-11-30 New areas of intellectual endeavours including postcolonial transatlantic global and cultural studies have facilitated conversations that cut across traditional academic boundaries. Indeed, aside from precipitating more stimulating intellectual dialogues, the advent of multi-disciplinarity has also enabled literary and cultural theorists, critics, students and teachers to connect and to integrate diverse academic disciplines and schools of thought in the pursuit of a common task. Of the many areas that have benefited from this trend, it is perhaps in the realm of Afro-Hispanic, Luso-Brazilian and Latin American studies that one notices a vibrant conversation that deals with the deep historical, social, economic and political bonds that have connected and still connect Africa to the Hispanic and Luso-Brazilian worlds. As these bonds acquire profound meanings in the late 20th and early 21st centuries, scholars from diverse academic backgrounds find new ways to explore these connections. It is in the spirit of this endeavour that the creative artists, scholars of cultural and literary theory and critics whose works are presented in this anthology attempt to examine wide-ranging themes from colonization, slavery, imperialism, religion, music and literature. Most of the essays in this collection address long-standing issues related to identity, construction, linguistic legacies, religious and cultural beliefs and practices. Others confront questions of migration and immigration, configurations of female agency and Hispanic pedagogy in Africa and elsewhere. What makes this volume unique and interesting is not only the idea of exploring, examining and thinking the old in new ways and the new in old ways, but also advancing the conversation of the relationship between Africa and the Afro-Hispanic, Luso-Brazilian and Latin American worlds through different intellectual and artistic prisms.

An International Handbook of Tourism Education David Airey, John Tribe, 2006-08-11 As tourism matures as an academic subject and the number of tourism higher education providers continues to expand world-wide, there is an increasing interest in its educational aspects. At the same time, the development of research into education issues related to tourism means that there is now a developing literature on the subject. This international handbook offers a timely evaluation of the state of the art of tourism higher education. The book brings together expert contributors from around the world to present current thinking and practice about what is now a major element of education provision world-wide. It is structured around four key themes: Curriculum, International perspective, Teaching, learning and assessment, Resources, progression and quality. Its global survey of tourism education offers a comprehensive basis for comparative review. In addition to setting out the development and current provision of tourism education, it also addresses cutting-edge issues such as PhD education, non-formal education, cultural issues in learning, research and teaching, e-learning and e-assessment. It offers practical advice for the design, delivery, evaluation and resourcing of courses and concludes with a reflective agenda of issues for the future.
