Meet Me at the Olive Tree Julia Fisher, 2012-11-20 Based on The Olive Tree series of radio programmes the individual stories of Jewish believers and Arab Palestinian Christians featured in this book present the reader with a dilemma how to reconcile what is broadcast through the news channels with what God is doing in Israel and the West Bank today Here you will read how the Body of Christ which includes both Jews and non Jews Arabs Palestinians is growing in size and unity in the Holy Land today despite the politics and conflict that divide these two peoples Reconciliation in the Middle East is fraught with danger and seemingly impossible challenges However reconciliation is possible through the Cross no matter how powerful the childhood indoctrination or how great the social pressure This inspirational heart warming volume is a must for all who champion reconciliation in our Messiah Susan Perlman Jews for

Jesus Mirrors Fei Guanghai,2011-10-06 This book contains articles written by Fei Guanghai Vivi while on a Chinese Scholarship to Southern Cross University Coffs Harbour in Australia It is an academic book written in a genre that shows Australian cross culture differences in a popularized humorous and relaxed way This format makes it easier for readers whose main language is not English to experience cultural gaps at emotional as well as cognitive levels For English speakers the book draws stark contrasts that evoke laughter and in some cases anguish as it becomes obvious how cultural differences affect the lives of visitors to Australia Chinese Mythology Michael V. Uschan,2014-05-09 Readers are introduced to the elaborate mythology of ancient China This book provides detailed discussion of the mythology s importance to its own culture and the impact it had on subsequent cultures The numerous deities worshipped by the ancient Chinese are described and their importance to different groups and in different regions within the empire are explained Stories are retold along with explanation of how they reflect the values and concerns of Chinese culture Cultural Journeys Pamela S. Gates,Dianne L. Hall Mark,2010-08-16 As multicultural education is becoming integral to the core curriculum teachers often implement this aspect into their courses through literature However standards and criteria to teach and promote active discussion about this literature are sparse Cultural Journeys introduces pre service and experienced teachers to the use of literature to promote active discussions that lead students to think about racial diversity More than just an annotated list of books for children Pamela S Gates and Dianne L Hall Mark provide systematic guidelines that teachers can use throughout their careers to evaluate multicultural literature for students in grades K 8 At the same time the text leads the reader to a deeper understanding of how to use multicultural literature throughout the entire curriculum and not just during specially designated months or time periods With the example unit plans and extensive annotated bibliography this book is a valuable resource that pre service teachers will utilize when they begin teaching and in service teachers will reference repeatedly during their planning periods The Experiment at Philadelphia Kurt B. T. C. Werner,2020-12-17 Chinese Mythology presents a detailed and thorough study of China and its history through folklore tales and mythology It contains numerous myths folk tales and legends about gods animals dragons from the Fox legends to the Monkey tales including some obscure folklore Written from a sociological point of view it reveals a western look at Chinese history and their myths and legends Selected Works on China Various Authors, Let me state at the outset that I know no Chinese My duty in Mrs Ayscough's and my joint collaboration has been to turn her literal translations into poems as near to the spirit of the originals as it was in my power to do It has been a long and arduous task but one which has amply repaid every hour spent upon it To be suddenly introduced to a new and magnificent literature not through the medium of the usual more or less accurate translation but directly as one might burrow it out for one's self with the aid of a dictionary is an exciting and inspiring thing The method we adopted made this possible as I shall attempt to show The study of Chinese is so difficult that it is a life work in itself so is the study of poetry A sinologue has no time to learn how to write poetry a poet has no time to learn how to read Chinese Since neither of us pretended to any knowledge of the other's craft our association has been a continually augmenting pleasure I was lucky indeed to approach Chinese poetry through such a medium The translations I had previously read had given me nothing Mrs Ayscough has been to me the pathway to a new world No one could be a more sympathetic go-between for a poet and his translator and Mrs Ayscough was well fitted for her task She was born in Shanghai Her father who was engaged in business there was a Canadian and her mother an American She lived in China until she was eleven when her parents returned to America in order that their children might finish their education in this country It was then that I met her so that our friendship is no new thing but has persisted in spite of distance for more than thirty years to ripen in the end into a partnership which is its culmination Returning to China in her early twenties she became engaged to an Englishman connected with a large British importing house in Shanghai and on her marriage which took place almost immediately went back to China where she has lived ever since A diligent student of Chinese life and manners she soon took up the difficult study of literary Chinese and also accepted the position of honorary librarian of the library of the North China Branch of the Royal Asiatic Society Of late years she has delivered a number of lectures on Chinese subjects in China Japan America and Canada and has also found time to write various pamphlets on Chinese literature and customs In the Autumn of 1917 Mrs Ayscough arrived in America on one of her periodic visits to this country She brought with her a large collection of Chinese paintings for exhibition and among these paintings were a number of examples of the Written Pictures Of these she had made some rough translations which she intended to use to illustrate her lectures She brought them to me with a request that I put them into poetic shape I was fascinated by the poems and as we talked them over we realized that here was a field in which we should like to work When she returned to China it was agreed that we should make a volume of translations from the classic Chinese writers Such translations were in the line of her usual work and I was anxious to read the Chinese poets as nearly in the original as it was possible for me to do At first we hardly considered publication Mrs Ayscough lives in Shanghai and I in Boston and the war time mails were anything but expeditious but an enthusiastic publisher kept constantly before us our ultimate if remote goal Four years have passed and after many unavoidable delays the book is finished We have not done it all by correspondence Mrs Ayscough has come back to America several times during its preparation but whether together or apart the plan on which we have worked has always been the same Very early in our studies we realized that the component parts of the Chinese written character counted for more in the composition of poetry than has generally been recognized that the poet chose one character rather than another which meant practically the same thing because of the descriptive allusion in the make up of that particular character that the poem was enriched precisely through this undercurrent of meaning in the structure of its characters But not always and here was the difficulty Usually the character must be taken merely as the word it had been created to mean It was a nice distinction when to allow one's self the use of these character undercurrents and when to leave them out of count entirely But I would not have my readers suppose that I have changed or exaggerated the Chinese text Such has not been the case The analysis of characters has been employed very rarely and only when the text seemed to lean on the allusion for an added vividness or zest In only one case in the book have I permitted myself to use an adjective not inherent in the character with which I was dealing and in that case the connotation was in the word itself being descriptive of an architectural structure for which we have no equivalent except in the Written Pictures where as Mrs Ayscough has stated in her Introduction we allowed ourselves a somewhat freer treatment It has been necessary of course to acquire some knowledge of the laws of Chinese versification But equally of course these rules could only serve to bring me into closer relations with the poems and the technical limits of the various forms It was totally impossible to follow either the rhythms or the rhyme schemes of the originals All that could be done was to let the English words fall into their natural rhythm and not attempt to handicap the exact word by introducing rhyme at all This is the method I followed in my translations of French poems in my book Six French Poets I hold that it is more important to reproduce the perfume of a poem than its metrical form and no translation

Pourchot, 2011-09-29 In the Midwest of the 1980s being a Jewish girl meant trying to resolve your accidental love of ham with your desire to follow the rules and be a good kid I Look Better in Binary tells the tales of writer Becky Pourchot's adventures through puberty with poignancy and side splitting humor In a series of engaging stories a picture unfolds of a thoughtful creative funny and slightly neurotic girl who's learning her way through the world one embarrassing experience at a time It's the unique but also familiar story of growing up facing fears and in the process discovering who we really are Cultivating Charismatic Power Tiffany Cone, 2018-05-08 Islam and China are topics of relevance and contention in today's economic political and religious climate In this work Tiffany Cone makes an important contribution to these contemporary discourses through an ethnographic case study of Islamic leadership and the cultivation of charismatic power by Sufi disciples at a shrine site in Northwest China Though this volume focuses on a specific religious community it carries valuable insights into religious unity syncretism and religious legitimacy materialism and religious integrity and the stability of religious institutions in light of rapid economic growth Cultivating Charismatic Power speaks to global concerns about the rise of a militant Islam and an increasingly aggressive Chinese State As such it will appeal to scholars and practitioners across a range of fields including anthropology philosophy religious studies Islamic Studies and Chinese Studies The
