Opportunities and Constraints of Community Language Teaching Sjaak Kroon, 1992 This book presents the results of a case study that as part of the European Communities Comparative Evaluation Project was conducted on the EC Pilot Project Community Languages in the Secondary Curriculum carried out in London Birmingham and Nottingham The case study consists of a document analysis interviews with some of the project's key persons observations in community language classrooms and a mail survey among community language teachers The book strongly argues for giving minority languages a more stable place in the curriculum

Gohar ABC of Computers 3, Culture Wars in British Literature Tracy J. Prince, 2012-09-21 The past century's culture wars that Britain has been consumed by but that few North Americans seem aware of have resulted in revised notions of Britishness and British literature Yet literary anthologies remain anchored to an archaic Anglo-English interpretation of British literature Conflicts have been played out over specific national vs British identity some residents prefer to describe themselves as being from Scotland England Wales or Northern Ireland instead of Britain in debates over immigration race ethnicity class and gender and in arguments over British literature These debates are strikingly detailed in such chapters as The Difficulty Defining Black British British Jewish Writers and Xenophobia and the Booker Prize Connections are also drawn between civil rights movements in the U.S. and UK This generalist cultural study is a lively read and a fascinating glimpse into Britain's changing identity as reflected in 20th and 21st century British literature

Islam, Culture and Women in Asia Firdous Azim, 2013-10-18 An examination of the place of religion especially Islam in political and cultural life took on a special urgency after the events of 9/11 The essays in this volume concentrate on the way that Islam impacts on the everyday lives of people who reside in societies where Islam plays a large part The relationship between Islam and women has always been seen as problematic and by highlighting women's negotiations with this religion this volume seeks to understand the many and various strategies and connections that are made and their political and cultural ramifications By keeping an Asian focus the authors also seek to understand the wide panorama that Islamic societies inhabit and the manifold political and cultural expressions that ensue from this The effort is not only to break the image of a monolithic structure and set of beliefs but also to highlight on the ground negotiations and the ways that women in particular find spaces within Islamic structures and discourses This book was originally published as a special issue of Inter Asia Cultural Studies
