

Narrative Story

In the heart of the sprawling concrete jungle of New York City, where towering skyscrapers kissed the sky and bustling streets hummed with unending activity, there stood a forgotten sentinel of the past – an old, rusty lamppost named Leonard. Unlike his newer, shinier counterparts, Leonard bore the scars of time. His once vibrant green paint was now peeling away in large flakes, revealing raw, weathered metal beneath. His light, unlike the steady glow of others, flickered intermittently, casting an uneven, dancing glow on the frost-kissed sidewalk below. Amidst the vibrant city life, Leonard was a silent observer, often overlooked, but he possessed a spirit unique to him and a tale that was yet to unfold.

On a particularly harsh winter evening, when the biting cold gnawed at every corner and frost clung tenaciously onto every surface, Leonard noticed a small, shivering stray puppy huddled under his feeble light. The puppy's fur was matted with grime, its eyes wide and reflecting the harsh realities of street life. Witnessing the helpless creature's plight, Leonard felt a surge of empathy and determination. Gathering all his strength, he burned brighter, straining against his old wiring, casting a halo of warmth around the tiny, trembling body of the puppy.

The night wore on, faceless people bundled in heavy coats passing by, oblivious to the small drama unfolding under Leonard. Until Lily arrived. Lily, a nine-year-old with sparkling blue eyes that mirrored the innocence of childhood and a heart so big, it was brimming with compassion. Drawn in by Leonard's unusually bright light, a beacon in the cold winter night, she discovered the tiny, quivering form of the puppy underneath.

"Oh, you poor thing!" She exclaimed, her voice breaking the silence of the night as she gently stroked the puppy, her small hands providing comfort. Looking up at Leonard, she whispered a heartfelt, "Thank you, Leonard." Leonard responded by flickering twice, his light dancing like a flame, casting long, playful shadows on the snow-covered pavement.

Translation of Thought to Written Text While Composing Michel Fayol, Denis Alamargot, Virginia Wise

Berninger, 2012 Translation of cognitive representations into written language is one of the most important processes in writing. This volume provides a long awaited updated overview of the field. The contributors discuss each of the commonly used research methods for studying translation, theorize about the nature of the cognitive and language representations and cognitive linguistic transformation mechanisms involved in translation during writing, and make the case that translation is a higher order executive function that is fundamental to the writing process. The book also reviews the application of research to practice that is the translation of the research findings in education and the work world for individuals who interact with others using written language to communicate ideas. This volume provides a rich resource for student theorists and empirical researchers in cognitive psychology, linguistics, and education, and teachers and clinicians who can use the research in their work.
