Yellow Ware The Transitional Ceramic:

Yellow Ware Joan Leibowitz,1985 Yellow Ware Joan Leibowitz,1985 Rockingham Ware in American Culture, 1830-1930 Jane Perkins Claney,2004 A groundbreaking case study that links social and cultural interpretation with descriptive classification and historical context Mocha and Related Dipped Wares, 1770-1939 Jonathan Rickard,2006 An authoritative guide to the history and craft of this rare and much sought after ceramic ware Ceramic Makers' Marks Erica Gibson,2016-06-16 Erica Gibson s comprehensive guide provides a much needed catalogue of ceramic makers marks of British French German and American origin found in North American archaeological sites Consisting of nearly 350 marks from 112 different manufacturers from the mid 19th through early 20th century this catalog provides full information on both the history of the mark and its variants as well as details about the manufacturer A set of indexes allow for searches by manufacturer location mark elements and common words used This guide will be of interest not only to historical archaeologists but material culture specialists collectors museum professionals students art historians and others interested in ceramics Collecting Yellow Ware Lisa S. McAllister,John L. Michel,1993 Amazing Ware Made in the East Liverpool Pottery District William Gray,Donna Gray,2022-06-10 Amazing Ware Made in the East Liverpool Pottery District By William and Donna Gray Archeology at the Petersen House Matthew R. Virta,1991 Portici Kathleen A. Parker,Jacqueline L. Hernigle,1990 Manassas National Battlefield Park s General Management Plan 1983 named the Wheeler Tract as the site for the relocation of the picnic area and its attendant facilities The area chosen for this relocation had been previously identified as the site of the late eighteenth to early nineteenth century complex known as Portici An archeological study of the proposed relocation area was required pursuant to planning and development Nineteenth century Portici evolved from a small tenant occupied farmstead established during the eighteenth century This tenant farm grew into a middling tobacco plantation called Pohoke Later the eighteenth century dwelling was abandoned when Portici mansion house was constructed in circa 1820 Portici plantation became a flourishing middling multiple grain based plantation by the eve of the American Civil War Archeological and archival work was conducted to document and assess the eligibility of Pohoke Portici and the Lewis house for nomination to the National Register of Historic Places Collectively these three sites with all their ancillary sites on the Wheeler tract graphically depict the evolution of local lifeways and patterns of development in a frontier Piedmont plantation Abstract page vii Belvoir Julie M. Schablitsky,2025-10-15 This work of historical archaeology focuses on the story of the Belvoir Quarter for enslaved workers at Belvoir a 1730 s Maryland manor and plantation owned by descendants of Francis Scott Key Julie M Schablitsky excavated the brick and stone Belvoir Quarter and found architectural features with layers of artifacts spanning more than eighty years of habitation Belvoir takes the discovery of the quarter along with its material culture such as sherds buttons tobacco pipe stems food remains and spiritual items and discusses the finds in the context of other similar sites of enslavement Most importantly Schablitsky encourages readers to consider how these objects were used by enslaved people to survive resist and preserve their humanity In addition as a critical part of her work she consulted with and included descendants of the enslaved individuals at Belvoir asking them what they wanted to know about their family histories in an effort to help them heal This book serves as a model of archaeological research at a site of enslavement that privileges restorative justice Provided by publisher Journal of Early Southern Decorative Arts ,1995 Ceramic Industries of Medieval Nubia William Yewdale Adams,1986-01-01 Broken Chains and Subverted Plans Christopher C. Fennell,2016-12-15 Using two case studies in the Virginia back country and the Midwestern frontier in Illinois Fennell argues that individuals and their families were able to affect economic development and the plans of government and wealthy elites Provided by publisher Warman's Country Antiques and Collectibles Dana Gehman Morykan,Harry L. Rinker,1994 Collectors are getting back to their country roots to collect the items that their grandparents and great grandparents used daily This book features listings photos and current values on country stoneware kitchen items folk art furniture glass lighting textiles wood and metal items Symbols in Clay Steven A. LeBlanc,Lucia R. Henderson,2009-05-15 In late prehistory the ancestors of the present day Hopi in Arizona created a unique and spectacular painted pottery tradition referred to as Hopi Yellow Ware This ceramic tradition which includes Sikyatki Polychrome pottery inspired Hopi potter Nampeyo s revival pottery at the turn of the twentieth century How did such a unique and unprecedented painting style develop The authors compiled a corpus of almost 2 000 images of Hopi Yellow Ware bowls from the Peabody Museum s collection and other museums Focusing their work on the exterior glyphlike painted designs of these bowls they found that the glyphs could be placed into sets and apparently acted as a kind of signature The authors argue that part time specialists were engaged in making this pottery and that relatively few households manufactured Hopi Yellow Ware during the more than 300 years of its production Extending the Peabody s influential Awatovi project of the 1930s Symbols in Clay calls into question deep seated assumptions about pottery production and specialization in the precontact American Southwest Ceramics in America ,2003 French Prairie Ceramics Judith Sanders Chapman,1993 The Protohistoric Pueblo World, A.D. 1275-1600 E. Charles Adams,Andrew I. Duff,2016-04 In the centuries before the arrival of Europeans the Pueblo world underwent nearly continuous reorganization Populations moved from Chaco Canyon and the great centers of the Mesa Verde region to areas along the Rio Grande the Little Colorado River and the Mogollon Rim where they began constructing larger and differently organized villages many with more than 500 rooms Villages also tended to occur in clusters that have been interpreted in a number of different ways This book describes and interprets this period of southwestern history immediately before and after initial European contact A D 1275 1600 a span of time during which Pueblo peoples and culture were dramatically transformed It summarizes one hundred years of research and archaeological data for the Pueblo IV period as it explores the nature of the organization of village clusters and what they meant in behavioral and political terms Twelve of the chapters individually examine the northern and eastern portions of the Southwest and the groups who settled there during the protohistoric period The authors develop histories for settlement clusters that offer insights into their unique development and the variety of ways that villages formed these clusters These analyses show the extent to which spatial clusters of large settlements may have formed regionally organized alliances and in some cases they reveal a connection between protohistoric villages and indigenous or migratory groups from the preceding period This volume is distinct from other recent syntheses of Pueblo IV research in that it treats the settlement cluster as the analytic unit By analyzing how members of clusters of villages interacted with one another it offers a clearer understanding of the value of this level of analysis and suggests possibilities for future research In addition to offering new insights on the Pueblo IV world the volume serves as a compendium of information on more than 400 known villages larger than 50 rooms It will be of lasting interest not only to archaeologists but also to geographers land managers and general readers interested in Pueblo culture

Historical Archaeology and the Study of American Culture Lu Ann De Cunzo, Bernard L. Herman, 1996 In this volume of essays historical archaeologists and scholars from a variety of other fields explore creative approaches to material culture as a form of cultural expression The essays derived from papers first presented at the 1991 Winterthur Conference emphasize material culture's communicative qualities its roles in social performance the construction of identity and the mediation of interaction and its interpretive limitations A special concern with contexts in their myriad forms resonates throughout the volume The contributors not only describe time and place but they seek the intimate social and symbolic details of human agency in all their diversity The essays reveal how dynamic archaeological thinking can appeal to a broader audience The first section Construction of Context Negotiating Consumer Culture groups six essays that foreground people and their choices in diverse consumer contexts The authors examine the ways that material culture illuminates the cultural dialogues between New England's native peoples and European traders urbane Virginians and their country cousins Southern slaves and their owners agrarian potters and industrial capitalists and nineteenth century Americans and the brokers of consumer culture In the second section In the Active Voice Remaking the American Landscape the attention shifts from people to the land they inhabited and changed Through close reading of multiple data sources at many scales from microscopic pollen grains to urban plans the authors of these four essays trace the remaking of eighteenth and nineteenth century American farms and cities In the third section Working toward Meaning The Scope of Historical Archaeology the authors work outward from the preceding studies directly engaging the reader in the process of reinventing historical archaeology Together with the other contributions to this volume these three concluding essays demonstrate the important place of historical archaeology in the interdisciplinary arena of material culture studies

The Social Life of Pots Judith A. Habicht-Mauche, Suzanne L. Eckert, Deborah L. Huntley, 2022-09-06 The demographic upheavals that altered the social landscape of the Southwest from the thirteenth through the seventeenth centuries forced peoples from diverse backgrounds to literally remake their worlds transformations in community identity and power that are only beginning to be understood through innovations in decorated ceramics In addition to aesthetic changes that included new color schemes new painting techniques alterations in design and a greater emphasis on iconographic imagery some of the wares reflect a new production efficiency resulting from more specialized household and community based industries Also they were traded over longer distances and were used more often in public ceremonies than earlier ceramic types Through the study of glaze painted pottery archaeologists are beginning to understand that pots had social lives in this changing world and that careful reconstruction of the social lives of pots can help us understand the social lives of Puebloan peoples In this book fifteen contributors apply a wide range of technological and stylistic analysis techniques to pottery of the Rio Grande and Western Pueblo areas to show what it reveals about inter and intra community dynamics work groups migration trade and ideology in the precontact and early postcontact Puebloan world The contributors report on research conducted throughout the glaze producing areas of the Southwest and cover the full historical range of glaze ware production Utilizing a variety of techniques continued typological analyses optical petrography instrumental neutron activation analysis X ray microprobe analysis and inductively coupled plasma mass spectroscopy they develop broader frameworks for examining the changing role of these ceramics in social dynamics By tracing the circulation and exchange of specialized knowledge raw materials and the pots themselves via social networks of varying size they show how glaze ware technology production exchange and reflected a variety of dynamic historical and social processes Through this material evidence the contributors reveal that technological and aesthetic innovations were deliberately manipulated and disseminated to actively construct communities of practice that cut across language and settlement groups The Social Life of Pots offers a wealth of new data from this crucial period of prehistory and is an important baseline for future work in this area Contributors Patricia Capone Linda S Cordell Suzanne L Eckert Thomas R Fenn Judith A Habicht Mauche Cynthia L Herhahn Maren Hopkins Deborah L Huntley Toni S Laumbach Kathryn Leonard Barbara J Mills Kit Nelson Gregson Schachner Miriam T Stark Scott Van Keuren
