Sunera Thobani,2020-12-10 The current political standoffs of the War on Terror illustrate that the interaction within and between the so called Western and Middle Eastern civilizations is constantly in flux A recurring theme however is how Islam and Muslims signify the Enemy in the Western socio cultural imagination and have become the Other against which the West identifies itself In a unique and insightful blend of critical race feminist and post colonial theory Sunera Thobani examines how Islam is foundational to the formation of Western identity at critical points in its history including the Crusades the Reconquista and the colonial period More specifically she explores how masculinity and femininity are formed at such pivotal junctures and what role feminism has played in the wars against radical Islam Exposing these symbiotic relationships Thobani explores how the return of religion is reworking the racial gender and sexual politics by which Western society defines itself and more specifically defines itself against Islam Contesting Islam Constructing Race and Sexuality unpacks conventional as well as unconventional orthodoxies to open up new spaces in how we think about sexual and racial identity in the West and the crucial role that Islam has had and continues to have in its development A Sociology of Crime Stephen Hester,Peter Eglin,2017-05-15 A Sociology of Crime has an outstanding reputation for its distinctive and systematic contribution to the criminological literature Through detailed examples and analysis it shows how crime is a product of processes of criminalisation constituted through the interactional and organizational use of language In this welcome second edition the book reviews and evaluates the current state of criminological theory from this grammatical perspective It

maintains and develops its critical and subversive stance but greatly widens its theoretical range including dedicated chapters on gender race class and the post als including postcolonialism It now also provides questions exercises and further readings alongside its detailed analysis of a set of international examples both classical and contemporary An Introduction to Sociology Pamela Abbott,Melissa Tyler,Claire Wallace,2006-02 This third edition of this best selling book confirms the ongoing centrality of feminist perspectives and research to the sociological enterprise and introduces students to the wide range of feminist contributions in key areas of sociological concern Completely revised this edition includes new chapters on sexuality and the media additional material on race and ethnicity disability and the body many new international and comparative examples the influence of theories of globalization and post colonial studies In addition the theoretical elements have also been fully rethought in light of recent developments in social theory Written by three experienced teachers and examiners this book gives students of sociology and women s studies an accessible overview of the feminist contribution to all the key areas of sociological concern Colonial Entanglements and the Medieval Nordic World Cordelia Heß,Solveig Marie Wang,Erik Wolf,2024-12-16 The book investigates the multifaceted entanglements between the many pasts and presents of the Nordic medieval period and colonialism The edited volume contributes to the untangling of questions concerning how present recent and past structures of colonialism affect historiography on the medieval Nordic past Consisting of thematically diverse chapters the book brings together a range of approaches related to medieval colonialism in a Nordic context touching both on medieval and medievalist factors The editors and contributors understand their project as part of the growing conversation about colonialism and its reverberations in academia and as a contribution to decolonization efforts The volume will offer an interdisciplinary approach to oft neglected aspects of the medieval world through an incorporation of more inclusive methodologies and re readings of both medieval texts and previous scholarship

Ethnicity and Inclusion David G. Horrell,2020-10-29 Some of today s problematic ideologies of racial and religious difference can be traced back to constructions of the relationship between Judaism and early Christianity New Testament studies which developed contemporaneously with Europe s colonial expansion and racial ideologies is David Horrell argues therefore an important site at which to probe critically these ideological constructions and their contemporary implications In Ethnicity and Inclusion Horrell explores the ways in which ethnic and religious characteristics feature in key Jewish and early Christian texts challenging the widely accepted dichotomy between a Judaism that is ethnically defined and a Christianity that is open and inclusive Then through an engagement with whiteness studies he offers a critique of the implicit whiteness and Christianness that continue to dominate New Testament studies today arguing that a diversity of embodied perspectives is epistemologically necessary
