Documentary's Awkward Turn Jason Middleton, 2013-12-04 Despite the prominence of awkwardness as cultural buzzword and descriptor of a sub genre of contemporary film and television comedy it has yet to be adequately theorized in academic film and media studies Documentary's Awkward Turn contributes a new critical paradigm to the field by presenting an analysis of awkward moments in documentary film and other reality based media formats It examines difficult and disrupted encounters between social actors on the screen between filmmaker and subject and between film and spectator These encounters are of course often inter connected Awkward moments occur when an established mode of representation or reception is unexpectedly challenged stalled or altered when an interviewee suddenly confronts the interviewer when a subject who had been comfortable on camera begins to feel trapped in the frame when a film perceived as a documentary turns out to be a parodic mockumentary This book makes visible the ways in which awkwardness connects and subtends a range of transformative textual strategies political and ethical problematics and modalities of spectatorship in documentary film and media from the 1970s to the present

Toward a Philosophy of the Documentarian Dan Geva, 2018-04-03 The theme of this book is the documentarian what the documentarian is and how we can understand it as a concept Working from the premise that the documentarian is a special extended sign the book develops a model of a quadruple sign structure for and of the documentarian growing out of enduring traditions in philosophy semiotics psychoanalysis and documentary theory Dan Geva investigates the intellectual premise that allows the documentarian to show itself as an extremely sophisticated creative and purposeful being in the world one that is both embedded in its own history and able to manifest itself throughout its entire documentary life project as a stand alone conceptual phase in the history of ideas

Psychoanalysis and Ethics in Documentary Film Agnieszka Piotrowska, 2013-10-01 This distinctively interdisciplinary approach to the subject encompasses filmmaking psychoanalysis philosophy and popular culture and offers a unique insight into documentary film practice from a psychoanalytic perspective At the heart of the enquiry is belief that transference love is present in the documentary encounter With a focus on testimony driven film and a foreword by Michael Renov who calls this book a radical and compelling account Psychoanalysis and Ethics in Documentary Film covers a range of topics including Four fundamental concepts of psychoanalysis and documentary film A review of documentary film practice A personal account of the author's relationship with a subject of her own work A thorough interrogation of the ethics of documentary Ideal for film studies scholars psychoanalysts psychotherapists and psychotherapeutically engaged professionals as well as filmmakers culture studies students and anyone interested in the process of documentary making and contemporary culture this work offers a unique approach

Chinese Documentaries Yingchi Chu, 2007-06-20 In China unlike in Western cinema documentary film rather than fiction film has been the dominant mode since 1949 In recent years documentary TV programmes have experienced a meteoric rise Arguing that there is a gradual process of democratization in the media in which documentaries play a significant role this book discusses various types of Chinese documentaries under both the planned and the market economy It especially explores the relationship between documentaries and society showing how under the market economy although the government continues to use the genre as propaganda to promote its ideologies and policies documentaries are being used as a medium where public concerns and alternative voices can be heard

A Companion to Werner Herzog Brad Prager, 2012-03-30 A Companion to Werner Herzog showcases over two dozen original scholarly essays examining nearly five decades of filmmaking by one of the most acclaimed and innovative figures in world cinema First collection in twenty years dedicated to examining Herzog s expansive career Features essays by international scholars and Herzog specialists Addresses a broad spectrum of the director s films from his earliest works such as Signs of Life and Fata Morgana to such recent films as The Bad Lieutenant and Encounters at the End of the World Offers creative innovative approaches guided by film history art history and philosophy Includes a comprehensive filmography that also features a list of the director s acting appearances and opera productions Explores the director s engagement with music and the arts his self stylization as a global filmmaker his Bavarian origins and even his love hate relationship with the actor Klaus Kinski

Italian Neorealist Cinema Christopher Wagstaff, 2007-01-01 The end of the Second World War saw the emergence in Italy of the neorealism movement which produced a number of films characterized by stories set among the poor and working class often shot on location using non professional actors In this study Christopher Wagstaff provides an in depth analysis of neorealist film focusing on three films that have had a major impact on filmmakers and audiences around the world Roberto Rossellini s Roma città aperta and Pais and Vittorio De Sica s Ladri di biciclette Indeed these films are still more than half a century after they were made among the most highly regarded works in the history of cinema In this insightful and carefully researched work Wagstaff suggests that the importance of these films is largely due to the aesthetic and rhetorical qualities of their assembled sounds and images rather than as commonly thought their particular representations of historical reality The author begins by situating neorealist cinema in its historical industrial commercial and cultural context He goes on to provide a theoretical discussion of realism and the merits of neorealist films individually and collectively as aesthetic artefacts He follows with a detailed analysis of the three films focusing on technical and production aspects as well as on the significance of the films as cinematic works of art While providing a wealth of information and analysis previously unavailable to an English speaking audience Italian Neorealist Cinema offers a radically new perspective on neorealist cinema and the Italian art cinema that followed it

Film Studies Glyn Davis, Kay Dickinson, Lisa Patti, Amy Villarejo, 2015-02-20 Film Studies A Global Introduction reroutes film studies from its Euro American focus and canon in order to introduce students to a medium that has always been global but has become differently and insistently so in the digital age Glyn Davis Kay Dickinson Lisa Patti and Amy Villarejo s approach encourages readers to think about film holistically by looking beyond the textual analysis of key films In contrast it engages with other vital areas such as financing labour marketing distribution exhibition preservation and politics reflecting contemporary aspects of cinema production and consumption worldwide Key features of the book include clear definitions of the key terms at the foundation of film studies coverage of the work of key thinkers explained in their social and historical context a broad range of relevant case studies that reflect the book's approach to global cinema from Italian white telephone films to Mexican wrestling films innovative and flexible exercises to help readers enhance their understanding of the histories theories and examples introduced in each chapter an extensive Interlude introducing readers to formal analysis through the careful explication and application of key terms a detailed discussion of strategies for writing about cinema Films Studies A Global Introduction will appeal to students studying film today and aspiring to work in the industry as well as those eager to understand the world of images and screens in which we all live

Story Movements Caty Borum Chattoo, 2020-05-20 Only a few years after the 2013 Sundance Film Festival premiere of Blackfish an independent documentary film that critiqued the treatment of orcas in captivity visits to SeaWorld declined major corporate sponsors pulled their support and performing acts canceled appearances The steady drumbeat of public criticism negative media coverage and unrelenting activism became known as the Blackfish Effect In 2016 SeaWorld announced a stunning corporate policy change the end of its profitable orca shows In an evolving networked era social issue documentaries like Blackfish are art for civic imagination and social critique Today's documentaries interrogate topics like sexual assault in the U S military The Invisible War racial injustice 13th government surveillance Citizenfour and more Artistic nonfiction films are changing public conversations influencing media agendas mobilizing communities and capturing the attention of policymakers accessed by expanding audiences in a transforming media marketplace In Story Movements How Documentaries Empower People and Inspire Social Change producer and scholar Caty Borum Chattoo explores how documentaries disrupt dominant cultural narratives through complex creative often investigative storytelling Featuring original interviews with award winning documentary filmmakers and field leaders the book reveals the influence and motivations behind the vibrant eye opening stories of the contemporary documentary age

Japanese Cinema in the Digital Age Mitsuyo Wada-Marciano, 2012-05-31 Digital technology has transformed cinema's production distribution and consumption patterns and pushed contemporary cinema toward increasingly global markets In the case of Japanese cinema a once moribund industry has been revitalized as regional genres such as anime and Japanese horror now challenge Hollywood's preeminence in global cinema In her rigorous investigations of J horror personal documentary anime and ethnic cinema Mitsuyo Wada Marciano deliberates on the role of the transnational in bringing to the mainstream what were formerly marginal B movie genres She argues persuasively that convergence culture which these films represent constitutes Japan's response to the variegated flows of global economics and culture With its timely analysis of new modes of production emerging from the struggles of Japanese filmmakers and animators to finance and market their work in a post studio era this book holds critical implications for the future of other national cinemas fighting to remain viable in a global marketplace As academics in film and media studies prepare a wholesale shift toward a transnational perspective of film Wada Marciano cautions against jettisoning the entire national cinema paradigm Discussing the technological advances and the new cinematic flows of consumption she demonstrates that while contemporary Japanese film on the one hand expresses the transnational as an object of desire i e a form of total cosmopolitanism on the other hand that desire is indeed inseparable from Japan s national identity Drawing on a substantial number of interviews with auteur directors such as Kore eda Hirokazu Kurosawa Kiyoshi and Kawase Naomi and incisive analysis of select film texts this compelling original work challenges the presumption that Hollywood is the only authentically global cinema
