British Imperialism in Qajar Iran

H. Lyman Stebbins, 2016-12-18 In 1888 there were just four British consulates in the country by 1921 there were twenty three H Lyman Stebbins investigates the development and consequences of British imperialism in Iran in a time of international rivalry revolution and world war While previous narratives of Anglo Iranian relations have focused on the highest diplomatic circles in Tehran London Calcutta and St Petersburg this book argues that British consuls and political agents made the vast southern borderlands of Iran the real centre of British power and influence during this period Based on British consular archives from Bushihr Shiraz Sistan and Muhammarah this book reveals that Britain India and Iran were linked together by discourses of colonial knowledge and patterns of political military and economic control It also contextualizes the emergence of Iranian nationalism as well as the failure and collapse of the Qajar state during the Iranian Constitutional Revolution and the First World War

Curzon and British Imperialism in the Middle East, 1916-19

John Fisher, 1999 John Fisher explores the acquisitive thinking which from the autumn of 1914 drove the Mesopotamian Expedition and examines the political issues international and imperial delegated to a War Cabinet committee under Lord Curzon The motives of Curzon and others in attempting to obtain a privileged political position in the Hejaz are studied in the context of inter Allied suspicions and Turkish intrigues in the Arabian Peninsula This is a penetrating study of war imperialism when statesmen contemplated strong measures of control in several areas of the Middle East

Britain and the Iranian Constitutional Revolution of 1906-1911 Mansour Bonakdarian, 2006-06-30 In this thoroughly researched account Mansour Bonakdarian provides an in depth exploration of the substantial British support for the Iranian constitutional and national struggle of 1906 1911 illuminating the opposition in Britain to Anglo Russian imperialist intervention in Iran In painstaking and compelling detail Bonakdarian analyzes in particular the role of the Persia Committee a lobbying group founded in 1908 for the sole purpose of changing Britain s policy toward Iran This book s strength lies in its coverage of how Sir Edward Grey s policy toward Iran was shaped and the extent to which this policy was affected by sustained criticism from a number of disparate groups including dissenters radicals socialists liberal imperialists and conservatives The volume and breadth of primary archival materials used is extensive Not only have all the standard collections been examined such as the Foreign Office files and the Cabinet and Grey papers but also numerous private archives in international libraries have been consulted Bonakdarian s deep understanding of the Iranian issues yields a rich and balanced approach to the literature in the field With clear and systematic arguments he offers an account of diplomatic history that is accessible and persuasive His scholarship is certain to reinvigorate dialogue on the subject of Anglo Iranian relations

Campbell,2022-04-21 The post First World War period was pivotal in global history international relations and geopolitics And no more than in South Asia where for decades the Great Game in geopolitical rivalry of the two greatest modern empires Britain and Russia had dominated international relations But with the advent of Communism in Russia and growing nationalism and pan Islamism in Afghanistan Persia and India Britian s imperial standing was under threat Faced with these problems some in the British government such as Lord Curzon the dominant imperialist in the British Foreign Office fell back on what they knew old patterns of rivalry and high handedness that characterised the Great Game Not all however agreed with Curzon and with war in Afghanistan civil unrest in India and rising tensions in Persia those who opposed this Great Game mindset advocated a new way forward for British foreign relations The Strategy of the Lloyd George Coalition, 1916-1918 David French,1995-06-29 The popular image of the First World War is dominated by two misconceptions The first holds that the war was an exercise in futility in which incompetent upper class generals callously sacrificed an entire generation of young men to no good purpose The second holds that the debate about British strategic policy during the First World War was a gladiatorial contest between brass hats generals and frock coats politicians Historians denied access for too long to the contemporary records of the private deliberations of policy makers had been forced to follow both interpretations David French challenges this orthodoxy and suggests that the policy makers were united in trying to relate strategic policy to a carefully considered set of war aims His challenging conclusion is that the policy makers never lost sight of their goal which was to ensure that Britain fought the war at an acceptable cost and emerged from it with its security enhanced against both its enemies and its allies The Colonial Policy of British Imperialism Ralph Fox,1933 On Secret Service East of Constantinople Peter Hopkirk,2011-09-15 Under the banner of a Holy War masterminded in Berlin and unleashed from Constantinople the Germans and the Turks set out in 1914 to foment violent revolutionary uprisings against the British in India and the Russians in Central Asia It was a new and more sinister version of the old Great Game with world domination as its ultimate aim Here told in epic detail and for the first time is the true story behind John Buchan s classic wartime thriller Greenmantle recounted through the adventures and misadventures of the secret agents and others who took part in it It is an ominously topical tale today in view of the continuing turmoil in this volatile region where the Great Game has never really ceased Soviet Russia and Tibet Alexandre Andreyev,2021-11-22 This is the first investigation into the little known Bolshevik foreign ministry s strenuous efforts to win Lhasa over to the Soviet cause in the 1920s Examining the history of relations between Russia tsarist Soviet and post Soviet and Tibet from the 17th century to the 1990s the author puts at the core of his narrative the previously unknown story of clandestine negotiations between the Soviet government and the 13th Dalai Lama forming part of Moscow's bitter struggle against British imperialism in Asia. The book provides insight into Soviet secret diplomacy and draws important conclusions relating to the history of Anglo-Russian competition for Tibet and Tibet's status prior to 1951.
