Shipbuilding and Ship Repair Industry: Adequate for Prolonged Global Conflict?. Robert Martin Brown, 1989

Days of Sadness, Years of Triumph Geoffrey Perrett, 1985 First published in 1973 Geoffrey Perrett's portrait of war time America was immediately hailed as a major retrospective Perrett vividly describes the social political and economic fabric of American domestic life from 1939 to 1945 and argues that the World War II years precipitated a crucial if silent social revolution at home one that continues to reverberate today Echoes from the Holocaust Alan Rosenberg, 2009 This book contains essays that focus on the profound issues and the philosophical significance of the Holocaust The Bad City in the Good War Roger W. Lotchin, 2003-03-03 Riders were very appropriate to a western war but these horsemen could not have been more different One group patrolled the oceanfront of The City after dark While the residents of the nearby Sunset District and Seacliff huddled around the radios in their living rooms curtains pulled and blinds lowered listening to war news or to One Man's Family other residents rode the beaches Mounted on their own ponies the men of the San Francisco Polo Club labored through the sands of China Beach Baker Beach and the Ten Mile Beach looking for Imperial Japanese intruders from the book In the mythology of the West the city was seen as a place of danger and corruption but the bad city proved its mettle during the Good War In this book Roger W Lotchin has written the first comprehensive study of California's urban home front United by fear of totalitarianism the diverse population of California's cities came together to protect their homes and to aid in the war effort Whether it involved fighting in Europe or Asia migrating to a defense center writing to service personnel at the front building war machines in converted factories giving pennies at school for war bonds saving scrap material or pounding a civil defense beat urban California's participation was immediate constant and unflagging Although many people worked in offices factories or barracks the wartime community was also fed by a vast army of volunteers which until now has been largely overlooked The Bad City in the Good War is a comprehensive local history of the California home front that restores a little known part of the story of the Second World War The Southern Diaspora James N. Gregory, 2006-05-18 Between 1900 and the 1970s twenty million southerners migrated north and west Weaving together for the first time the histories of these black and white migrants James Gregory traces their paths and experiences in a comprehensive new study that demonstrates how this regional diaspora reshaped America by southernizing communities and transforming important cultural and political institutions Challenging the image of the migrants as helpless and poor Gregory shows how both black and white southerners used their new surroundings to become agents of change Combining personal stories with cultural political and demographic analysis he argues that the migrants helped create both the modern civil rights movement and modern conservatism They spurred changes in American religion notably modern evangelical Protestantism and in popular culture including the development of blues jazz and country music In a sweeping account that pioneers new understandings of the impact of mass migrations Gregory recasts the history of twentieth century America He demonstrates that the southern diaspora was crucial to transformations in the relationship between American regions in the politics of race and class and in the roles of religion the media and culture American Education, Democracy, and the Second World War C. Dorn, 2015-12-25 American Education Democracy and the Second World War examines how U S educational institutions during World War II responded to the dilemma of whether to serve as weapons in the nation s arsenal of democracy or citadels in safeguarding the American way of life By studying the lives of wartime Americans as well as nursery schools elementary and secondary schools and universities Charles Dorn makes the case that although wartime pressures affected educational institutions to varying degrees these institutions resisted efforts to be placed solely in service of the nation s war machine Instead Dorn argues American education maintained a sturdy commitment to fostering civic mindedness in a society characterized by rapid technological advance and the perception of an ever increasing threat to national security Shipbuilding and Ship Repair Workers around the World Raquel Varela, Hugh Murphy, Marcel Linden, 2025-10-01 Maritime trade is the backbone of the world s economy Around ninety percent of all goods are transported by ship and since World War II shipbuilding has undergone major changes in response to new commercial pressures and opportunities Early British dominance for example was later undermined in the 1950s by competition from the Japanese who have since been overtaken by South Korea and most recently China The case studies in this volume trace these and other important developments in the shipbuilding and ship repair industries as well as workers responses to these historic transformations Dorothea Lange Judith Keller, Dorothea Lange, J. Paul Getty Museum, 2002 Dorothea Lange is chiefly renowned for her social documentary work in the Great Depression of the 1930s Judith Keller discusses several of her pictures held by the Getty Museum and includes an edited transcript of a colloquium on Lange and a chronicle of her life in this illustrated study
