Karenina is a novel by the Russian author Leo Tolstoy first published in book form in 1878 Many writers consider Anna

Karenina the greatest work of literature ever and Tolstoy himself called it his first true novel Anna Karenina consists of more than the story of Anna Karenina a married socialite and her affair with the affluent Count Vronsky though their story is a very strong component of the plot 3 The story starts when she arrives in the midst of a family broken up by her brother's unbridled womanizing something that prefigures her own later situation though she would experience less tolerance by others A bachelor Vronsky is eager to marry Anna if she will agree to leave her husband Karenin a senior government official but she is vulnerable to the pressures of Russian social norms the moral laws of the Russian Orthodox Church her own insecurities and Karenin's indecision Although Vronsky and Anna go to Italy where they can be together they have trouble making friends Back in Russia she is shunned becoming further isolated and anxious while Vronsky pursues his social life Despite Vronsky's reassurances she grows increasingly possessive and paranoid about his imagined infidelity fearing her own loss of control A parallel story within the novel is that of Konstantin Levin a wealthy country landowner who wants to marry Kitty sister to Dolly and sister in law to Anna's brother Stepan Oblonsky Levin has to propose twice before Kitty accepts The novel details Levin's difficulties managing his estate his eventual marriage and his struggle to accept the Christian faith until the birth of his first child The novel explores a diverse range of topics throughout its approximately one thousand pages Some of these topics include an evaluation of the feudal system that existed in Russia at the time politics not only in the Russian government but also at the level of the individual characters and families religion morality gender and social class
