Women And Slavery In Africa Social History Of Africa:

Women and Slavery in Africa Claire C. Robertson,1983 Women and Slavery: Africa, the Indian Ocean world, and the medieval north Atlantic Gwyn Campbell,Suzanne Miers,Joseph Calder Miller,2007 The particular experience of enslaved women across different cultures and many different eras is the focus of this work Slavery and African Life Patrick Manning,1990-09-28 This book summarizes a wide range of recent literature on slavery for all of tropical Africa

The End of Slavery in Africa Suzanne Miers,1988 This is the first comprehensive assessment of the end of slavery in Africa Editors Suzanne Miers and Richard Roberts with the distinguished contributors to the volume establish an agenda for the social history of the early colonial period when the end of slavery was one of the most significant historical and cultural processes The End of Slavery in Africa is a sequel to Slavery in Africa edited by Suzanne Miers and Igor Kopytoff and published by the University of Wisconsin Press in 1977 The contributors explore the historical experiences of slaves masters and colonials as they all confronted the end of slavery in fifteen sub Saharan African societies The essays demonstrate that it is impossible to generalize about whether the end of slavery was a relatively mild and nondisruptive process or whether it marked a significant change in the social and economic organization of a given society There was no common pattern and no uniform consequence of the end of slavery The results of this wide ranging inquiry will be of lasting value to Africanists and a variety of social and economic historians Women in Sub-Saharan Africa Iris Berger,E. Frances White,1999-06-22

These four volumes in this major series provide a single source reference to the status of the field of women s history and to ways that the field can be expanded A basic set for all academic libraries Library Journal Academic Newswire Berger and White focus on Sub Saharan Africa tracing women s history from earliest times to the present By exploring their place in social economic political and religious life the authors highlight the changing societal position of women through shifts over time in ideas about gender and the connections between women s public and private spheres Women and Slavery in Africa Claire C. Robertson,Martin A. Klein,1997 Most slaves in sub Saharan African were women With that introductory and revolutionary sentence Robertson and Klein redefined much of the social and economic history of Africa The End of Slavery in Africa and the Americas Ulrike Schmieder,Katja Füllberg-Stolberg,Michael Zeuske,2011 For centuries social and economic relations within the Atlantic space were dominated by slavery and the transatlantic slave trade from Africa to the Americas By the slowly and arduously achieved end of this trade slave labour in the Americas was replaced in many cases by other forms of coerced labour of African Caribbean people or Indian Chinese African or European immigrants This book focuses on the transformation of societies after the slave trade and slavery in a comparative intercontinental perspective It combines micro and macro historical approaches and looks at the agency of slaves missionaries abolitionists state officials seamen and soldiers Rethinking South Africa's Past Christopher J. Lee,Andrew Offenburger,2025-03-18 This book presents key historical scholarship published in Safundi from 1999 to 2024 tracing South Africa s past through approaches of comparative history transnational history and visual history in addition to addressing the importance of topics like gender labor and class dynamics as well as regional historiographies The first section of the book focuses on comparative history as a founding method for Safundi given the journal's origins in American and South African studies while also recalibrating this approach through a variety of topics cities biographies and practices of violence rather than nation states writ large Drawing upon innovative sources of evidence the second section moves beyond the comparative method to address transnational histories as a new narrative technique for storytelling and analysis Whether issues of education immigration or visiting musicians to South Africa these chapters demonstrate the importance of a post national approach for understanding the past The sections that follow fan out into other subject areas including the uses of visual history gender roles class cultures and environmental history all of which illuminate connections between South African history and other parts of the world This book will be an indispensable resource for scholars students activists and policymakers as well as those readers who are generally interested in understanding South Africa's complex history over the past several centuries

Pre-Colonial Africa in Colonial African Narratives Donald R. Wehrs, 2016-04-08 In his study of the origins of political reflection in twentieth century African fiction Donald Wehrs examines a neglected but important body of African texts written in colonial English and French and indigenous Hausa and Yoruba languages He explores pioneering narrative representations of pre colonial African history and society in seven texts Casely Hayford's Ethiopia Unbound 1911 Alhaji Sir Abubaker Tafawa Balewa's Shaihu Umar 1934 Paul Hazoum's Doguiçimi 1938 D O Fagunwa's Forest of a Thousand Daemons 1938 Amos Tutuola's The Palm Wine Drinkard 1952 and My Life in the Bush of Ghosts 1954 and Chinua Achebe's Things Fall Apart 1958 Wehrs highlights the role of pre colonial political economies and articulations of state power on colonial era considerations of ethical and political issues and is attentive to the gendered implications of texts and authorial choices By positioning Things Fall Apart as the culmination of a tradition rather than as its inaugural work he also reconfigures how we think of African fiction His book supplements recent work on the importance of indigenous contexts and discourses in situating colonial era narratives and will inspire fresh methodological strategies for studying the continent from a multiplicity of perspectives

The Children of Africa in the Colonies Melanie J. Newton, 2008-06-01 How emancipation transformed social and political relations in Barbados When a small group of free men of color gathered in 1838 to celebrate the end of apprenticeship in Barbados they spoke of emancipation as the moment of freedom for all colored people not just the former slaves The fact that many of these men had owned slaves themselves gives a hollow ring to their lofty pronouncements Yet in The Children of Africa in the Colonies Melanie J Newton demonstrates that simply dismissing these men as hypocrites ignores the complexity of their relationship to slavery Exploring the role of free blacks in Barbados from 1790 to 1860 Newton argues that the emancipation process transformed social relations between Afro Barbadians and slaves and ex slaves Free people of color in Barbados genuinely wanted slavery to end Newton explains a desire motivated in part by the realization that emancipation offered them significant political advantages As a result free people s goals for the civil rights struggle that began in Barbados in the 1790s often diverged from those of the slaves and the tensions that formed along class education and gender lines severely weakened the movement While the populist masses viewed emancipation as an opportunity to form a united community among all people of color wealthy free people viewed it as a chance to better their position relative to white Europeans To this end free people of color refashioned their identities in relationship to Africa Prior to the 1820s Newton reveals they downplayed their African descent emphasizing instead their legal status as free people and their position as owners of property including slaves As the emancipation debate in the Atlantic world reached its zenith in the 1820s and 1830s and whites grew increasingly hostile and inflexible elite free people allied themselves with the politics of the working class and the slaves relying for the first time on their African heritage and the association of their skin color with slavery to openly challenge white supremacy After emancipation free people of color again redefined themselves now as loyal British imperial subjects casting themselves in the role of political protectors of their ex slave brethren in an attempt to escape social and political disenfranchisement While some wealthy men of color gained political influence as a result of emancipation the absence of fundamental change in the distribution of land and wealth left most men and women of color with little hope of political independence or social mobility Mining a rich vein of primary and secondary sources Newton s study elegantly describes how class divisions and disagreements over labor and social policy among free and slave black Barbadians led to political unrest and devastated the hope for an entirely new social structure and a plebeian majority in the British Caribbean
