Dillon,1978 Spirit and Word Timothy Wiarda,2016-12-15 A number of New Testament passages depict the Holy Spirit acting in conjunction with gospel preaching or other forms of humanly given communication about Jesus yet there is considerable disagreement about how these passages should be interpreted Unresolved exegetical debates about the correlative action the dual testimony of the Spirit and the humanly conveyed word plague the interpretation of whole writings extended sections of individual works and important themes This book examines this contested motif in a focused and comprehensive way It begins by taking the Pauline Johannine and Lucan writings in turn subjecting the central texts that express dual testimony to detailed exegetical analysis On the basis of this exegetical work it then moves to a big picture analysis of the way each corpus expresses and uses the dual testimony motif identifying individual emphases and tendencies as well as shared elements that can be observed across the three bodies of writing Two final chapters offer brief reflections on possible developmental scenarios and points at which the preceding exegetical findings may impinge on questions of contemporary theology Bread and Salt from the Word of God Theodor Zahn,1905
