Us Habsburg Relations From 1815 To The Paris Peace Conference Sovereignty Transformed:

U.S.-Habsburg Relations from 1815 to the Paris Peace Conference Nicole M. Phelps, 2013 This study chronicles US Habsburg relations from the early nineteenth century through the aftermath of World War I The Life and Death of States Natasha Wheatley, 2025-12-02 An intellectual history of sovereignty that reveals how the Habsburg Empire became a crucible for our contemporary world order Sprawled across the heartlands of Europe the Habsburg Empire resisted all the standard theories of singular sovereignty The 1848 revolutions sparked decades of heady constitutional experimentation that pushed the very concept of the state to its limits This intricate multinational polity became a hothouse for public law and legal philosophy and spawned ideas that still shape our understanding of the sovereign state today The Life and Death of States traces the history of sovereignty over one hundred tumultuous years explaining how a regime of nation states theoretically equal under international law emerged from the ashes of a dynastic empire Natasha Wheatley shows how a new sort of experimentation began when the First World War brought the Habsburg Empire crashing down the making of new states Habsburg lands then became a laboratory for postimperial sovereignty and a new international order and the results would echo through global debates about decolonization for decades to come Wheatley explores how the Central European experience opens a unique perspective on a pivotal legal fiction the supposed juridical immortality of states A sweeping work of intellectual history The Life and Death of States offers a penetrating and original analysis of the relationship between sovereignty and time illustrating how the many deaths and precarious lives of the region's states expose the tension between the law's need for continuity and history's volatility Austria 1867-1955 John W. Boyer, 2022-09-15 Austria 1867 1955 connects the political history of German speaking provinces of the Habsburg Empire before 1914 Vienna and the Alpine Lands with the history of the Austrian Republic that emerged in 1918 John W Boyer presents the case of modern Austria as a fascinating example of democratic nation building The construction of an Austrian political nation began in 1867 under Habsburg Imperial auspices with the German speaking bourgeois Liberals defining the concept of a political people Volk and giving that Volk a constitution and a liberal legal and parliamentary order to protect their rights against the Crown The decades that followed saw the administrative and judicial institutions of the Liberal state solidified but in the 1880s and 1890s the membership of the Volk exploded to include new social and economic strata from the lower bourgeoisie and the working classes Ethnic identity was not the final structuring principle of everyday politics as it was in the Czech lands Rather social class occupational culture and religion became more prominent variables in the sortition of civic interests exemplified by the emergence of two great ideological parties Christian Socialism and Social Democracy in Vienna in the 1890s The war crisis of 1914 1918 exploded the Empire with the Crown self destructing in the face of military defeat chronic domestic unrest and bitter national partisanship But this crisis also accelerated the emergence of new structures of democratic self governance in the German speaking Austrian lands enshrined in the republican Constitution of 1920 Initial attempts to make this new project of democratic nation building work failed in the 1920s and 1930s culminating in the catastrophe of the 1938 Nazi occupation After 1945 the surviving legacies of the Revolution of 1918 reassembled under the four power Allied occupation which fashioned a shared political culture which proved sufficiently flexible to accommodate intense partisanship resulting by the 1970s in a successful republican system organized under the aegis of elite democratic and corporatist negotiating structures in which the Catholics and Socialists learned to embrace the skills of collective but shared self governance

1914 Austria Hungary The Origins (Contemporary Austrian Studies, Vol 23) Günter Bischof, Ferdinand Karlhofer, Samuel R. Williamson, 2014-06-17 For the past 100 years some of the greatest historians and political scientists of the twentieth century have picked apart analyzed and reinterpreted this sequence of events taking place within a single month in July early August 1914 The four years of fighting during World War I destroyed the international system put into place at the Congress of Vienna in 1814 15 and led to the dissolution of some of the great old empires of Europe Austrian Hungarian Ottoman Russian The 100th anniversary of the assassination of the Austrian successor to the throne Archduke Francis Ferdinand and his wife Sophie in Sarajevo unleashed the series of events that unleashed World War I The assassination in Sarajevo the spark that set asunder the European powder keg has been the focus of a veritable blizzard of commemorations scholarly conferences and a new avalanche of publications dealing with this signal historical event that changed the world Contemporary Austrian Studies would not miss the opportunity to make its contribution to these scholarly discourses by focusing on reassessing the Dual Monarchy's crucial role in the outbreak and the first year of the war the military experience in the trenches and the chaos on the homefront

Ethnicizing Europe Éva Kovács, Raul Cârstocea, Gábor Egry, 2025-07-15 Ethnicizing Europe focuses on the dynamics of interethnic violence in Europe between the two world wars The new international system that was enshrined by the Versailles peace treaties after World War I did not bring stability to East Central Europe Rather it resulted in a host of conditions like self determination international oversight revolutionary political ideas and democratic processes which eventually gave new meaning to already established conflicts as well as igniting new conflicts in the region This book opens with a discussion of the theoretical scholarship on ethnicity before proceeding to specific case studies investigating the different ways in which ethnicity was enacted and contested during a period of European transformation focusing mostly on ethnically heterogeneous locales Rather than concentrating on either political violence or ethnonationalism this collection brings these two literatures together to show how ethnicization the legal concepts of citizenship and violence were intertwined in post Versailles Europe not only shaping the period between the wars but also the Europe we know today The book concludes with an afterword by Tara Zahra which expands this perspective to the wider transatlantic region

Historical Abstracts, 1998 Transatlantic Relations and the Great War Kurt Bednar, 2021-09-30 Transatlantic Relations and the Great War explores the relations between the Danube Monarchy of Austria Hungary and the modern US democracy and how that relationship developed over decades until it ended in a final rupture As the First World War drew to a close in late 1918 the Mid European Union was created to fill the vacuum in Central and Eastern Europe as the old Danube Monarchy of Austria Hungary was falling apart One year before in December 1917 the United States had declared war on Austria Hungary and overnight huge masses of immigrants from the Habsburg Empire became enemy aliens in the US Offering a major deviation from traditional historiography this book explains how the countdown of mostly diplomatic events in that fatal year 1918 could have taken an alternative course In addition to providing a narrative account of Austrian Hungarian relations with the US in the years leading up to the First World War the author also demonstrates how an almost total ignorance of the affairs of the Dual Monarchy was to be found in the US and vice versa This book is a fascinating and important resource for students and scholars interested in modern European and US history diplomatic relations and war studies Hungary at the Paris Peace Conference Francis Deák, 1942 The Great War and the Transformation of Habsburg Central Europe Pieter M. Judson, Tara Zahra, 2025-08-28 The world's eyes were on Austria Hungary on June 28 1914 But both inside and outside of Austria few could imagine the dramatic consequences of the events in Sarajevo The popular shock and anger that greeted the assassination did not mean war was a likely or necessary outcome or moreover that the Monarchy itself was destined to disintegrate The Great War and the Transformation of Habsburg Central Europe examines how the First World War transformed the multinational Austro Hungarian Monarchy into a fractured landscape of mistrust scarcity and dissolution and laid the foundation for the new postwar world The outcome of the war is not it argues evidence of the inherent fragility of multinational polities and Austria Hungary was not inevitably doomed to collapse on the eve of the war Instead it contends that the Habsburg state laid the groundwork for its own dissolution by turning on its citizens By imposing military rule suspending civil rights fostering suspicions among its citizens based on the languages they spoke and failing to secure enough food to feed the population the Habsburg state both created new and exacerbated existing regional local religious and national antagonisms Over time severe hardships on the home front in occupied territories and in refugee and prisoner of war camps spurred widespread resentment and eroded loyalty to the monarchy But even as the empire frayed the war inspired innovative institutions social welfare measures and new understandings of citizenship that continued to influence postwar Europe By analyzing these experiences at multiple scales local imperial and international award winning historians Pieter Judson and Tara Zahra here reframe the history of the late Habsburg Monarchy Taking a deliberately broad chronology they demonstrate that the war can no longer be treated as a mere postscript to Austria Hungary's biography Instead the war was a constitutive factor in the Empire's dissolution in the domestic relations that structured society in the successor states and in the birth of the new world order institutionalized by the Paris Peace Conferences Both the experience and outcome of the First World War in the Habsburg Monarchy held implications that extended far beyond its borders and beyond the lives of its forty eight million citizens The Remnants of the Habsburg Monarchy John Charles Swanson, 2001 This study examines the Austrian and Hungarian governments attempts to stabilize their international domestic and social conditions and legitimize themselves in the new European order after World War I Austria and Hungary as remnant states of the Austro Hungarian empire and thus vanquished powers were in precarious straits Conventional wisdom which focuses on their subsequent descent into fascism ignores the fact that both states achieved stability by 1922 this book focuses on that achievement
