Economy of City-Regions Koech Cheruiyot, 2017-10-30 This book addresses the South African Space Economy and its stark disparities and dualisms through an assessment of the Gauteng City Region the largest economic agglomeration in the country and on a continent bedevilled by a myriad of development challenges The book s focus on understanding the overall character of Gauteng City Region s Space Economy through data mining analysis and mapping comprehensively supplements the Space Economy literature on the region It covers the disparities exacerbated by an overlay of apartheid planning ideology and top down regional development based on selective encouragement of manufacturing investments in growth points or poles and how implementation of past policies intended to cure these disparities have yielded mixed results This book further offers the Gauteng City Region as a microcosm of the national economy in the form of evident significant placed based variations in the intensity and character of economic structure that on the one hand enjoys massive agglomeration economies while on the other has high levels of poverty and large numbers of people living below the Minimum Living Level This book should appeal to urban studies specialists economists and development studies researchers in the Global South

UNESCO science report UNESCO, 2015-11-09 There are fewer grounds today than in the past to deplore a North South divide in research and innovation This is one of the key findings of the UNESCO Science Report towards 2030 A large number of countries are now incorporating science technology and innovation in their national development agenda in order to make their economies less reliant on raw materials and more rooted in knowledge Most research and development R D is taking place in high income countries but innovation of some kind is now occurring across the full spectrum of income levels according to the first survey of manufacturing companies in 65 countries conducted by the UNESCO Institute for Statistics and summarized in this report For many lower income countries sustainable development has become an integral part of their national development plans for the next 10 20 years Among higher income countries a firm commitment to sustainable development is often coupled with the desire to maintain competitiveness in global markets that are increasingly leaning towards green technologies The quest for clean energy and greater energy efficiency now figures among the research priorities of numerous countries Written by more than 50 experts who are each covering the country or region from which they hail the UNESCO Science Report towards 2030 provides more country level information than ever before The trends and developments in science technology and innovation policy and governance between 2009 and mid 2015 described here provide essential baseline information on the concerns and priorities of countries that could orient the implementation and drive the assessment of the 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development in the years to come

Recalibrating teacher training in African higher education institutions Sifiso Sibanda, Gideon (Deon) P. van Tonder, Washington T. Dudu, 2023-03-01 This book critically examines the role of governments in promoting parity during and in post pandemic education This comes from the realisation that the pandemic has deepened the crisis by depleting the meagre resources that African countries might have devoted to normative educational practices where those on the margins would have been pushed further behind while the privileged would have been further initiated into the cultural and capital flows of private schools and historically research intensive institutions of higher learning This has far reaching implications for the education of underprivileged citizens and education particularly modes and modalities of delivery has to be reimaged to subvert the challenges wrought by the pandemic This book significantly bridges the gap between the pre and post COVID 19 pandemic pedagogical practices and the erstwhile modalities that have been resilient over time The book focuses on ways to stave off pedagogical challenges that face countries as the global pandemic makes its mark
