Urban Livelihoods Urban Livelihoods:

Urban Livelihoods, Institutions and Inclusive Governance in Nairobi Bob Hendriks, 2025-10-01 This study formulates conditions for sustainable impacts of inclusive and responsive governance through invited spaces offered by the government and claimed spaces created by the poor The study questions how increased contributions to poverty reduction and improvement of quality of life for Nairobi citizens can be realised in an equitable and responsible way while contributing to development of the city and country To adequately address this two sided objective of economic growth and poverty reduction in the contemporary context the study analyses both processes and impacts moreover it examines impacts in terms of quality of life as well as influence and political rights The study explores the individually claimed spaces of households in Nairobi s slums the collectively claimed spaces of hybrid mechanisms for access to peri urban land and tenure and the invited spaces of city wide governance networks

Urban Livelihoods Carole Rakodi, Tony Lloyd-Jones, 2014-10-14 One of the most promising approaches to poverty reduction in developing countries is to encourage sustainable livelihoods for the poor This takes account of their opportunities and assets and the sources of their vulnerability Based on recent and extensive research this volume thoroughly assesses the value of the livelihoods approach to urban poverty The book reviews the situation and strategies of the urban poor and identifies the policies and practical programmes that work best Lasting improvements depend not just on economic development but on political commitment and structures that are responsive to the claims and needs of different groups of poor people

Home-based Economic Activities and Caribbean Urban Livelihoods Hebe Verrest, 2007 Poor urban households in the economic south deploy various livelihood activities One of these is a Home Based Economic Activity HBEA e g sales of home made snacks or car maintenance This study examines the prevalence organisation and relevance of HBEAs in four neighbourhoods in the Caribbean cities Paramaribo Suriname and Port of Spain Trinidad and Tobago Recent economic developments in these countries diverge Suriname recovers slowly from a crisis while Trinidad and Tobago s economy is buoyant These economic features together with local political developments have produced distinct institutional contexts This gives ground for a comparison between the two cities In addition the study discusses the relevance of currently popular policies on entrepreneurship and micro finance The above issues have been assessed through use of multiple quantitative and qualitative methods The study shows that forty percent of households in the examined neighbourhoods earn money through operating HBEAs These are mainly operated by women and assist households in improving their livelihoods from a level of survival to a level of security Most HBEA operators aim at earning additional incomes and reducing vulnerability Only a small group meets the image of the classic operator who innovates takes risk and aims at growth and profit The two groups organize their HBEA in very distinct ways Differences between Suriname and Trinidad and Tobago are small First of all economic growth has limited impact on assets and vulnerability of low income groups Moreover policies aiming at stimulation of entrepreneurship such as micro credit are relevant to classic entrepreneurs and not to the large group of security seeking HBEA operators

The Impact of Urban Expansion on the Livelihoods of Peri-Urban Households in Gondar City Endalew Terefe Alene, 2023-07-03 Master's Thesis from the year 2013 in the subject Sociology Habitation and Urban Sociology grade 4.0 language English abstract

Recently Gondar city was grown into a metropolitan city status. This means that Gondar city is among the Ethiopian urban settings experiencing unprecedented rate of urbanization through expansion expanding in different directions into the surrounding rural areas with fast physical and population growth. Therefore the city administration of Gondar has undergone a horizontal expansion pattern. However no study has been conducted to investigate the impacts of urban expansion on the livelihoods of peri urban households in Gondar City Administration. This study therefore aims to investigate the effects of the expansion program on the livelihoods of the affecting farming households in Gondar city. The study employed household survey, focused group discussion, observation and an in depth interview with key informants to assess the situation. The findings were analyzed using both quantitative and qualitative research methods. The results of the study revealed that the expansion program was not participatory and the compensation payment implemented for the affected households was not fair and equal in relation with the calculation of their possessed assets.

Changes in Land Access, Rights, and Livelihoods in Peri-urban Ghana George Owusu, 2008

Impact of Urban Expansion on Tenure Security and Livelihoods of Peri-Urban Areas. The Case of Wolaita Soddo Town in Southern Ethiopia Zerihun Lemma, 2020-12-09 Thesis M A from the year 2020 in the subject Geography Earth Science Demographics Urban Management Planning grade 1 Bahir Dar University Institute of Land Administration course Land Administration language English abstract

This study is carried out to assess the impact of urban expansion on tenure security and livelihoods in peri urban areas. Tenure insecurity and livelihood problems due to urban expansion are a more significant issue in the developing countries than in the developed countries in the urban periphery. Ethiopia has created a mounting competition for peri urban land located adjacent to towns and cities by people of diverse backgrounds. As a result of these pressures rapid socio economic problems have occurred. This paper is aimed to assess the impacts of urban expansion on tenure security and livelihoods on the communities around Wolaita Soddo Town. Descriptive research designs as well as qualitative and quantitative research approaches were employed. Both probability and non probability sampling methods were used to get potential respondents and the sample size was determined using the sampling distribution of proportion method hence 120 participants were selected 85% 102 male and 15% 18 female participants. Based on the collected data the analysis was done using SPSS and Microsoft Excel and the data was presented by different data presentation tools like tables and graphs. The results from the study revealed that the expansion of Wolaita Soddo Town has presented constraints and opportunities to people living in peri urban areas. About 94 percent of the households responded that there is tenure insecurity. Due to having insecurity in their farm their income has decreased.

Similarly the study revealed that because of the town expansion the peri urban community experienced a multitude of livelihood problems e g loss of assets due to periodic land displacement reduction of farmland and great fear On the other hand the increase in non farm job opportunities and infrastructure development in the studied areas are noteworthy The development of new livelihood activities has culminated in the adoption of both farming and non farming livelihood strategies
