US Navy Light Cruisers 1941-45 New Vanguard:

US Navy Light Cruisers 1941-45 Mark Stille, 2016-07-28 During World War II the United States built 72 light cruisers of various classes. In response to the severe air threat that surface ships faced, new cruisers were designed with increasingly heavy anti-aircraft weaponry as well as the traditional 6-inch guns. With the speed and range to keep up with aircraft carriers and their considerable anti-aircraft capability, they were a mainstay of the carrier escorts. This book examines every US light cruiser produced, including those of the Fargo and Worcester classes, which were actually complete after World War II. It had ended tracing their design, development, and evolution throughout the war and beyond. Imperial Japanese Navy Light

Cruisers 1941-45 Mark Stille, 2012-02-20 The Imperial Japanese Navy went to war with 17 light cruisers and another three cruiser-sized training ships. Of these, most were 5,500-ton ships designed to act as destroyer squadron flagships. This made them much different in capabilities and mission from their American counterparts. During the war, the Japanese built another five light cruisers, all but one of which maintained the design premise of being able to serve as destroyer squadron flagships. During the war, Japanese light cruisers were active throughout the Pacific, performing many missions in addition to their flagship duties. Mark Stille continues Osprey's coverage of the IJN of WWII with this concise and complete study of all 25 ships, from their design and development to their ultimate fates. Detailed artwork and rare period photographs from the Fukui collection held in Kure, Japan, illustrate this discussion. The naval battles for Guadalcanal 1942 Mark Stille, 2013-05-20

The battle for Guadalcanal, that lasted from August 1942 to February 1943, was the first major American counteroffensive against the Japanese in the Pacific. The battle of Savo Island on the night of 9 August 1942 saw the Japanese inflict a severe defeat on the Allied force, driving them away from Guadalcanal and leaving the just-landed marines in a perilously exposed position. This was the start of a series of night battles that culminated in the First and Second battles of Guadalcanal, fought on the nights of 13 and 15 November. One further major naval action followed: the battle of Tassafaronga on 30 November 1942, when the US Navy once again suffered a severe defeat, but this time it was too late to alter the course of the battle, as the Japanese evacuated Guadalcanal in early February 1943. This title will detail the contrasting fortunes experienced by both sides over the intense course of naval battles around the island throughout the second half of 1942, that did so much to turn the tide in the Pacific. US Heavy Cruisers 1941-45 Mark Stille, 2014-04-20

Designed and produced under the regulations of the Washington Naval Treaty, the heavy cruisers of the Pensacola, Northampton, Portland, New Orleans, and Wichita classes were exercises in compromise. While they possessed very heavy armament, the Pensacolas, for example, carrying a main battery of ten 8-inch guns, this came at the cost of protection: armor was the same thickness as a gun cruiser and incapable of protecting the vessels from enemy 8-inch fire. As the classes evolved, these flaws began to be corrected, with the main battery being reduced and increased protection being added to the vital areas of the ship. Despite these drawbacks, the pre-war heavy cruiser classes served with distinction throughout World War II. Imperial Japanese Navy Heavy Cruisers 1941-45 Mark

Stille,2012-05-20 Designed with little more than a passing nod to the international naval treaties of the inter war period the Imperial Japanese Navy's heavy cruisers were fast and heavily armed Like the other vessels of the Japanese Navy the heavy cruisers were technologically superior to and far more innovative than their Allied rivals whom they met in many of the major Pacific Theatre battles including Midway and Leyte Gulf Mark Stille continues his study of the IJN of WWII with this fascinating topic addressing the design and development of all 18 ships in the six heavy cruiser classes from pre war construction and mid war alterations to their operational histories and eventual fates M3 Infantry Half-Track 1940-73

Steven J. Zaloga,2013-06-20 As armoured warfare tactics matured mechanised infantry became a key ingredient in what is now called combined arms doctrine For the US Army of World War 2 the most important technical aspect of infantry mechanisation was the development of the M3 half track personnel carrier Steven Zaloga explores the early 1930s development of the half track its first deployment in action in the Philippines in 1941 and its varied and vital role in international deployments since World War 2 This authoritative text also examines the operators of half tracks and the troops that they carried

M103 Heavy Tank 1950-74 Kenneth W Estes,2013-03-20 The T43 design represented the pinnacle of U S Army tank engineering of the late 1940s The heavy tank proved fairly popular with its crews who above all respected the powerful armament it carried The outbreak of war in Korea brought a rush order in December 1950 which led to a complete production run of 300 vehicles After 1951 the Marine Corps alone retained confidence in the heavy tank program investing its scarce funds in the improvements necessary to bring about its fielding after a hurried production run in midst of the tank crisis of the year 1950 51 The eventual retirement of the M103 in 1972 over 20 years after manufacture and after 14 years of operational service demonstrated the soundness of its engineering Kenneth W Estes explores the design development and service record of this unwanted ugly duckling of the Army which refrained from naming the M103 alone of all its postwar tanks For the Marine Corps it served the purpose defined for it in 1949 until the automotive and weapons technology of the United States could produce viable alternatives

T-34-85 Medium Tank 1944-94 Steven J. Zaloga,Jim Kinnear,2013-08-20 The T 34 85 tank is one of those rare weapons that have remained in service for more than half a century First introduced in 1944 it has seen combat in nearly every corner of the globe Alongside detailed illustrations Steven Zaloga and Jim Kinnear look at this long serving Soviet tank at length including its operational history design and development and later modifications Although long obsolete in Europe it has proven a reliable and potent weapon in many conflicts in lower income countries and is still in service with more than a dozen armies around the world

M7 Priest 105mm Howitzer Motor Carriage Steven J. Zaloga,2013-07-20 Based upon the ubiquitous Grant Sherman tank the M7 Priest is the iconic Allied self propelled howitzer This compact illustrated guide explores the most widely manufactured vehicle of its type in World War II utilized by the US British Canadian and Free French forces Its combat debut was with Montgomery's Eighth Army at El Alamein and it fought subsequently in every major campaign through Sicily Italy Normandy and the final battles in Germany In addition to covering all variants of the Priest this book also looks at the major derivatives including the British Canadian Sexton and the US M12 155mm GMC

T-72 Main Battle Tank 1974-93 Steven J. Zaloga, 2013-08-20 The Russian T 72 Ural tank was the most widely deployed main battle tank of its generation Used by the armies of the former Warsaw pact and Soviet Union it has also been exported in large numbers to many of the states in the Middle East This book reveals the previously secret history behind the tank Steven J Zaloga examines the conditions under which the T 72 was designed and produced Technical aspects of the weapon are also discussed including its EDZ reactive armour which when it first appeared in December 1984 gave NATO a nasty shock

BMP Infantry Fighting Vehicle 1967-94 Steven J. Zaloga, 2013-06-20 The Russian BMP infantry fighting vehicle IFV was one of the most significant innovations in infantry tactics in the latter half of the 20th century Built in response to the threat of nuclear warfare it was the world's first IFV providing the infantry squad with unprecedented firepower mobility and protection With over 55 000 manufactured since 1966 the BMP is also numerically one of the most important armoured vehicles ever built This richly illustrated book examines the development and design of the BMP detailing its armaments performance in combat and variants

M4 (76mm) Sherman Medium Tank 1943-65 Steven J. Zaloga, 2013-08-20 The M4 Sherman tank was the mainstay of the Western allies between 1942 and 1945 Fast and modern it was a big success and was transported as far afield as Russia and North Africa The American Chief of Staff claimed in November 1943 it was hailed widely as the best tank on the battlefield today However by the Normandy invasion of June 1944 this was not the case the new German heavy tanks such as the Panther and Tiger were completely outclassing the Sherman This illustrated book covers the M4 version armed with the 76 mm gun examining developments such as the HVSS suspension using much new archive material

British Battleships 1914-18 (1) Angus Konstam, 2013-05-20 The launch of HMS Dreadnought in 1906 changed the face of naval warfare The first half dozen dreadnoughts were all improvements of the basic Dreadnought design all carrying ten 12 inch guns It was only in 1911 with the launch of HMS Neptune that the layout of this powerful armament was altered as a result of practical experience Two more versions of the Neptune entered service later that same year These nine improved dreadnoughts formed the core of the British High Seas Fleet This book the first of two volumes covering these famous warships uncovers the full story of the British battleships of World War I It examines their revolutionary design the 12 inch guns that provided them with their firepower and the way these guns were fired in anger

Ships Monthly, 2004

US Heavy Cruisers 1943-75 Mark Stille, 2014-09-20 A companion book to US Heavy Cruisers 1941-45 this is a guide to those cruisers built in the later years of World War II and beyond together forming the definitive guide to the US's heavy cruiser classes Versatile warships the heavy cruisers of the Baltimore class and their successors in the Oregon City and Des Moines classes commonly acted as carrier escorts throughout World War II but also performed bombardment duties in support of amphibious landings Post World War II the heavy cruisers continued to see service chiefly in Korea and Vietnam Even after the heyday of the heavy cruiser had passed the ships continued to serve several were converted into the earliest examples of guided missile cruisers and created an enduring legacy in the US Navy From an established expert on the US and Pacific naval history this is an invaluable resource richly illustrated with artwork and photographs The New International Year Book ,1946 Cruisers of the US Navy 1922-1962 Stefan Terzibaschitsch,1988 The Postwar Naval Revolution Norman Friedman,1986 Keessing's Contemporary Archives ,1946 The Chronological Atlas of World War Two Charles Messenger,1989 Provides an account of the battles and the strategy of World War II Includes over 200 maps
