Marksmanship M16a1, M16a2-3, M16a4, and M4 Carbine Manual U.S. Army, 2017-01-16. An effective unit marksmanship program reflects the priority emphasis and interest of commanders and trainers. This chapter provides a proven rifle marksmanship training strategy as guidance in establishing and conducting an effective training program. The strategy consists of the progressive individual training periods taught during initial entry training. IET progresses into advanced skills and concludes with advanced reading material. Refresher training need only be conducted on periods that are deemed necessary. The proficiency attained by a soldier depends on proper training and application of the basic marksmanship fundamentals. During initial marksmanship training, emphasis is on learning the firing fundamentals, which are taught in four phases: preliminary rifle instruction, downrange feedback, field firing, and advanced firing exercises. This prepares soldiers for advanced optic and laser training for combat type collective exercises and real world deployments.

Us Army Training Circular 3-22.9 Rifle and Carbine Us Army, 2017-04-25. This volume contains the May 2016 version of US Army Training Circular Rifle and Carbine. This is the latest version of the US Army training manual for the M16 rifle and M4 Carbine. This manual has been completely updated to reflect current battlefield realities and the almost dizzying array of attachments available to the current ground soldier, designed to help them more effectively and lethally engage the enemy. It covers the basics of how to handle and shoot a rifle, as well as the proper way to use optics and other aiming aids. The appendix on zeroing is especially well written. It also details all the different stages soldiers in basic training go through to achieve initial qualification. The point of the manual is not to enable someone to be Rambo, but to take what is at best a complex subject and make it understandable for someone who has never held a weapon in their life. The goal is to make competent shooters out of inexperienced civilians, and the Army rifle training program does that.
