Writings In Connection With The Donatist Controversy:

Writings in Connection with the Donatist Controversy Aurelius Augustine, 2016-09-07 The schism of the Donatists with which the treatises in the present volume are concerned arose indirectly out of the persecution under Diocletian at the beginning of the fourth century At that time Mensurius bishop of Carthage and his archdeacon C cilianus had endeavoured to check the fanatical spirit in which many of the Christians courted martyrdom and consequently on the death of Mensurius in 311 and the elevation of C cilianus to the see of Carthage in his place the opposing party alleging that Felix bishop of Aptunga by whom C cilianus had been consecrated had been a traditor and that therefore his consecration was invalid set up against him Majorinus who was succeeded in 315 by Donatus The party had by this time gained strength through the professions that they made of extreme purity in the discipline which they maintained and had gone so far under the advice of another Donatus bishop of Cas Nigr in Numidia as to accuse C cilianus before the Roman Emperor Constantine thus setting the first precedent for referring a spiritual cause to the decision of a civil magistrate Constantine accepted the appeal and in 313 the matter was laid for decision before Melchiades bishop of Rome and three bishops of the province of Gaul They decided in favour of the validity of the consecration of C cilianus and a similar verdict was given by a council held at Arles by direction of the Emperor in the following year The party of Majorinus then appealed to the personal judgment of the Emperor which was likewise given against them not without strong expressions of his anger at their pertinacity This was followed by severe laws directed against their schism but so far from crushing them the attack seemed only to increase their enthusiasm and develop their resources Writings in Connection with the Donatist Controversy Saint Augustine (of Hippo), 1872

Introductory Essay St. Augustine, 2017-12-26 The object of this chapter is to present a rudimentary outline and summary of all that Augustin penned or spoke against those traditional North African Christians whom he was pleased to regard as schismatics It will be arranged so far as may be in chronological order following the dates suggested by the Benedictine edition The necessary brevity precludes anything but a very meagre treatment of so considerable a theme The writer takes no responsibility for the ecclesiological tenets of the great Father nor will he enter here into any criticism of the text and truth of the documents upon which the historical argument was so laboriously and peremptorily built to the utter ignoring of the Donatist archives and the protests of their scholars against the validity and integrity of their opponents records Both parties claimed to be the historic Catholic church both were little apart in doctrine worship and polity both tended toward externalism in piety both accused one another of fraud in inventing records Later Romanism in its bright spirit of selection took much spoil from either camp The Argument of the Epistle to the Hebrews: a Posthumous Work George Steward (Independent Minister.), 1872 The Writings Against the Manichaeans and Against the Donatists: Part II - The Donatists Aurelius Augustine, 2017-08-31 In the second part of this series Augustine switches his focus to a group that were also threatening the church of his day in that they believed that the church must be perfect and faultless in all it does The Donatists started to refuse to be baptised or taught by anyone that they felt was a traitor to the faith since they were the only true church that was allowed to administer sacraments and teach the ways of God to the world Augustine quickly fought back against this group bringing all their arguments forward to be thought through and condemned by one of the greatest thinkers and theologians of the early church The Miracles of Our Lord in Relation to Modern Criticism Franz Ludwig Steinmeyer, Leonard Abercrombie Wheatley, 1875 The Argument of the Epistle to the Hebrews George Steward, 2023-03-22 Reprint of the original first published in 1872 The publishing house Anatiposi publishes historical books as reprints Due to their age these books may have missing pages or inferior quality Our aim is to preserve these books and make them available to the public so that they do not get lost Essays in Ecumenical Theology I Ivana Noble, 2018-11-26 In the first volume of Essays in Ecumenical Theology Ivana Noble depicts differences between what she calls a sectarian outlook and one which engages in the search for common roots dialogical relationships and shared mission in a world that has largely become post Christian but often also post secular Drawing on both Western and Orthodox scholarship and expressing her own positions Noble sketches what ecumenical theology is how it is linked to spirituality the methods it uses how it developed during the twentieth century and the challenges it faces Specific studies deal with controversial interpretations of Jan Hus Catholic Modernism the problematic heritage of the totalitarian regimes and responses to the current humanitarian crisis On the apostolical succession William J. Irons, 2021-05-19 In On the Apostolical Succession William J Irons presents a meticulous examination of the historical and theological underpinnings of apostolic succession within the Christian tradition Irons employs a rigorous analytical style deftly navigating ecclesiastical history and doctrinal evolution culminating in a nuanced argument that defends apostolic succession as a pivotal element of church authority This scholarly work is situated within the broader context of 19th century Anglican thought responding to contemporary debates over church governance and the integrity of clerical succession making it essential reading for those interested in ecclesiology and religious authority William J Irons an esteemed theologian and ordained clergyman of the Church of England was deeply influenced by the socio religious tensions of his time specifically the rise of the Oxford Movement His commitment to the Anglican tradition combined with a profound grasp of church history and theology provided a strong impetus for his exploration of apostolic succession Irons erudition and pastoral perspective render this work both reflective of his own convictions and engaging for a wider audience On the Apostolical Succession is highly recommended for theologians historians and church leaders seeking a comprehensive understanding of the doctrine s significance Irons meticulous scholarship and persuasive writing offer invaluable insights into the complexities of ecclesiastical authority making this text a crucial addition to any religious studies collection Bulletin Cincinnati (Ohio), Public Library, 1881 Vandals, Romans and Berbers Andrew Merrills, 2017-03-02 The birth growth and decline of the Vandal and Berber Kingdoms in North Africa have often been forgotten in studies of the late Roman and post Roman West Although recent archaeological activity has alleviated this situation the vast and disparate body of written evidence from the region remains comparatively neglected The present volume attempts to redress this imbalance through an examination of the changing cultural landscape of 5th and 6th century North Africa Many questions that have been central within other areas of Late Antique studies are here asked of the North African evidence for the first time Vandals Romans and Berbers considers issues of ethnicity identity and state formation within the Vandal kingdoms and the Berber polities through new analysis of the textual epigraphic and archaeological record It reassesses the varied body of written material that has survived from Africa and questions its authorship audience and function as well as its historical value to the modern scholar The final section is concerned with the religious changes of the period and challenges many of the comfortable certainties that have arisen in the consideration of North African Christianity including the tensions between Donatist Catholic and Arian and the supposed disappearance of the faith after the Arab conquest Throughout attempts are made to assess the relation of Vandal and Berber states to the wider world and the importance of the African evidence to the broader understanding of the post Roman world
