New Directions in the Anthropology of Dreaming Jeannette Mageo, Robin E. Sheriff, 2020-10-08 This book presents new directions in contemporary anthropological dream research surveying recent theorizations of dreaming that are developing both in and outside of anthropology It incorporates new findings in neuroscience and philosophy of mind while demonstrating that dreams emerge from and comment on sociohistorical and cultural contexts The chapters are written by prominent anthropologists working at the intersection of culture and consciousness who conduct ethnographic research in a variety of settings around the world and reflect how dreaming is investigated by a range of informants in ever more diverse sites As well as theorizing the dream in light of current anthropological and psychological research the volume accounts for local dream theories and how they are situated within distinct cultural ontologies It considers dreams as a resource for investigating and understanding cultural change dreaming as a mode of thinking through contesting altering consolidating or escaping from identity and the nature of dream mentation In proposing new theoretical approaches to dreaming the editors situate the topic within the recent call for an anthropology of the night and illustrate how dreams offer insight into current debates within anthropology's mainstream. This up-to-date book defines a twenty-first century approach to culture and the dream that will be relevant to scholars from anthropology as well as other disciplines such as religious studies, the neurosciences, and psychology. Edible Seaweeds of the World Leonel Pereira, 2016-01-08. Seaweed is used in many countries for very different purposes: directly as food, especially in sushi, as a source of phycocolloids, extraction of compounds with antiviral, antibacterial, or antitumor activity, and as biofertilizers. About four million tons of seaweed are harvested annually worldwide. Of the various species, known less than 20 account. The School Services Sourcebook Cynthia Franklin, 2024. Citizen Knowledge Lisa Herzog,2023-09-15 Citizen Knowledge discusses how various forms of knowledge are dealt with in societies that combine a democratic political system with a capitalist economic system How do citizens learn about politics How are scientific insights taken up in politics What role can markets play for processing decentralized knowledge Lisa Herzog argues that the fraught relation between democracy and capitalism gets out of balance if too much knowledge is treated according to the logic of markets Complex societies need different mechanisms for dealing with knowledge among which democratic deliberation and expert communities are central Citizen Knowledge develops the vision of an egalitarian society that considers the use of knowledge in society a matter of shared democratic responsibility
