Kittel, 1965 Theological Dictionary of the Old Testament G. Johannes Botterweck, Helmer Ringgren, Heinz-Josef Fabry, 1974 Doing for the Old Testament what Kittel Friedrich does for the New this major multivolume reference work discusses in depth all the key Hebrew and Aramaic words of the Old Testament Stressing meaning each word study moves from narrow everyday senses of words toward more significant theological concepts Biblical, Traditional, and Theological Framework for Understanding Christian Prophetism in Ghana Today Daniel Nii Aboagye Aryeh, 2019-01-03 The basis for this project is to verify and determine the extent to which contemporary prophetic ministry in Ghana appropriates prophetism in the early church Corpus Paulinum and traditional prophetism in Ghana The spirit of prophecy which was believed to have ceased in Judaism and during the intertestamental period has now been restored at the inauguration of Christianity Notwithstanding Paul gave stipulations for prophets and prophecy in the church in 1 Corinthians 14 This confirms that prophecy was a common phenomenon in the early church and Pauline communities Contemporary prophetic ministry in Ghana claimed to have conformed to Pauline stipulations concerning prophets and prophecy in the church but what is their level of conformity Contemporary prophetic ministry is becoming popular due to its appeal and compatibility with religious worldviews and its pragmatic outlook that resonates with the Ghanaian phenomenon of religion As an adherent of the Akan traditional religion would go to a religious intermediary for ebisa literally to inquire or ask into present or future happenings contemporary prophets have positioned themselves to be agents of ebisa in Ghanaian Christianity This book explores biblical and traditional understandings of prophetism that have influenced contemporary Christian understanding of prophets and prophecy in the church

The Assurance of Things Hoped for Avery Dulles, 1996-09 Faith since the earliest Christian theologians has been regarded as the fundamental Christian virtue the prerequisite for hope charity and good works In this book Avery Dulles examines the biblical foundations and history of theological reflection on faith from the Greek and Latin fathers to such modern giants as Tillich Rahner and Lonergan Further Dulles presents his own systematic synthesis reflecting on such topics as the nature and object of faith the certitude of faith the birth growth and loss of faith and faith and salvation The result is a refreshingly relevant theology of faith for our day

To Know All Mysteries C. Andrew Ballard, 2022-08-31 This book examines the way that Paul presents himself as a guide into mysteries a mystagogue in 1 2 Corinthians By describing himself as a type of mystagogue for the community Paul was following a precedent in both Jewish and non Jewish sources for invoking mystagogic language to engage in polemics with a rival In opposition to the precedent however Paul understands the mystagogue to be a bi partite figure comprised of both foolishness and wisdom simultaneously C Andrew Ballard argues that ancient mystagogues were often described in two disparate ways figures of power and figures of weakness and foolishness Paul synthesizes both aspects of the mystagogue in his self presentation to the Corinthians The figure of the mystagogue as a wise fool was useful to Paul because it was descriptive not only of his own experience as a suffering yet authoritative apostle but also of the experience of his deity the suffering and glorified Christ By presenting himself as both a powerful and foolish mystagogue Paul could argue that he was a more authentic imitator of Christ than his opponents in Corinth who boasted in self exaltation instead of self humility In this way Paul used the character of the mystagogue as a strategic rhetorical tool in his communication with the Corinthians

Polyamory and Reading the Book of Ruth Deborah Kahn-Harris, 2023-11-02 Polyamory and Reading the Book of Ruth is based on a simple premise what if the Book of Ruth isn t a love story in the vein of modern rom coms but a different sort of love story Many people are conditioned to read romance stories as resolving into happily married dyadic couplings most often heterosexual But what if that s not how to read the Book of Ruth This book identifies a polyamorous hermeneutic and explores how it might be helpful in interpreting the Book of Ruth Drawing on developments in both feminist and queer biblical studies Deborah Kahn Harris offers a close textual reading that focuses in on a triadic basis for examining the relationships in the Book of Ruth The book closes with a

Volume X, Index Volume, 1976 Interreligious Reflections, Six Volume Set Alon Goshen-Gottstein, 2018-08-08 This set includes all six volumes of Interreligious Reflections. ABOUT VOLUME ONE Friendship is an outcome of as well as a condition for advancing interfaith relations. However, for friendship to advance, there must be legitimation from within and a theory of how interreligious relations can be justified from the resources of different faith traditions. Friendship Across Religions explores these very issues, seeking to develop a robust theory of interreligious friendship from the resources of each of the participating traditions. It also features individual cases as models and precedents for such relations, in particular the friendship of Gandhi and Charlie Andrews, his closest personal friend. Contributors: Balwant Singh Dhillon, Timothy J. Gianotti, Alon Goshen-Gottstein, Maria Reis Habito, Ruben L. F. Habito, Ryan McAnnally, Linz Stephen, Butler Murray, Eleanor Nesbitt, Anantanand Rambachan, Meir Sender, Johann M. Vento, and Miroslav Volf. ABOUT VOLUME TWO This book tackles the core problem of how painful historical memories between diverse religious communities continue to impact even present-day relations. Its operative notion is the healing of memory, developed by John Paul II. Chapters explore how painful memories of yesteryear can be healed and so address some of the root causes. Strategies from six different faith traditions are brought together in what is in some ways a cross-religious brainstorming session that identifies tools to improve present-day relations. At the other pole of the conceptual axis of this book is the notion of hope. If memory informs our past, hope sets the horizon for our future. How does the healing of memory open new horizons for the future? And what is the notion of hope in each of our traditions that could lead to a common vision of good? Between memory and hope, this book seeks to offer a vision of healing that can serve as a resource in contemporary interfaith relations. Contributors: Rahuldeep Singh Gill, Alon Goshen-Gottstein, Maria Reis Habito, Flora A. Keshgegian, Anantanand Rambachan, Meir Sender, Muhammad Suheyl Umar, and Michael von Brück. ABOUT VOLUME THREE The essays collected here, prepared by a think tank of the Elijah Interfaith Academy, explore the challenges associated with sharing wisdom, learning, teachings, messages for good living. How should religions go about sharing their wisdom These chapters representing six faith tradition Jewish Christian Muslim Hindu Sikh and Buddhist explore what wisdom means in each of these traditions why and how it should be shared internally and externally and the role of love and forgiveness in sharing This book offers a theory that can enrich ongoing encounters between members of faith traditions by suggesting a tradition based practice of sharing wisdom while preserving the integrity of the teaching and respecting the identity of anyone with whom wisdom is shared Contributors Pal Ahluwalia Timothy Gianotti Alon Goshen Gottstein Sallie B King Anantanand Rambachan Meir Sender Miroslav Volf

ABOUT VOLUME FOUR All the world s religions are experiencing rapid change due to a confluence of social and economic global forces Factors such as the pervasive intrusion of globalizing political and economic developments polarized and morally equivalent presentations seen in the media and the sense of surety demanded in and promised by a culture dominated by science are some of the factors that have placed extreme pressure on all religious traditions This has stimulated unprecedented responses by religious groups ranging from fundamentalism to the syncretistic search for meaning As religion takes on new forms the balance between individual and community is disrupted and reconfigured Religions often lose the capacity to recall their ultimate purpose or lead their adherents toward it This is the situation we call the crisis of the holy It is a confluence of threats challenges and opportunities for all religions This volume explores the contours of pressures changes and transformations and reflects on how all our religions are changing By identifying commonalities across religions as they respond to these pressures The Crisis of the Holy recommends ways religious traditions might cope with these changes and how they might join forces in doing so Contributors Vincent J Cornell Alon Goshen Gottstein Sidney H Griffith Maria Reis Habito B Barry Levy Deepak Sarma Michael von Br ck

Putting God on the Map Erin Kidd, Jakob Karl Rinderknecht, 2018-09-15 Since the middle of the last century the emergence and development of fields as diverse as artificial intelligence evolutionary science cognitive linguistics and neuroscience have led to a greater understanding of the ways in which humans think One of the major discoveries involves what researchers refer to as conceptual mapping According to theories of conceptual mapping human thought is profoundly shaped by the ability to make connections Simply put human thinking is metaphorical all the way down This insight has revolutionized the way in which scientists and philosophers think about the mind body problem the formation and function of language and even the development of scientific progress itself Until recently however this research has gone largely unnoticed within Christian theology But this revolution in understanding human cognition calls for broader and richer engagement with theology and religious studies How does this new insight into human meaning making bear on our understanding of religious meaning making And how might Christian theology interpret and respond to this new understanding of the development of human thought This edited volume offers an introduction to conceptual mapping that is accessible to those with no previous knowledge of the field and demonstrates the substantial resources this interdisciplinary research has for thinking about a variety of theological questions The book begins with a chapter introducing the reader to the basics of conceptual mapping The remaining chapters apply these insights to a variety of theological topics including anthropology sacramental theology biblical studies ecumenical theology and ethics
