The Church and the Crisis of Community Theresa F. Latini,2011 Contemporary society is in crisis its structures broken and fragmented and its people overstimulated overstressed and thirsty for true communion with the sacred and with one another Yet although more than eighty five percent of congregations in the United States conduct small group ministry too many of these groups begin with no clear sense of purpose structure or spiritual focus and end by veering away from Christian tradition and unknowingly settling for shallow versions of popular Christianity In The Church and the Crisis of Community Theresa Latini lays out both a theoretical groundwork and a practical guideline for successful small group ministry Examining the latest sociological research and the real life practices of small groups in six congregations she shows how well developed groups those with mission statements leadership training and solid organizational structure can be a truly effective tool in the church s work of transforming broken and shallow forms of community into life giving life sustaining relationships with God and others

God is a Community Brian P. Gaybba, 2004 The present work offers a new synthesis of the entire spectrum of the Christian faith showing its inner unity vibrancy and relevance As such it is a work of a type that rarely appears these days a systematic exposition of the Christian faith that goes beyond a mere compilation of the views of others It achieves this through the consistent use of a key concept the community that love creates The work shows how love s power to unite and transform all that it unites can illuminate every aspect of the Christian faith Moreover the work deliberately sets out to present Christian beliefs in a way that transcends the traditional divisions of Western Christianity At the same time suitable as a basic text for theological students of all denominations while also being accessible to anyone wishing to explore the depths of the Christian faith

The Expository Times , 1891

Community, State, and Church Karl Barth, 2004-10-05 Karl Barth was the master theologian of our age Whenever men in the past generation have reflected deeply on the ultimate problems of life and faith they have done so in a way that bears the mark of the intellectual revolution let loose by this Swiss thinker But his life was not simply one of quiet reflection and scholarship He was obliged to do his thinking and writing in one of the stormiest periods of history and he always attempted to speak to the problems and concerns of the time In June 1933 he emerged as the theologian of the Confessional movement which was attempting to preserve the integrity of the Evangelical Church in Germany against corruption from within and terror from without His leadership in this struggle against Nazism also made it necessary for him to say something about the totalitarianism that the Soviet power was clamping down upon a large part of Europe In this indirect way a Barthian social philosophy emerged and this theologian who abjured apologetics and desired nothing but to expound the Word of God was compelled by circumstances to propound views on society and the state that make him one of the most influential social thinkers of our time David Haddorff is Associate Professor of Theology and Religious Studies at St John s University New York He is the author of several articles and reviews and the book Dependence and Freedom The Moral Thought of Horace Bushnell 1994 Table of Contents Introduction by David Haddorff Karl Barth s Theological Politics 1 Gospel and Law 71 Church and State 101 The Christian Community and the Civil Community 149 Bibliography 191 Theology ,1921 Church emerging from the cracks Johann-Albrecht Meylahn,2013-01-01 The drawing Christ of the Breadlines by Fritz Eichenberg 1953 probably says all that this book wants to say about being church The church is a space in this world where heaven and earth reach out to each other It is a space in the world but not of the world as it is touched by heaven Christ is in the breadline yet one can recognise Him as He stands out in the breadline One can recognise him because of the hallow that surrounds him He is the incarnation within reality and through the incarnation the place within reality becomes holy not sacred as in separated but sanctified as differentiated offering an alternative within reality He brings a space that is marked not by the darkness and the vicious cycles of the world which dominate and enslave creation such as poverty but a space that breaks into this darkness with light as it is hallowed in hope What more can the church hope for than to be allowed to be a space of hallowed hope in the vicious systems of death in a postmodern and post Christian world This book would like to propose that it does not really matter if you start with theory Scripture and tradition or with context and practice because theology is circular or spiral and therefore there is no starting point as the two continually influences each other or one could even say the one interprets the other So for this book the best place to start is with where we are now the now of experience as this now of experience includes both theory and praxis There is no such thing as experience pure and simple as experience is always interpreted experience and the interpretation is done through the theory that has shaped and formed us Thus in this book we work with theory laden practice Encyclopaedia of Religion and Ethics: Hymns-Liberty James Hastings,John Alexander Selbie,1915
