Partridge's cheap [afterw.] new 'Pansy' series Partridge S.W. and co, 1890 Stalin's British Victims Francis

Beckett, 2016-03-17 First published in 2004 this book tells the stories of four remarkable British women whose lives were scorched by Stalin's purges. One was shot as a spy, one nearly died as a slave labourer in Kazakhstan and two saw their husbands taken away to the gulag and had to spirit their small children out of the country. We think of the horrors of the middle of the twentieth century, the Holocaust in Central Europe, the purges in the Soviet Union as something foreign, terrible but remote. Rosal Rust, Rose Cohen, Freda Utley and Pearl Rimel were all Londoners. Like hundreds of young idealistic Britons in the 1930s they looked to the Soviet Union for inspiration for a way in which society could be run better without the exploitation and poverty which unrestrained capitalism had created. They were less fortunate than most of us; they saw their dreams fulfilled. In this book Francis Beckett draws on personal letters, interviews with surviving relatives and archivists to create a picture of four courageous, intelligent and very different women. The result is a harrowing human document with vivid and unforgettable insights into the world of Stalin's Russia: its secret trials, labour camps, random disappearances and concealed executions.

Being Present for Your Nursery Age Child Jeanne Magagna, Patrizia Pasquini, 2018-05-15 This book represents an innovative project in which parents, teachers and other professionals work collaboratively to observe children, understand them at a deep emotional level through their play and interaction with others and facilitate their relationships with themselves as individuals and with others. The work described has been particularly important in nurturing children's creativity and fostering effective relationships between teachers, parents and children. The innovative nursery described has been an important preventative facility in promoting the wellbeing of young children. The Italian government has supported this highly esteemed project.
