Things Ive Said To My Children:

Things I've Learned About Children Mark Givens, 2016-12-19 Things I've Learned About Children is a collection of articles that appeared in MungBeing Magazine from 2010 to 2015. The theme of each issue is mentioned once or twice but the important thing is that as these articles were written the babies were not neglected or harmed in any way. What I find interesting is that several of the lessons are repeated again and again either as a reminder or because I didn't actually learn it the first time around. Such is the nature of baby raising I guess. Most of all I hope you enjoy reading these things and that this collection becomes the most important guidebook in raising your own children. Ten Things to Say to Gifted Children Nancy Heilbrunner, 2025-10-23 10 Things to Say to Gifted Children is your go-to guide to nurturing bright minds and a sense of growing confidence. Using short and engaging vignettes, discussion questions, and practical parenting and teaching tips based on decades of research, each easy-to-read chapter dives into key academic and social/emotional issues with which many gifted children struggle and then provides strategies for how to navigate them. Featuring conversation starters that get at the heart of the issue and Bridging the Gap strategies to help parents and teachers become a power team, this book is ideal for anyone who cares about gifted children and wants to promote their healthy academic and social/emotional development. Whether you are a parent seeking to advocate for your child or a teacher looking to create an enriching classroom environment, this book is a must-read. You'll find yourself reaching for it again and again. 52 Things Kids Need from a Mom Angela Thomas, 2011-09-01 Bestselling author and mother of four children, Angela Thomas brings her trademark storytelling and biblical teaching to this book of encouragement for moms who in the daily whirl of busyness long to connect with their kids in new ways. With compassion and creativity, Angela presents 52 inspirations to help moms experience intentional mothering, intentional living, and intentional joy as they talk to their child as though he is fascinating, learn to play one video game, plan activities that set a child up for success, be the groovy mom once in a while, make memories, and savor them. Moms at all phases of parenting can adopt one idea a week or try several at once. This is a fun, guilt-free resource to help every mom lead with God's love and delight in the small moments that make up an abundant life. Things I've Learned from Dying David R. Dow, 2025-05-01 National Book Critics Circle Award finalist David R. Dow confronts the reality of his work on death row when his father-in-law is diagnosed with lethal melanoma, his beloved Doberman becomes fatally ill, and his young son begins to comprehend the implications of mortality. Every life is different, but every death is the same. We live with others. We die alone. In his riveting, artfully written memoir The Autobiography of an Execution, David Dow enraptured readers with a searing and frank exploration of his work defending inmates on death row. But when Dow's father-in-law receives his own death sentence in the form of terminal cancer and his gentle dog Winona suffers acute liver failure, the author is forced to reconcile with death in a far more personal way, both as a son and as a father. Told through the disparate lenses of the legal battles he's spent a career fighting and the intimate confrontations with death each family faces at home, Things I've Learned

From Dying offers a poignant and lyrical account of how illness and loss can ravage a family Full of grace and intelligence Dow offers readers hope without cliché and reaffirms our basic human needs for acceptance and love by giving voice to the anguish we all face as parents as children as partners as friends when our loved ones die tragically and far too soon
